RUDY VALLEE'S OWN STORY—'MY ROMANCE'—BEGINS TODAY

'GET BUSY,' CROWLEY TELLS POLICE

TIGERS, RED SOX TIED 2 TO 2

7 PM FINAL STOCKS SPORTS

LATE NEWS FLASHES

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Detroit 2 0 0 0
Red Sox..... 0 0 2
Batteries—Bridges and Grabowski; MacFayden and Berry

First game:

Chicago 3 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0
New York..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Batteries—Lyons, Frasier, Tate; Rhodes, Pipgras, Dickey

St. Louis 0
Philadelphia 2
Batteries—Blaholder and Bengough; Walberg and Cochrane

BABE RUTH HITS 27TH HOME RUN

New York, July 27—Babe Ruth hit his 27th home run of the year in the sixth inning of the first game of the double header between the New York Yankees and White Sox today.

15,000 ON STRIKE IN PATERSON, N. J., TOMORROW

Paterson, N. J., July 27(AP—The entire textile industry here is expected to be at a standstill after 10 a. m. tomorrow, strike deadline for more than 15,000 workers.

BOOTLEGGER KILLS TWO AND ESCAPES

Raymondville, Tex., July 27 (AP)—A suspected bootlegger was hunted today for killing a constable and his deputy. The officers killed were W. F. Raygood, 58, and Francisco Cisneros, 24.

PAT McGOVERN, RACE HORSE OWNER, DIES

Baltimore, July 27 (AP)—John (Pat) McGovern, 57, Baltimore race horse owner, died suddenly at his home today, just when he was believed to be recovering from two years of impaired health. Death was laid to a heart attack.

2 ARMY AIR CADETS KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

San Antonio, Tex., July 27 (AP)—Two flying cadets, students of the army advanced flying school at Kelly Field, were killed today when their plane crashed. Those killed were Cadets Robert P. Burke of Dyersburg, Tenn., and George M. O'Rear of Hooper, Ala.

MILITARY ZONE EXTENDED IN BRIDGE WAR

Oklahoma City, July 27 (AP)—Advised that an effort may be made to halt free traffic across the Denison-Durant free bridge over Red river, Gov. Murray today extended his military zone to put the entire structure under martial law.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

VOL. 28—No. 106 Published Daily by N. E. Newspaper Pub. Co. Entered as 2d Class Matter at Boston P. O. BOSTON, MONDAY, JULY 27, 1931 2 CENTS ZONE PRICE 3 CENTS

The American is the only Boston daily paper using Universal Service and International News Service.

HEFLIN TO LEAD LOCAL KLAN DRIVE

By Rudy Vallee

MY ROMANCE

Yes, We're Parting Soon!—How We Plan to Keep Our Romance Alive

Rudy and His Bride "at Home"

Chapter 1.

IN ABOUT THREE MONTHS some newspaper may publish a headline like this: "RUDY'S WIFE QUITS—PERFECT ROMANCE SHATTERED." And immediately the headline writers of other papers will vie with each other in writing intriguing megaphonic headlines like these: "VAGABOND LOVER BOUNDS OUT OF MARRIAGE BONDS," "RUDY'S LOVE GOES VAGABONDING," and various other vagabonding implications. The reporters, too, will be rummaging around for bits of rumor, and gossip, to bolster up the headlines.

RIGHT, YET WRONG

Well, they have their work to do. It is their business to dig out and print what they think the PUBLIC wants to read. And in this case they may obtain from idle gossipers what might be twisted into some sort of confirmation.

They will say that "RUDY'S WIFE GOES HOME." They will say that Rudy was seen at lunch or dinner with this or that beautiful girl. They will remark upon how interested and attentive Rudy was in the company of some girl who was not his wife.

Up to that point they will be right. But the interpretation which will be placed on these events will be all wrong.

It may be necessary in about three months for Fay to go home to California for a while. But it will not be because we are tired of each other.

The explanation is very simple. She is an only child, and her parents, who are naturally very

Continued on Page 8, Column 1

DORCHESTER GATHERING TONIGHT

Drive for Membership to Get Into the Coming Political Campaign Under Way

Senator Thomas J. Heflin of Alabama, veteran of many religious battles on the floor of the Senate, will be the principal attraction in the second public Klan Klave in New England, the Boston Evening American learned today.

Dr. Hiram W. Evans, Imperial Wizard of the Klan, was in Washington today following his "inspirational" tour of Massachusetts and neighboring states. It is arranging an itinerary for the Alabaman to lend rallies in all the states.

Coincidental with the coming of Heflin, it was indicated that the effect of last Wednesday night's rally of officials from all over the nation was being felt in Boston.

SECRET MEETING TONIGHT.

Leaders of the klan will gather tonight in Dorchester to plan a reorganization for the coming presidential campaign. The locale of the meeting has been closely guarded, and the invitations restricted to a chosen few, notified by word of mouth.

Kleagles who attended the assembly on Bayberry Hill, near West Townsend, last Wednesday night, returned to their local lodges carrying the message of Evans.

Already plans are afoot in Maine, hot bed of the klan in years past, to send local organizers through the State reawakening the drooping interest of their former constituents.

In Portland, where Dr. Evans held a "pep meeting" of former officials of the order last Friday night, it was learned that some dissension was caused by the discussion of rates for initiation.

CUT RATE IS FOUGHT

In view of the business depression some local leaders advocated the reduction of the old $10 initiation fee to a figure commensurate with the reduction in prices in all other fields.

This proposed cut, it was said, was bitterly contested by the organizers who, under the old regime, received $2 a head from the initiation fee.

From all sections of New England it indicated that the klan is stirring in its slumber. A local re-

Continued on Page 8, Column 2

SAVES HER DOLLY AT FIRE

Rose Sullivan, 11, who fled with her doll, "Bubbles," when fire swept the apartment next door to her home, 42 Carney st., Charlestown. (Staff photo.)

CROWLEY ORDERS DRIVE ON THIEVES

Police Head Calls on Force to Put an End to Series of Local Robberies

Orders to "get busy" and stop thievery in Boston were issued police by Supt. Michael H. Crowley, it was revealed today when a secret order read at rollcall last night became known.

Detectives in the bureau of criminal investigation are particularly ordered to ferret out the "fences" who have been receiving the goods stolen in the series of store breaks and truck thefts.

Last week's break at the Boylston st. gown shop of Driscoll, Inc., was mentioned in the order and Supt. Crowley cited instances of where entire truckloads of goods were carried away.

"Be watchful of automobiles and trucks at night and keep your eyes on the drivers," the order said. "Bring the drivers in as suspicious persons if they fail to answer your questions satisfactorily.

"This thievery must stop, and it's up to the police to get on their toes.

"Automobiles and trucks are used. Get into action and overhaul them.

"And to the detectives in the bureau of criminal investigation my orders are to find the fences who are receiving stolen goods and bring them in."

The order revealed that the loot from the Driscoll shop amounted to $6045.45.

Engineer Dies as He Stops Express

New York, July 27 (AP)—When New York Central express pulled into Grand Central Terminal today, few of the 30 passengers knew that Tom Galvin, the engineer, had died of a heart attack after bringing his train to an unscheduled stop at Beacon, N. Y.

The firemen brought the express to this city on time.

THE WEATHER

Fair and continued warm tonight and Tuesday; probably thunder showers late Tuesday; gentle southwest winds.

High tide, 10:26 a. m., 10:38 p. m.
Sun rises 5:31; sets 8:10.
Light all vehicles at 8:46.

3 BREAK FROM MAINE PRISON

Portland, Me., July 27—William E. Gray of Boston, under sentence of a year in Thomaston prison on a manslaughter charge, early today was two other prisoners in a break from Cumberland county jail here.

Gray, with Claude Burbridge, awaiting trial for larceny, and Stanton F. Crossman, serving a sentence for illegal entry from Canada, were last seen by guards when they were locked in their cells at 6 last evening. This morning when guards made the rounds their cells were empty.

Investigation showed that the men passed the stations of two guards and into the women's laundry, where a bar in a window had been cut.

Today's escape was Gray's third in a month. He was held in the death of Miss Celia Wallace of Long Island who died when his car plunged down an embankment on the Lewiston turnpike.

Gray his skull and jaw fractured, died from the Central Maine hospital at Lewiston after surgeons had despaired of his recovery.

Rearrested and sent to the county jail, he was discovered sawing a bar in his cell window the night of July 6.

WHITE GIVES UP IN THEFT CASE

Attorney Frank O. White, of Marion st., Brooklyn, for whom search has been made for more than a year on a warrant charging him with larceny of $10,000 from the estate of William Lyman Underwood, of Belmont, surrendered today to Boston police inspectors.

He was arraigned in municipal court before Judge Dowd and by agreement of counsel sent to the psychopathic hospital for observation.

William J. Underwood, who, with White, was an executor and trustee of the estate, claimed that in 1929 White cashed a check for $10,000, payable to the estate, and kept the money.

White, a graduate of Harvard in 1898, received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1899, and his Bachelor of Laws and Letters in 1901. He is a prominent State st. attorney.

TIGERS BATTLE SOX AT FENWAY

Fenway Park, July 27—Danny MacFayden, who was knocked out in the first inning of yesterday's double-header, was on the mound again today for the Red Sox. Tom Bridges was his opponent. Manager Collins shook up his lineup today.

FIRST INNING

Tigers—Johnson doubled. Gerringer went out, Sweeney to MacFayden. Stone tripled, scoring Johnson. Alexander flied to Oliver. Stone scoring after the catch. McManus lined to Warstler. TWO RUNS.

Red Sox—Rothrock fanned. Rhyne fanned. Miller fanned. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

Tigers—Koenig doubled. Owen sacrificed, Berry to Sweeney. Grabowski fanned. Bridges fanned. NO RUNS.

Red Sox—Webb flied to Alexander. Sweeney popped to Koenig. McManus threw out Oliver. NO RUNS.

Cycle Ablaze Snarls Tremont St. Traffic

Traffic on Tremont and School sts. was tied up for more than 15 minutes today while firemen cped with a blazing motorcycle owned by Wilbur Skjoid, 20, of Regent sq., Roxbury.

Skjoid, a messenger boy, was attempting to start his machine when the motor backfired, igniting some gasoline. In the excitement a fire alarm was sounded.

"TODAY"
Is Necessarily OMITTED TODAY

Routing Ol' Man Depression

Good News in Day's News

(Further details elsewhere in this edition)

STUDEBAKER reports increased profits for the June quarter over 1930.

HARVARD ECONOMIC Society cites upturn in commodities as offering ground for business cheer.

PRESIDENT STEPHENSON of American Bankers Assn. says business conditions justify most optimistic outlook since 1929.

DR. JULIUS KLEIN, Commerce Department head, says country is emerging from the depression

BIGELOW SANFORD, Boston-listed carpet company, reports receipt of large orders.

FAITHFULL DATA 'STOLEN'

A private detective sneaked into the office of a prominent Boston law firm during the recent investigation and read documents relating to the $20,000 paid by a wealthy Bostonian to Starr Faithfull, exotic beauty, according to disclosures made today by investigating officials of Nassau County, N. Y.

This reported theft of information touching upon the strange early life of the Greenwich Village party girl occurred while the probe of her mysterious death was at its height, these officials stated.

It has hitherto been kept an official secret. It was forced to the surface by startling revelations made within the past few days by Stanley E. Faithfull, stepfather of Starr, and by efforts of New York

Continued on Page 2, Column 5

FILIPINO BOY IS NAMED IN SUIT

Miss Patricia O'Leary, 23 of Pinckney st., actress and cabaret dancer, was arrested today for Newton police, charged with threatening bodily harm to Mrs. Alice Fredey, of Jewett st., Newton, prominent clubwoman.

In Newton court, she was held in $500 for a hearing on August 1.

According to Mrs. Fredey, the dancer demanded $500 in recompense for loss of companionship of a young Filipino.

Mrs. Fredey denied influencing the Filipino to give up Miss O'Leary.

FOUR FAMILIES FLEE FLAMES

One man was rescued by firemen and four families fled through smoke and flames from a fire which raged through a tenement in Carney st., Charlestown, early today.

James Convy, 30, was trapped in his third floor apartment after he had seen his wife and four small children safely to the street. Returning to his home for papers and valuables, he found his exit cut off by flames in the hallway, and hung from the window until firemen ascended on ladders and carried him to the ground.

The fire, according to District Chief Philip A. Tague, originated in a bathroom in second-floor apartment occupied by Mrs. Helen Barnes, owner of the building, who was away.

From the second floor it spread rapidly to the third floor, occupied by the Convys. It was seen by Joseph W. Quinn, who with his wife lives on the first floor of the tenement adjoining.

He hurried to the street, pulled the alarm and then raced through the building, rousing the sleeping Convy family.

Before the arrival of fire apparatus the flames had spread to the adjoining building.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sullivan and their two children, Miss Susan Gaines and Mr. and Mrs. Quinn were forced to seek shelter with friends after the fire had damaged the two buildings to the extent of $3000.

BALANCES AND RECEIPTS

Washington, July 27—Today's treasury balance, $311,871,713; U. S. Customs receipts, $56,574,591.

GIRLS FIGHT AT HARVARD REVEL

A furious midnight hair pulling contest between two women in Beck Hall, the historic dormitory, within a block of the home of President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard, has been under investigation for the past week, Chief of Police John J. McBride admitted today.

Two widely different versions of the fracas are offered, one by the police report, the other by three Harvard summer school students, resident in Beck Hall during the summer session, who are involved in the affair by the report on the police blotter.

According to the students, one of their number was entertaining a girl visitor in his quarters around midnight on the night of July 18, when loud talk and the sound of splintering wood in an apartment nearby caused them to go to the hall to investigate.

At a doorway on the landing above, the students said, they found an intoxicated young woman and a husky male escort bursting through

Continued on Page 2, Column 7

Amy Johnson Off on Flight to Tokio

Hendon, Eng., July 27 (AP)—Amy Johnson, Great Britain's foremost woman flier, took off today on a flight to Tokio by way of Moscow and Siberia. She was accompanied by J. Humphreys. Last winter when she attempted the same flight she was forced down in Poland.

In Today's American

Amusements	8
Ann Ardes	6
Classified Ads	19
Comic Page	18
Crossword Puzzle	15
Daily True Story	10
Enigma A. Guest	20
Financial	16, 17
Grand Hotel	13
Magazine, Fiction	13
Man About Town	5
Martha Lee	7
Murder of the Choir Singer	7
Political Notes	15
Port of Boston	16
Radio	15
Society	6
Sports	12, 14, 15

DR. STEARNS SEES HOPE FOR MODERN BAY STATE JAIL

REPORT LOOKED ON AS AID FOR NEW PRISON

"Every Knock a Boost," Says Mass. Correction Head Regarding Hoover Report

Hope that the people of Massachusetts will be stirred into action for prison reform by the Wickersham report, assailing conditions in Charlestown state prison and other institutions throughout the country, was expressed today by Dr. A. Warren Stearns, state commissioner of correction.

The Wickersham committee asserts that the Massachusetts State prison is not only inadequate, obsolete and unhealthy, but that it is a pronounced factor for increasing crime, rather an institution for reforming a criminal.

HOPES FOR MODERN PRISON.

"I consider every knock a boost and hope the public will be stirred to such a point that it will insist on a modern and adequate prison system in Massachusetts," said Commissioner Stearns.

"It has always been my desire to modernize our penal methods in this Commonwealth and recommendations similar to those in the Wickersham report have been touched upon from year to year."

While the prison at Charlestown was cited as one of America's worst penal institutions, high praise was given this State for pioneer prison reform.

REFORM SCHOOL SCORED

The probation system, the statutes system for disposal of prison made goods, a new type of prison building as exemplified in the Norfolk colony, were noted in the report regarding efforts that this state has made to solve the penal problem.

The Concord reformatory was also scored, being labeled as a reformatory that cost $3,000,000, the report holds as a long step in advance in the reformatory and points to the sentencing of one inmate to a term of 28 years.

Bates Says Government Prison Reform Has Started

Washington, July 27 (AP)—The Government was said today by Sanford Bates, director of prisons, to have "accomplished or started on the road to accomplishment of prison reform ideals of the law enforcement commission."

"Our record will show," Bates said in commenting on the latest report of the commission, "that in the last year we have placed into effect all the major recommendations of the Wickersham commission."

Pointing to construction plans for the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., to cost $3,000,000, the prison director asserted completion of that plant and other smaller projects now under way would eliminate to a great extent the overcrowding complained of.

The Lewisburg penitentiary, he added, would represent realization of the commission's suggestion for the graduation and segregation of the prisoners according to the type of their crime, their ages and their habits.

The Cake Line Forms on the Other Side

By the other side Mr. Opper means "The other side of the ATLANTIC."

You see no cake lines forming on THIS side. You see a bread line here and there, an unemployment line, a "When do you think the depression will end?" line. But Uncle Sam's CAKE line seems to be an exclusively European enterprise.

* * *

Big fierce men can take care of themselves, they don't need cake, but you feel sorry for that little girl. She was just made to eat cake, and you can imagine her feelings.

* * *

This takes you back to Shakespeare's "How use doth breed a habit in a man." Uncle Sam got the habit of giving things away during the war money, men, everything he had and, apparently, he cannot stop.

But old Prohibition will stop him. And so will his three little friends, "Shoot, Boot and Snoop." Just give them time.

THE REST OF THE NEWS

Paris, July 27 (AP)—Premier Laval may visit Italy soon to confer with Mussolini on naval differences between the two countries, it was learned today.

Havana, July 27 (AP)—Reports from army headquarters said a flight to New York and return was being contemplated by Cuban fliers.

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Articles on investigations of the Presidential campaign which visited Haiti won the 1930 Pulitzer $1000 prize for Franklyn T. Waltman, Jr., of the Baltimore Sun.

Miami, Fla., July 27 (AP)—Dr. H. H. Schaefer, secretary of the Remington medal committee, announces the medal this year will go to Prof. E. F. Cook, Philadelphia College of Pharmacy.

Danbury, Ct., July 27—Norman C. Beers, for 15 years prosecutor of the city court here, died today. He was 52 years old.

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Fred K. Nielsen, American member of the mixed claims commission, will resign when the claims convention between the United States and Mexico expires in August.

BOSTON FACES HOT SPELL

Bostonians are in for another warm spell, the weather man said today, as the mercury crept higher and higher, in the tube.

From a mild 77 degrees at 9 a. m. the temperature jumped to 91 at 3 p. m., with prospects that the new heat wave would continue into tomorrow.

As on yesterday, however, humidity remained at a sub-normal register, which made the heat easier to bear.

Barring the possibilities of thunder storms tonight, the weather will remain clear for at least another day, according to the weatherman—and for those that bathe in the sea, the wind will be offshore and warm.

Legless Man Swims for 100 Hours

Honolulu, July 27 (AP)—Charlie Zimmy, legless professional swimmer of Long Beach, Cal., completed 100 hours of continuous swimming at 1 a. m. today and claimed the world's record. The previous mark of 86 hours endurance swimming was held by Mrs. Myrth Huddleston.

Zimmy, who had been swimming since Wednesday night in the War Memorial pool, was taken to a hotel in an ambulance and put to bed.

Zimmy said his ambition was to swim the English Channel both ways without stopping.

STARR PAYMENT DATA 'STOLEN'

Continued from First Page

officials to determine who is hiring private detectives still working on the death mystery.

LAWYERS WON'T TALK

The law firm named by the New York officials is that of Choate, Hall & Stewart of 30 State st. This firm is known internationally.

Asked about the statements in New York, John L. Hall of the firm said:

"Who told you that?"

He was informed that all the information came from official sources at Mineola, L. I.

"I have nothing to say about it," he said.

According to the Nassau County investigators, an operative for a small New York agency called at the offices of the law firm at a time when he correctly guessed that most of the occupants would be at lunch.

The offices occupy the entire ninth floor of the building. He spoke to a girl employe and was admitted to wait for one of the partners.

Once inside the suite of offices, he obtained access to a vault where valuable documents are kept and extracted a folder bearing the name of the Boston man reputedly connected with Starr Faithfull's past.

WHO PAYS THEM?

He then, according to the officials, went into one of the offices of the suite and read the papers contained in the folder. A stenographer entered and saw him, but excused herself from the room immediately, thinking he was a client o. the attorney in whose office he was seated.

Throughout the investigation of the death of the former Boston beauty, private detectives have been discovered running down various clues but in every case they refused to state, even to officials, who was paying them.

They are now reported investigating reports that a yacht owned by an unnamed woman figured in Starr's unsolved death in the water off Long Beach, L. I.

The firm of Choate, Hall & Stewart was never mentioned in connection with the settlement by which the prominent Bostonian paid $25,000 in 1927 for his alleged relations with Starr Faithfull.

OTHERS MAY HAVE PAID.

The name of the lawyer who represented this man in the negotiations leading to the settlement was never made public.

Other information released today by the New York authorities indicated that other men, besides the wealthy Boston resident, may have figured in settlements made with the Faithfull family.

These men, it was also hinted, are connected with New England families whose names dot the pages of history since pre-Revolutionary times.

An Auto Thief? No, Only Speedy Recruit

Lloyd Gilbert 19 of Spalding st., Wakefield, was so anxious to join the army that he took an automobile, property of Albert M. Day of 22 Dowling st., Dorchester, in an attempt to get to the recruiting station with the necessary papers.

Gilbert was in Charlestown court today charged with using an automobile without authority and operating without a license. He pleaded not guilty. The case was continued until Thursday. Meantime, it is said, he will join up with Uncle Sam.

HONEYMOON DAYS ENDED

With her hands swathed in bandages as a result of injuries she received while riding in Canada, Mrs. William Austin, wife of the millionaire New York realtor, and her husband are shown as they returned from their honeymoon. The bride is the former Irene Delroy, stage beauty. They were married July 15 by Mayor Walker. (International Newsreel photo.)

FROLICKING NAG HALTS TRAIN

Narrow Gauge railroad passengers, bound for work today, discovered that getting there was a horse of another color.

The horse was a lad named "Bozo" and owned by Frank Brodbine, brother of Senator Conde Brodbine, of Revere, and strayed out of the stable at the very vital commuting hour.

Near the Beachmont station, the horse wandered on the railroad tracks, and sauntered casually as trains slowed down and succumbing to the inevitable stopped.

Efforts of trainmen to shoo the horse from the right of way were unavailing until a well-twirled lariat settled about the animal's neck and he was pulled into an adjoining field.

BOMB PLOT ON ILEANA BARED

Bucharest, Rumania, July 27—A Communist plot to bomb the wedding of Princess Ileana and Archduke Anton of Hapsburg at Sinaia Sunday was thwarted when police arrested 200 reds, Bucharest police officials announced today.

The unbidden guests to the marriage of Rumania's princess were arrested, the police said. They declared they had kept the discovery of the plot a secret until the princess and her Austrian husband were on their honeymoon.

After the brilliant pageantry of the wedding, the bride and bridegroom left for Castle Bran, in Transylvania, where they will spend several days. Then they will go to London for a spell and from there they'll fly—in their wedding gift airplane from King Carol—to their castle at Freiberg, Germany.

DEFICIT OF 'L' $1,969,000

The Boston Elevated Railway's fiscal year, ending June 30, showed a deficit of $1,969,000, according to a report of the trustees today.

In the previous fiscal years the road, with aid of a profit and loss credit of $50,973, broke exactly even.

In June this year the cost of service, which includes dividends, was $353,961 in excess of receipts, compared with excess of $113,749 in June, 1930. For the full year cost of service exceeded receipts by $1,963,689.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a kitchenette apartment and the one we advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

JACK DONAHUE'S ALL TO WIDOW

"Jack told me I would be taken care of and Alice understands."

With that statement, Mrs. Julia Donahue, 69, mother of the late Jack Donahue, comedian and dancer, commented today on the $263,000 will of her son that left all his money in trust for Mrs. Alice Donahue, his widow, and their four children.

At her home in Union st., Charlestown, the elder Mrs. Donahue recalled statements of her son that "every penny in his body was insured" and he planned to take care of her if anything happened to him.

She added she has not heard officially of the filing of the will. The former comedian's widow and children are residents of New York.

IBANEZ, CHILEAN PRESIDENT, IN ARGENTINE

Flees Capital With Wife; May Be Extradited; Nation is Quiet After Uprising

Santiago, Chile, July 27 (AP)—Carlos Ibanez, who stepped out as president of Chile yesterday, crossed the border into Argentina with Senora Ibanez this afternoon in a special train manned by officials of the Trans-Andean Railway.

There was only the Pullman in which the deposed president and his wife rode, and a coach carrying a guard of soldiers.

It was learned today the president left the palace at about 4 a. m. in an automobile followed by four other cars carrying several of his friends. They drove to the border near Los Andes, and boarded the train.

MAY BE EXTRADITED

By leaving the country without the permission of Congress he makes himself liable to extradition, it was said, because of the nature of his departure does not constitute him an exile.

The streets were deserted when Ibanez left Santiago, so the getaway was simple. About the only persons abroad were troops at the palace.

To insure the safety of the retiring president was one of the first problems of the new regime. The feeling of the public was plainly shown at last night's Chamber of Deputies meeting. After the deputies had accepted the resignation and had granted him safe conduct, no great was the clamor raised in the galleries that the vote was reconsidered, his request to leave Chile was rejected and his prosecution demanded.

OPAZO, NEW RULER

After the Chamber of Deputies meeting, Santiago quieted down considerably. The Senate already had approved the resignation and the safe conduct, and no further action was taken legislatively last night.

Opazo, who was president of the Senate, will function as president of the nation until elections are held.

SMUDGE MAKER BREAKS JAIL

Prison cells aren't made that will hold Clyde Morris and a flock of mosquitoes. Either they go or Clyde, who hails from Oklahoma City, goes.

He was locked in a Norwood police as a vagrant Saturday night. Came the mosquitoes through the screenless window.

Clyde did what he would have done on the open road—built a fire with newspapers and clothing, and when a policeman opened the door to stamp it out, the prisoner departed.

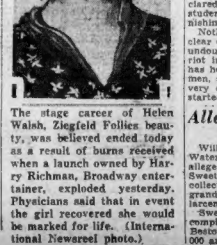
Recaptured and placed again in the cell he started another fire which the police put out. Once again yesterday he dashed from the cell when a meal was being given him but again was caught.

Today in Dedham court his case was continued for a week after Police Chief Sullivan told the story to Judge Sullivan. This time, Clyde was placed in Dedham jail, where mosquitos are just as free to come and go, but not Clyde.

2 Families Watch Burglars Take Loot

New Bedford, July 27 (AP)—While two families watched from nearby windows burglars early today took $3600 in merchandise away in an auto from the Nash Clothing Co. store in the North End. A hole was cut through a window to gain entrance.

Scarred for Life



The stage career of Helen Walsh, Ziegfeld Follies beauty, was believed ended today as a result of burns received when a launch owned by Harry Richman, Broadway entertainer, exploded yesterday. Physicians said that in event the girl recovered she would be marked for life. (International Newsreel photo.)

WOMAN SLAIN; BOY, 19, HELD FOR MURDER

Mrs. Natalie Stanley, Plymouth (N. H.) Farm Owner, Is Shot in Quarrel Over Wages

Plymouth, N. H., July 27—Mrs. Natalie Stanley, 37, wealthy owner of Starr King View farm at West Campton, died today from a bullet wound in the chest, and John Rogers, 19, of Kennebunkport, Me., already under arrest, was held for the Superior Court on a manslaughter charge.

The boy pleaded not guilty and was taken to the county jail at Haverhill to await trial at Woodsville in September.

Mrs. Stanley was shot after a quarrel with the boy over $40 wages, according to the police. Young Rogers is alleged to have drawn a revolver, which was discharged as three men tried to take it away from him.

Rogers formerly worked on the farm, and yesterday called with his cousin, Alfred Goodwin, and a friend, Arthur Smith, to demand the money, police said.

When he brandished the gun, Daniel Stanley, husband of the woman, and the two companions of the boy leaped at him but the gun was fired as they wrestled and Mrs. Stanley, who was in the doorway, fell wounded.

She did not recover consciousness and died at Plymouth Hospital.

HARVARD GIRLS FIGHT PROBED

Continued from First Page

the panels of the door in a vacant apartment.

"My husband's in there with another woman, and I want him," the woman screamed.

They ordered her to leave, and a scuffle ensued with her escort in which several pieces of furniture and other objects were broken.

During the melee, the students said, the woman went to their quarters below and stole $15 from the purse of the girl friend of the student.

The otherg ristaked her with the theft, and the two engaged in a spirited fistic and hairpulling encounter. During this second battle the strange woman's escort vanished.

MONEY IN HER SHOE.

Finally, the students said, they removed one of the woman's shoes and found the money, whereupon she fled, screaming, from the building and summoned a policeman, saying she had been robbed.

In some way, the disturbances was quelled, the students returned to their apartment, and the woman vanished.

Here is the police version given, according to Chief McBride, by John Farrell, janitor at Beck Hall:

Two Harvard students, a French army officer, and two young women held a revel in the apartment which grew to such proportions that he felt compelled to interfere. He attempted vainly for more than an hour to stem the tide of alcoholic merriment, and was rewarded by catcalls from the girls and "raspberries" from the men.

At last, in anger, he hurried to the Harvard sq. station to summon police help, he said.

AGREED ABOUT BATTLE

In the interim there the two stories bear some similarity) one of the two girls included the other of stealing money from her purse and they spoiled the evening by a threatening hand to hand encounter.

The fight broke up the party, and the merrymakers departed, leaving behind them a wrecked apartment and many empty bottles.

Besides the French officers, another formal dress touch is lent to this version by the reported presence in Beck Hall during the drinking bout of two uniformed policemen and another man in plain clothes, who gave the name of a sergeant on the Cambridge force.

Chief McBride believes this man was an impostere, as the sergeant named denied any knowledge of the party.

STUDENTS STAND FIRM

Today the students adhered rigidly to their version of the midnight doings. Farrell, the janitor, declared he would be satisfied if the students paid the expenses of refurnishing the wrecked apartment.

Nothing seems to be absolutely clear except the fact that there was undoubtedly something very near a riot in the ancient building which has housed generations of Harvard men, and Chief McBride continues very curious as to who and what started it.

Alleged Accomplice in Forgeries Held

William W. Veno of Lawrence st., Watertown, held in connection with alleged forgeries of Louis Anthony Sweetland, former Arlington tax collector, was bound over to the grand jury in $500 on two counts of larceny in Suffolk court today.

Sweetland and his alleged accomplice, Mary V. Lemieux, 21, a Boston brunette, were held in $10,000 and $5000, respectively, Friday.

PEOPLE

Who Interest You and What They Are Doing

Air Jumper Saved By Emergency Parachute

Evanston, Ill., July 27—Saved by his quick wittedness in opening his emergency parachute when the regular one failed to work, Jack Cope, 33, veteran para-chute jumper was convalescing at the St. Francis hospital here today.

He had dropped 2700 feet in 45 seconds, and was close to the ground when he opened the emergency chute and broke the force of his terrific fall. His leg doubled under him, breaking in two places, but he suffered no internal injuries.

Cope was making his 250th leap from a plane at the air meet in honor of Post and Gatty. He indicated that he will make no more jumps.

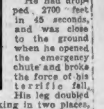
Jack Cope

Enrico Caruso, Jr., to Conduct Grand Opera

Los Angeles, July 27—Enrico Caruso, Jr., son of the renowned tenor, has become associated in the conducting of a grand opera season at the Greek Theater in Griffith park.

Caruso will have supervision of personal selection, assembling casts for the approval of the executive council. He will collaborate in the production of "Toyatore."

Caruso took up residence here in January. Until recently, when he began voice culture, he showed no disposition to follow his father's footsteps.



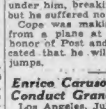
Enrico Caruso Jr.

Gloria Swanson Goes Under Knife in Paris

Paris, July 27—Gloria Swanson, motion picture star is today recuperating from a minor operation which she underwent a few days ago.

Although the nature of the operation was not known it was learned she underwent the operation at a private clinic here.

According to doctors at the clinic, she is expected to fully recovered.



Gloria Swanson

Miss Swanson arrived in Europe a short time ago with a number of other celebrities.

Crane Wilbur and Lenita Lane to Wed

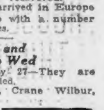
Hollywood, July 27—They are going to be married.

Of that much, Crane Wilbur, actor and playwright, and Lenita Lane, stage and screen player, are certain.

Miss Lane has made the announcement, but when the ceremony will take place has not been determined.

Wilbur, once a noted figure in motion pictures but lately divorced much of his time to the stage, is here to begin rehearsals for a play. His divorce from his wife, Beatrice Blinn, is not yet final.

Miss Lane recently came to Hollywood from the New York stage.



Lenita Lane

PORTER ADAMS TAKES BRIDE

Washington, July 27 (INS)—A wedding of particular interest took place today when Miss Sue Shorter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Shorter, was married to Porter Adams of Boston and Washington.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. Henry W. Snyder of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and was witnessed by the immediate families and a small group of friends.

The bride had as her only attendant Miss Amelia Earhart (Mrs. George P. Putnam), and Adams' friend Hiram Bingham was best man for Mr. Adams. The bridal couple left for a honeymoon and will make their home at Mr. Adams' country place, Asro Acres, Thetford, Vt.

Mr. Adams is former president of the National Aeronautic Association and now chairman of the executive committee. He is a member of the Metropolitan and Army & Navy clubs of Washington.

Premier Still Hanging On

Madrid, July 27 (AP)—Provisional President Alcala Zamora and Julian Besteiro, president of the assembly, agreed today to delay the probable resignation of the government until tomorrow.

THOUSANDS EXPECTED AT FISKDALE SHRINE TOMORROW

Meeting on Mud Flats to Rid Them of Peril

JOBLESS PRAY AT FISKDALE FOR WORK

Join the Supplicants for Relief From Physical Ills at Shrine

Fiskdale, July 27—Thousands of persons including afflicted patients seeking relief are expected tomorrow at the little shrine of Ste. Anne, following reported cures of hundreds yesterday among the visitors here.

Tomorrow's pilgrimage will be one of the scheduled services for Tuesdays and Saturdays during the summer.

Many supplicants are victims of the business depression, and their sacrifices and prayers are offered for economic relief, according to Dominican fathers at the shrine.

At the unpretentious, pine-shrouded shrine, more than 25,000 climbed the 40 steps on their knees to the large crucifix where rests a bone from the body of Ste. Anne.

ABANDON CRUTCHES

Hundreds abandoned canes and crutches and walked faltering, but elated, away, proclaiming cures. The demonstration marked the ending of a nine-day novena to Ste. Anne.

"Thousands came for cures of their physical ailments," Rev. Raymond Pichie said today.

"Whether any permanent cures were effected we cannot say until thorough investigations have been made.

"But the main thought of the majority was prayers for the relief of depression, I observed in my talks with the communicants.

"They want jobs and they need them badly. Their very hearts were put into yesterday's sacrifices and prayers that they might obtain work to relieve them from the cares and worries of the world."

Fr. Pichie was assigned here from Fall River to assist Rev. Alfred J. Jacques, pastor of the church.

RICH AND POOR ALIKE

The pilgrims arrived in all modes of transportation, many of them driven by liveried chauffeurs and others assisted as they made their way on foot.

Two of the outstanding cases reported were those of men who were said to have limped on crutches, prayed before the shrine and then abandoned support while those near stared and even cried out.

HOUSE TO HOUSE THIEVES BUSY

Somerville police are searching for burglars and false key workers in connection with a half dozen breaks in that city recently, three in one street early today.

Burglars forced a rear window and entered the home of James L. Wallace at 35 Harrison street and took five dollars. Then they entered the home of Michael Leary, at 37, and took one dollar.

Thieves tried to break into the home of John Quidoboni at 41 Harrison street, but were affrightened away.

Mrs. Mary Green reported to the police that her home at Broadway and Bartlett street, had been entered while she was away on vacation, and the contents of a Hope chest taken.

False key workers entered the apartment of Harry Kelley at 32 Beacon street, and took jewelry valued at $277. Then they got into the apartment of Manuel M. Rose, in the same house, and took $8.00 from two savings banks.

SALLY WINTERS SUES M'GOWAN

Hollywood, July 27—Sally Winters, Hollywood scenarist, who prefers to be known socially as Mrs. Sally McGowan, today filed a $100,000 breach of promise suit against John P. McGowan, director of western thrillers.

The suit, Miss Winters declared, discloses to her friends and family that she was not McGowan's wife for the last five years.

"Mr. McGowan and I were the only persons who knew the truth," she said. "I worked beside him and lived with him for five years, writing scenarios for him to direct. Everybody thought Sally Winters was merely my pen name."

Miss Winters also has filed a $6000 suit against Meteor Pictures Productions, alleging breach of contract to pay her $60 a week to write scenarios for McGowan to direct.

Bandits Get $20

North Wilbraham, July 27—Walter Scotlif, 18, a gasoline station attendant, was held up by two men and relieved of $20.

THREE OF THE BATTLE-SCARRED CASUALS IN DOGS' WAR

MARKED ON HER FACE
Esther Spanley, 3, of Roxbury, one of six children bitten by dogs, apparently affected by the heat. Her nose was marked.

UNLUCKY AT PLAY
Billy Gill, 7, of Roxbury, bitten by a dog for his second mishap of vacation season.

TEETH TORE HER EAR
Anna Fine, 11, was another Roxbury child to be a victim in the dogs' war against children. Her ear was severely injured. (Staff photos.)

DOGS BITE SIX MORE CHILDREN

The parents of Billy Gill, 7, of 8 Mt. Pleasant ave., Roxbury, were in a quandary today, for Billy had again been endangered while at play.

A week ago, he was floating on a plank in Mann's Pond, Norfolk, when he was carried out beyond his depth, and was rescued from drowning after the plank overturned and threw him into the water.

Today he is recovering from wounds inflicted by a stray dog near his home.

5 OTHERS BITTEN

Billy was not the only child to suffer from attacks from stray canines, however. Five others reported injuries to police during the day.

Esther Spanley, three, of 10 Ball st., Roxbury, was treated at City Hospital for injuries to her nose, caused when a dog jumped into her perambulator.

Anna Fine, 11, of 533 Albany st., Roxbury, suffered a bite on her ear from another roving dog.

Russell Mahanna, 10, of 74 Hudson st., South End, was treated for bites on his left arm.

Ronald Reisf, 18, of 120 Regent st., Roxbury, was bitten on the left cheek.

TWO AT CITY HOSPITAL

Richard Clifford, five, of Newburyport, was attacked by a dog while he was bathing at Nantasket Beach.

The Mahanna boy and Esther Spanley were held at City Hospital for observation, and the rest of the victims were allowed to go to their homes.

Police were warned to be on the look-out for stray dogs, for apprehension was felt throughout the city because of the fact that the six victims were bitten by collarless dogs.

10 ARRESTED IN SIDEWALK RAID

Ten alleged "sidewalk brokers" were gathered up by police today near City Hall annex in a surprise raid by Sergts. John McFarland and Cornelius Leary with five patrolmen. Police said they blocked the way while conducting real estate sales.

At Milk st. station they were charged with obstructing foot traffic and were booked as Abraham Zide of Winthrop st., Nathan Baker of Greenwood st., William J. Greenstein of Seaver st., Abraham Posner of Devon st., Benjamin Cohen of Glenway st., Hyman Kaneonine of Devon st., all Roxbury; Morris Heitman of Gold st., Chelsea; Max Bloom of Westview st., Dorchester; Henry Friedman of Revere st., Winthrop, and Simon Zilen of Hazleton st., Dorchester.

Maine "Swimmer" Dies Fully Clad

Biddeford, Maine, July 27 (AP)—Joseph Simard, 58, drowned today in the Saco river after he had jumped in fully clothed. First reports were that Simard had committed suicide, but Dr. Dolloff, medical examiner, said death was due to "drowning while swimming."

Pup Sneaks Way Into Jail to Visit Master

New York, July 27 (AP)—Stone walls do not a prison make, to Brownie, a big-eared dog. They wouldn't let him visit his master, Frank Heuter, serving a term for assault, so he sneaked in under a vanload of prisoners.

Airman Scribbles Death Note as Plane Falls

Mendota, Ill., July 27 (AP)—So the world would know why he plunged to his death, H. J. Hewin, 45, an unlicensed airplane pilot of Dubuque, Ia., scribbled a note of explanation yesterday as his plane fell to earth.

The unfinished note, found amid the debris of his tiny parasol plane, said:

"Something wrong in rear cylinder. Think broken ring. No compression. Blows by——"

Hewin left Dubuque yesterday morning to visit his ill mother in Rankin, Ill.

TEACHERS LOSE BOOST FIGHT

A battle for $100 annual increase in salaries, waged for six months by 24 Waltham teachers against Mayor Patrick J. Duane, today was temporarily checked when Judge Field, in Supreme Court, dismissed a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the mayor to grant the increase.

The school committee granted the increase in February. Mayor Duane, who is ex-officio chairman of the school committee, refused to approve the raise.

When, over his veto, the teachers' payrolls were presented for his signature he refused to sign until the salaries were revised to the former figure.

In his decision Judge Field indicated the teachers might resort to legal action against Mayor Duane to compel him to accede to the action of the school board. In a memorandum attached to the dismissal of the petition, Judge Field said:

"This petition is dismissed without a hearing on its merits on the grounds that for the cause of action therein stated there is other adequate remedy at law."

14 Men and $42,000 in Rum Captured

New York, July 27 (AP)—Federal authorities today took charge of 14 prisoners, a 35 foot cabin cruiser, a truck, two automobiles and liquor estimated to be worth $42,000, seized by police in a gun battle with rum runners off the Brooklyn shore. One of the men was shot.

CAMBRIDGE PAIR IN RENO COURT

Reno, Nev., July 27—A society marriage made in Cambridge, Mass., was up for dissolution today before Judge Thomas F. Moran.

The "wreck" was that of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Moffat, Mrs. Elizabeth Moffat charges cruelty and submits to the court an agreement whereby she gets a large property settlement. The couple are prominent in New York society and have been married 10 years.

The divorce suit of Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., against Mrs. Mary Weir Long Vanderbilt, an aftermath of the gunning episode involving Vanderbilt and Peter Arno, the caricaturists, may be reached today.

Ninety decrees may be handed down today.

LEADERS FROM EAST BOSTON IN PARLEY

Dr. Mahoney Agrees to Conference at Island Site of Health Menace

One of the most unusual meetings ever held in this city will take place within a few days when residents of East Boston and state and municipal health officials gather at the Condor st. mudflats in that district to determine the best means of wiping out what Noddle Islanders contend is a health menace.

Decision to hold this meeting at a place where the health authorities would be in a position to see conditions as they really exist was arrived at during a conference of East Boston residents with Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, health commissioner, in City Hall today.

COVERED WITH WRECKS

The committee was headed by Capt. William P. Coughlin, chairman of the waterfront committee of the East Boston Board of Trade. Others present were Capt. G. P. Lord of the Boston Port Authority, B. S. Whynot, Frank Flaherty, Francis Guillon and F. J. Donnellon.

Coughlin, as spokesman for the group, told Dr. Mahoney that the mudflats were covered with wrecks of old ships, that sewer outlets there made the place a health menace, and that the region was a breeding place for mosquitoes and disease-bearing flies.

WOULD WASH SHORES.

He also suggested that conditions might be improved if parts of the roadway at Bennington st. were torn away and a bridge erected over the channel. If that were done, he said, the ocean would wash all sides of the island and debris would not accumulate along the shores.

Capt. Coughlin will call the meeting in a few days. No date for it has been set as yet.

STRIKERS PLAN MARCH ON CASE

Pawtucket, R. I. July 27—A march on the State House at Providence was threatened today by strike leaders who charge the police with "too much power in their own hands."

They were plainly disappointed at the meagre response to a call for 500 pickets that was answered by only ten men and two women.

Ann Burlak, "Red Flame" of the strikers, issued the call last night at the end of a mass meeting attended by 1500.

More than 600 workers reported at the plant of the Royal Weaving Co., today, but strike leaders claimed it would be unable to operate.

"The mill cannot be operated without weavers and the striking weavers are not going back," Miss Burlak announced.

The march on the State House will take place late today or early tomorrow, she said, as soon as she herself with arrangements to form the delegation. She said the delegation would ask Gov. Case to restrain the police from taking too much power in their own hands."

Cases of disorderly conduct arrested during demonstrations last week were continued in Pawtucket district court today for two weeks. Congressman Francis B. Condon, who last week asked President Hoover to intervene in the strike, appeared for several.

ERECT POSTURE BEST FOR BRAIN

Canberra, Australia, July 27 (AP)—A young woman, who, he said, lived when human beings still were attempting to walk erect and talk articulately, was described by Sir Colin Mackenzie in a lecture to the Australian Institute of Anatomy today.

He said the Jervois skull found in Central Australia is the most primitive and complete human skull ever discovered.

"It bears out the belief that the muscular system, by means of which man maintains an erect posture, dominates his intellectual system and shows that all intellectual development has a muscular basis," he said.

"The Jervois skull warns us from the past that we must conserve the muscular system on which intellectual fitness depends."

U. S. Army Officer Sets Glider Record

Honolulu, July 27 (AP)—Lieut. J. C. Crain, of the United States Army, landed his glider here yesterday to claim an unofficial American glider flight record of 18 hours 45 minutes.

SOUND DOOM FOR MOSQUITOES' HOME

FRANCIS GUILLON B. S. WHYNOT FRANK FLAHERTY

DR. F. X. MAHONEY CAPT. G. P. LORD CAPT. WM. P. COUGHLIN F. J. DONNELLON

East Boston leaders shown in conference with Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, city health commissioner, at City Hall regarding the danger to health the Condor st. mud flats are alleged to be. A conference on the flats was agreed to and steps will be taken to eliminate the peril. The tormenting mosquito must go. (Staff photo.)

INJURED ON 'SAFETY' CAB

GEORGE EDIS THEODORE EDIS

Cambridge boy "lays down the law" to younger. Theodore Edis, 6, injured while "hitching" on the free taxi provided by Councillor Patrick J. Delaney for safety of Cambridge children going to and from Magazine Beach. George, 13, points out that Theodore flouted the purpose for which Delaney obtained the service and Theodore looking at his injured foot concludes George is right. (Staff photo.)

'HITCHER' HURT ON FREE TAXI

An injured foot and some sound advice were the lot today of Theodore Edis, 6, of 397 Franklin st., Cambridge, first casualty in the free taxi service to Magazine Beach for safety of children.

Theodore jumped on the spare tire for a ride. He fell and was dragged several feet on Pleasant st.

George, 13, his brother, explained the service inaugurated by Councillor Patrick J. Delaney was to prevent accidents and not cause them.

Theodore looked ruefully at his injured foot and agreed George was right.

TOLL FIGHT IS RULED OUT

Overruling motions of Atty-Gen. Ralph S. Davis, of New Hampshire, Federal Judge Lowell today issued an injunction restraining the New Hampshire public service commission from holding a hearing Wednesday on the matter of toll reductions over the Hampton river bridge.

The injunction follows arguments on a petition by receivers for the Massachusetts Northeastern Street Railway Co., owners of the bridge, which questioned the right of the commission to alter the rates.

The present toll rate is five cents per vehicle and five cents per person in the vehicle. The commission seeks to double vehicle charges.

NURSE FLIES TO DYING BROTHER

St. John, N. B., July 27—After an all-night train ride, a Boston nurse used an airplane to wing across the Bay of Fundy to her dying brother's bedside.

Miss Helen Earle, assistant superintendent at the Deaconess Hospital, Boston, thus reached her family at Kentville, N. S., in the race against death.

Cry Saves Life

DOROTHY FIELD

BARBARA FIELD

When Dorothy Field, 2, fell into Whitman's Pond, Weymouth, today, her sister, Barbara, screamed so loudly that the mother heard her, and rushed to the rescue. Dorothy is in danger from shock and pneumonia, though, a doctor said.

INVESTORS OUT $2,000,000

Massachusetts investors have lost $2,000,000 in purchasing "guaranteed" mortgage bonds of the First National Company of Baltimore, according to Asst. Atty-Gen. Louis H. Sawyer.

He made this statement today in announcing that he will make a report late this week to Atty-Gen. Warner of the results of an investigation that has been under way.

According to Mr. Sawyer, the inquiry is complete, except for conference tomorrow with one complainant.

Whether the case will be placed before the grand jury will rest with Atty-Gen. Warner after his perusal of Sawyer's report.

$150,000 FIRE AT WHITE CITY

Worcester, July 27—White City, one of the most popular amusement parks in New England, located on the Shrewsbury shore of Lake Quinsigamond, was swept by fire early today. A general alarm was sounded and help was sent from Worcester.

The entire plant is a loss and the damage is placed between $150,000 and $175,000.

Several firemen were overcome by smoke. Hundreds of automobile parties were attracted to the blaze.

Shrewsbury police are conducting an investigation to determine the cause of the fire.

Veteran Lawrence Policeman Is Dead

Lawrence, July 27—Walter A. Chandler, 68, who for 28 years was a member of the police department here, died at his home, 37 Sunset ave., after a long illness.

Chandler, who retired from the force three years ago, was clerk of the police department for 18 years. He was an officer in the Knights of Columbus. He is survived by his wife and three children.

STIMSON TELLS OF NEW FAITH IN GERMANY

Berlin, July 27 (AP) — United States Secretary of State Henry Stimson left today by airplane for Amsterdam and London after an audience with President von Hindenburg.

"My visit gave me much pleasure," Stimson said earlier in a formal statement.

"During the conferences of London and Paris I stated the American government and people had faith in Germany and in her people, her resources and her future. My views were strengthened by what I saw now during my visit."

Stimson concluded with a sentence regarded here as of the utmost significance.

"The present financial trouble in Germany," he said, "is due largely to a temporary lack of confidence, and I am certain that with courage and a return of confidence Germany will recover her prosperity."

Arthur Henderson, British foreign secretary, arrived today on a visit during which he and Prime Minister MacDonald, who arrived tonight, will discuss the German financial crisis with the heads of the Reich. They will be here till Wednesday.

Henderson stepped off the train here into a demonstration of friendship for England by a crowd that had waited for him.

There were cries of, "Long live Henderson—the friend of peace—three cheers for the friend of Germany."

One National Socialist ventured to yell the "Nazi slogan," "wake up Germany," but someone hustled him out of the way.

Hope of an early resumption of normal bank payments today lent a bright hue to the new workaday week.

The new Acceptance and Guarantee Bank was to be officially launched today. If all goes well with it, restrictions on commercial bank payments will be lifted by Wednesday.

DEMOCRATIC WHISPERS

What's this? A whispering campaign—Distinctly sotto voce is the conversation between Al Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the man who succeeded him as governor of New York State. Roosevelt is considered the leading candidate for the Presidential nomination and his meeting with Smith is said to be invested with considerable political importance by keen observers in Albany and Washington.

CO-ED MURDER CLUES FAIL; 7 FREED

White River, Ariz., July 27 (INS)—The brutal murder of Miss Henrietta Schmerler, 25, Columbia University student, was still unsolved today, after seven Apache Indians and W. R. Warner, 40, a painter, had been questioned.

While federal and state authorities co-operated in the investigation, the victim's body was taken to Winslow by airplane.

Questioning of the seven Indians and Warner threw no new light on the murder, authorities said.

Sheriff Dan Divarbess said no new clues had been unearthed, although he declared facts surrounding the actual murder were sufficiently clear.

Miss Schmerler, according to the officers, was on her way back to her cabin from an Apache tribal dance when she was waylaid.

After being attacked the girl was stabbed about the head and throat and her body thrown into a canyon.

Warner was held for questioning after he was accused by an Indian of having a girl in his automobile the night she disappeared.

'DRIPPING WET' SMITH'S WISH

New York, July 27 (AP)—Newspapers said today that former Governor Alfred E. Smith is keeping his choice for a presidential candidate for next year a secret until he is assured a wet plank will be inserted in the next platform.

Political friends say Smith believes with John J. Raskob in the idea of naming a candidate who is willing to run on a dripping wet plank.

25-Cent Parrot Holds Up a $5,000,000 Gold Shipment

New York, July 27 (INS)—A 25-cent parrot on the Grace liner Santa Clara held up a $5,000,000 gold shipment for an hour today at quarantine.

While customs officials argued the parrot was banned because of danger of parrot fever, $700 in interest on the gold shipment was lost.

The gold was consigned to the National City Bank by the Peruvian government. The parrot is owned by Gerald Free, member of the ship's jazz band, and son of Cong. Arthur M. Free of California.

Last Race Yacht Safe

Plymouth, England, July 27 (AP)—The American ketch Lumoore last of the ships in the transatlantic yacht race, arrived at Plymouth yacht race, arrived at Plymouth today.

FRANCE FEARS GERMAN PERIL

Arcachon, France, July 27 (AP)—Andre Maginot, Minister of War, told the reserve officers' union convention today that if Germany should recover complete liberty to re-arm, France would be obliged to increase her own armaments.

This, he said, would start a new armaments race which France does not desire at any price. He declared France is ready to do her share in a general limitation of armaments but that no limitation would be efficacious unless guarantees of an international character replace the security now provided by military forces.

If the delegates to next year's disarmament conference can organize some scheme of mutual assistance such as a coalition of forces against an aggressor, said he, France would be the first to reduce its military establishment.

Filene's Automatic Bargain BASEMENT for MEN

Your Grandmother revered Fruit of the Loom cloth!
Your mother praised its long wear and fast color!
You men know the style value of Fruit of Loom Shirts!

TUESDAY at 9 A. M.

thousands of MEN'S discontinued pattern $1.65 first quality fruit of the loom

NEEDLES SHIRT
MADE OF FRUIT OF THE LOOM CLOTH
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
COLOR GUARANTEED

Every shirt bears this label

SHIRTS

65c (last year's price was $2)

For decades, Fruit of the Loom cloth has rated among the finest in the ranks of fine textiles—its fine close weave, its fast color print and in shirts, the smartly styled patterns leave little to be desired. Collar attached or neckband styles in striped, checked or figured patterns in sizes 14 to 17 in lot.

OUR PLAN—First price must be low or we lose through automatic reductions: 25% after 12 selling days, 50% after 18 selling days, 75% after 24 selling days. Goods unsold after 30 selling days given away in charitable institutions.

First time so LOW! Last year's price on these shirts was $2, this year's price $1.65—every shirt first quality, so LOW because discontinued patterns.

HUNDREDS OF OTHER BARGAIN LOTS NOT ADVERTISED—NO MAIL ORDERS

"Foremost in Furs"

LAMSON & HUBBARD

AUGUST SALE OF FINE FUR COATS

Unquestionably the greatest value giving event in the history of our business

We cannot emphasize too strongly the opportunity the August Sale of Furs offers our Customers

The Styles are authentic and exclusive
The Values are the greatest in years!
The Prices are the lowest in the history of our business!

LAMSON & HUBBARD FINE QUALITY FUR COATS as low as $95

With a group of new models in desirable Furs including Hudson Seal (Seal Dyed Muskrat) Raccoon, Squirrel, etc. at $195

Convenient Terms May Be Arranged

ALL LAMSON & HUBBARD FURS Are Now Shown In OUR NEW DAYLIGHT FUR FLOOR (Formerly the Lamson & Hubbard Galleries)

The Clearest Light in the World in which to buy furs

LAMSON & HUBBARD
304 Boylston at Arlington Street, Boston

"What A. Piatt Andrew Found In Russia"

People have swapped dictators, Massachusetts Congressman tells

JAMES W. REARDON

Exclusively—in the next

BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

Largest Sunday Circulation in New England

SUMMER suggestions

HOTPOINT ELECTRIC TOASTER
Hotpoint toasters belong to a long-famous family of quality electrical appliances. This two-slice ture toaster in chromium finish $4.95

EDICRAFT AUTOMATIC TOASTER
Toasts both sides of two slices at once . . . and opens automatically when done. Keeps toast warm until needed. Chromium finish $14.75

TELECHRON ELECTRIC CLOCK
Electric time is always exact. No winding ever. This Telechron is mahogany finish, 4½-inch ivory enamel dial . . . 17¼ inches long by 7 5/16 inches high. Price $9.95
Limited time only

EDICRAFT SANDWICH GRILL
This smart table grill has automatic heat control. Toasts two big flavor-blended sandwiches, broils six rib lamb chops, grills bacon. Chromium finish $17.95

UNIVERSAL ELECTRIC TEAKETTLE
The quick, clean, convenient way to have hot water is electrically—with a Universal electric teakettle. Boils a quart of water in six minutes. Thermostatic heat control. Price $7.50

AIRMASTER VENTILATING FAN
Easily portable for use in the kitchen, bedroom, or wherever desired . . . Instantly adjustable to any window size . . . Glass panel admits ample daylight. Price $49.50
Terms, $5 Down, balance monthly
Small carrying charge

SUNBEAM MIXMASTER
Now—a new, improved Mixmaster, with a fruit juice extractor and salad oil dripper . . . Mashes and mixes, whips, beats and stirs. Price $24.75
Terms, $3.05 Down, balance monthly
Small carrying charge

EDISON ELECTRIC IRON
A six pound iron with non-tarnishing chromium finish. Complete with cord and plug. Price $2.95
Made by Hotpoint

WHIRLDRY WASHER AND DRY CLEANER
Ideal for small family washing, mid-week odds and ends, baby clothes. Used with cleaning fluid, it dry-cleans dresses, suits, hats, and other garments. Price $49.50
Terms, $5.00 Down, balance monthly
Small carrying charge

GENERAL ELECTRIC FANS
No need for hot weather discomfort . . . when a few dollars will provide the cooling breezes of an electric fan. Many sizes and prices.
8-inch GE fan $6.50
10-inch Oscillating $16.50

3½ lb. Handette
SWEEPER VAC CLEANERS
FULL SIZE MODEL
The ideal modern cleaning combination — a powerful, full-size Sweeper Vac, with motor-driven brush — and the 3½-pound Handette — both cleaners for only $54.50
Terms, $5 Down, balance monthly
Small carrying charge

EVERHOT ELECTRIC COOKER
Roasts meat or fowl — cooks two vegetables at a time. Bakes pies and biscuits. Ample capacity for average family. Ideal for carrying hot or cold foods on picnics . . . Chromium finish $8.75

THE EDISON ELECTRIC ILLUMINATING COMPANY OF BOSTON

SHAW PRAISES SOVIET REGIME IN RUSSIA

Moscow, July 27 (AP)—When George Bernard Shaw came here to see how Russia was getting along under the Soviet, he thought things were so bad he'd have to live in a tent. To be prepared, he brought one along with him.

Shaw told about it—as a joke on himself—in a speech last night at a dinner in honor of his 75th birthday.

"We were told there was no food or other necessities in Russia," said G. B. S. "After we crossed the border we found our equipment unnecessary, and we began throwing it away."

Shaw addressed his hearers as "Comrades." He told them that when they had succeeded in their Communist revolution the other nations would follow fast in their footsteps.

Referring to the fact that he was traveling with Lord and Lady Astor, whom he described as "very rich and great Londoners," he said:

"It is not their fault, but the fault of the English proletariat for not having taken it away from them."

BULLET BREAKS 'HAPPY' PACT

Chicago, July 27 (AP)—A contract to provide "a road to happiness" signed last March by Dell F. Harbaugh, 43, an inventor, and his 22-year-old wife, Elizabeth, was broken today.

Harbaugh is dead—with a bullet in his abdomen. His wife is at a police station.

The "road to happiness" contract ended an arrangement of six months. Among its provisions were that husband and wife would forgive the past and love each other forever.

However, Mrs. Harbaugh placed the pistol in her pocket and followed her husband from home yesterday. When she caught up with him there was a brief tussle and the weapon was discharged.

Mrs. Harbaugh told the police her husband had been attentive to other women.

"I didn't mean to kill him," she said, "I was going to catch up with him, say goodby and shoot myself. I told him goodby and he was killed trying to take the gun away from me."

LEWIS, HISSED, ASKS PEACE

West Frankfort, Ill., July 27 (AP)—John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, who was hooted and jeered when he attempted to address a miners' meeting yesterday, continued his efforts today to end the general weekly strike at the two Orient mines here.

Lewis appealed to the miners to be loyal to the "parent organization," the "regular" faction of the mine workers' union, and to return to work in the Orient mines under existing conditions until differences could be smoothed out.

It was when he referred to the recent "frank and file" conventions at Belleville and Zeigler, Ill., that miners opposing Lewis' organization booed and hissed.

For an hour the labor leader stood his ground, rapping the gavel for order.

At one time a miner rushed down the aisle, grabbed the gavel from Lewis' hand, and pounded for order in an effort to address the meeting. Lewis retrieved the gavel forcibly.

BEFORE YOU GO vacationing—let us put your clothes in order!

ANY GARMENT CLEANSED 75c

NEW STORES
CAMBRIDGE
9 Central Sq.
NANTASKET
286 Nantasket Ave.

Dyeing—All Kinds $2.25
UNIVERSAL CLEANSERS and DYERS
Down Town Stores
111 Summer St.
6 Winter St., Room 515
900 Washington St.
32 Province St.
Other Stores
648 Blue Hill Ave., Dorchester
1045 Mass. Ave., Cambridge
322 Harvard St., Brookline

Man About Town

By AL DUFFY

SUMMER SAGA

Men and love
Make me ailo,
Love and men
Better fail!
Summer moon
Starlit lake;
Danger signs
Bad heartache.
Men and love
Moonlit night
What's the use?
Why the fight?
Every summer
I forget
Every winter
I regret.
Woe is me!
Summer's here
And I've met
You, my dear!

JOYCE.

* * *

HIGH SPOTS IN A LOW LIFE

The day Vice-President Calvin Coolidge came to Hartford and, at the earnest solicitation of City Editor Harry Horton (than whom there was no better), spoke for 10 minutes over the Courant's primitive broadcasting station . . . It wasn't until after Cal had finished and was being congratulated for his speech that someone discovered they had forgotten to turn on the power . . . Cal refused to repeat his remarks . . . Sitting, ringing wet, with Earl Carroll through three quarters of the Dartmouth game in the Havard Stadium last fall until Carroll suddenly looked at the sodden and bedraggled Duffy and said, "This only proves that we're both nuttier than I thought! Come on, let's get out of here" . . . And, speaking of Earl Carroll, the "birthday" party he threw for Grace Worth at the Touraine during the run of "Sketch Book" last year . . . An all-night argument with Frank McHugh (he's the funny fellow you see in First National Pictures now, but in those days he was a juvenile in stock) on whether or not the Actors' Equity Association should affiliate itself with the American Federation of Labor.

* * *

THINGS WE LIKED

Here are some of the things that have tickled our fancy over the week-end: "Dwarf's Blood" by Edith Olivier and "Hatter's Castle" by A. J. Cronin—two elegant jobs of writing; Mickey Alpert announcing his own program in his broadcasts from the Westminster Roof; the Strauss waltz, "Artists' Life," as played by Maestro Fiedler's men at the Esplanade concert; Dorothy Parker in the current NYker; Joe Marks at the Keith-Boston and Lilyan Tashman's work in "Murder By The Clock" at the Olympia.

* * *

"DEAF GATHER SILENTLY IN FANEUIL HALL."

—Headline in Daily Record.

To take Peter for a ride for his atrocious French.

* * *

Jack Sharkey, Chestnut Hill's heavyweight prize package, has been called just about everything in the course of his fighting career but it remained for Jerry Harrison of WLAW, in his description of the blow-by-blow account of the Sharkey-Walker Old-Fashioned Waltzing Contest the other night, to call the Squire Sharkey "the egg-nigma of the prize ring."

* * *

THE MORNING MAIL.

R. F., Boston: No can use—policy. It doesn't smell.

P. L. Caldwell, Somerville: Thank you ma'am. I think you're quite right about everything. Come again.

Alfredo Stellman: Come home. All is forgiven.

ZEPP SAILING INTO ARCTIC

Leningrad, U. S. S. R., July 27 (US)—Voyaging slowly into the Arctic icefields on its exploration flight the Graf Zeppelin last night established radio contacts with Franz Josef land and the Soviet ice-breaker Malgin.

Bearing 12 Russian, German and American scientists on a voyage of scientific observation beyond the Arctic Circle, the Graf Zeppelin left commandanskiy Airdrome here at 11:30 a. m. (5:30 a. m. Eastern Daylight Time), yesterday.

Including the crew of 30, and four other passengers, the Graf is making its northern debut with 46 persons aboard.

The voyagers clambered aboard at Dr. Hugo Eckener's order following a night of feasting as guests of the Russian air officials here.

Cyclist Killed in Crash; 3 Injured

New Haven, Ct., July 27 (AP)—Milton Carey, 17, of Hartford was tossed 30 feet and killed today when his motorcycle smashed into a car driven by Abraham Greenberg, 61, of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Miss Rae Bergman of New York Greenberg's niece, suffered a fractured hip. Greenberg and his sister, Mrs. Emma Epstein, 51, suffered from shock.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a Telephone Exchange and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

Painful Feet-Fallen Arches

The fact that the old methods of foot correction were inadequate and unsatisfactory is proven by the thousands of people who have tried all sorts of arch supports, orthopedic shoes, strapping, cards, padding, manipulations, etc., without results. Until the Orthomec System of Foot Correction entered the field there had been no marked improvement in the treatment of foot ills in the past 40 years.

The Orthomec System of Foot Correction backed by new and important developments both in patented mechanism and methods is ready to give immediate relief and in time permanent correction in the most stubborn of cases. No charge whatever for the first visit. Registered foot specialists in charge.

ORTHOMEC SYSTEM OF FOOT CORRECTION
406 Boylston St. Boston

TALLULAH BANKHEAD TO STAR IN "THE CHEAT"

Paramount Will Feature Her in 'My Sin' Before 'The Cheat' Revival

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

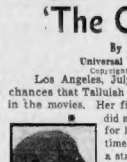
Universal Service Motion Picture Editor

Copyright, 1931, by Universal Service, Inc.

Los Angeles, July 27—The bets are about even on the chances that Tallulah Bankhead will ever become a topnotcher in the movies. Her first picture, "Tarnished Lady," certainly did not do much to help build any permanency for her as a screen favorite. It takes a long time for the motion picture public to accept a star and unless the vehicle is a popular one the cards are all stacked against the player.

Paramount, meanwhile, is going ahead making plans for Miss Bankhead just as if she were Claudette Colbert, Ruth Chatterton, Nancy Carroll or some of their established stars. "The Cheat" is being taken out of its moth balls and wrappings and resurrected as a coming Bankhead picture.

"The Cheat," by Hector Turnbull, made by Fanny Ward and Sessue Hayakawa about 15 years ago was a sensational success.



Louella O. Parsons

Miss Bankhead is vacationing in Wyoming. She makes "My Sin" before "The Cheat" and both pictures will undoubtedly be made in Hollywood.

* * *

Nice that John Stahl is to direct John Boles in "Marriage Interlude." The two Johns were such a good combination in "Seed" and Mr. Boles entirely forgot to overact. Lois Wilson whose comeback in "Seed" has made so many Hollywood folk happy, will again be Mr. Boles' leading lady.

* * *

Seen and heard: When the train pulled out with David Selznick aboard his brother Myron made no motion to leave. Myron, in the last moment, had decided he too would take a look at New York. Reports are that Marjorie Rambeau's contract will not be renewed at Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer. Various reasons are given, one that Marjorie wants to return to the stage, the other that M. G. M. is making other plans. Meet Alison Lloyd. You have known her in the past under the names of Thelma Todd. Roland West changed her name while she was playing "Corsair" because he thought the aroma of comedy might still cling to her skirts.

Marjorie Rambeau

Irene Rich

Try to locate anybody for a game of bridge on a Saturday night in Hollywood. Everyone goes to the beach or out of town somewhere. In fact, Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Los Angeles and the country is absolutely deserted these days. The Cyril Humes and Mrs. Hum in is Helen Chandler, are at Santa Monica for a week or more. Lucile Gleason and Jimmy Gleason are taking a vacation at Emerald Bay during the heated spell. Russell Gleason is the guest of friends at Laguna Beach week-ends. Louise Fazenda is en route to Vancouver, Irene Rich spent Sunday enjoying the beach at Santa Barbara. William Beaudine has moved his family to Santa Monica. Howard Hughes is entertaining on his yacht. The Abe Lehrs spent the week-end at Catalina. The Fred Gibsons and the Skeet Gallaghers are at Malibu and so on and so on.

* * *

The offer made Clara Bow by Florenz Ziegfeld is no brest agent's dream. I talked with Ziegfeld over the long distance telephone and he has a play suited to Little Bow. He will surround her with an excellent cast and do everything to make her a sensation on Broadway. I have no doubt by the time he arrives here from New York in two weeks Clara will be able to talk to him.

* * *

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: AL KAUFMAN entertaining his handsome son, ALBERT, JR., at dinner at the Wilshire Derby. Among the other guests seated at Albert's table were HOPE LONG, LOUIS LEIGHTON and the three ROTHACKERS, AILEEN, VIRGINIA and WATTERSON. EUGENE STARK with a long list of his German specials, making us forget our figures. ALICE BRADY looking as if motherhood agreed with her, dining with her husband at the same place. MAE MURRAY and her husband, PRINCE MDIVANI, glimpsed at the Coconut Grove. VIRGINIA CHERRILL in a smart summer frock there the same night. JEANETTE MacDONALD on her way to New York. She sails for Europe August 1 to make inquiries about the unpleasant French novel printed and using her name without permission. GERTRUDE and ROBERT LEONARD entertaining their two mothers at the "Vinegar Tree." An enthusiastic over HILLIE BURKE. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Sharkey-Walker Fight Pictures at Bowdoin Sq.

At the Bowdoin Square are shown the films of the recent Sharkey-Walker contest. These are the official pictures of that event. One of the photoplays is Gloria Swanson in "Indiscreet." The vaudeville offers Ajax and Jean, Six Hollywood Girls, Johnny Harrigan, master of ceremonies; Mora, magician; Five Rodeo Boys, Dell Brown and the Marlin Duo. The fight pictures are screened at 9:15 a. m., and at 12:12, 4:12 and 8:10 p. m.

Movie Clock

Featured photoplays in the picture theaters and their starting times today are as follows:

FENWAY—"Night Nurse"; p. m. 2:22, 4:48, 7:14, 9:49.
RKO-KEITH—"The Common Law"; a. m., 9:47, 11:42; p. m. 1:44, 3:46, 5:48, 7:50, 9:52.
FINE ARTS—"La Canzone dell' Amore"; p. m., 1:20, 3:20, 5:20, 7:20, 9:20.
WASHINGTON ST. OLYMPIA—"Murders the Clock"; a. m., 9:40, 11:40; p. m., 1:40, 3:45, 5:45, 7:50, 9:50.
SCOLLAY—"Night Nurse"; a. m., 11:36; p. m., 2:22, 4:44, 9:50.
ORPHEUM—"The Man in Possession"; a. m., 9:15; p. m., 12:12, 3:50, 6:30, 9:45.
RKO KEITH-BOSTON—"The Lady Who Dared"; a. m., 9:37; p. m., 12:52, 4:11, 7:16, 10:25.
BEACON AND MODERN—"Goldie"; a. m., 10:29; p. m., 12:43, 2:57, 5:11, 7:25, 9:38.
UPTOWN—"Murders by the Clock"; p. m., 1:45, 3:45, 5:54, 7:45, 9:45.
LOEW'S STATE—"Son of India"; p. m., 1:25, 3:30, 5:35, 7:40, 9:45.
BOWDOIN — "Indiscreet"; a. m., 9:30; p. m., 1:30, 5:30, 9:25.
METROPOLITAN—"The Confessions of a Co-Ed"; a. m., 11:30; p. m., 1:55, 4:11, 6:30, 7:55, 10:11.
EXETER—"It's a Wise Child"; p. m., 2:15, 5:10, 8:05.
GAYETY—"The Viking"; a. m., 11:30; p. m., 2:45, 6, 9:05.

Amusements

RKO KEITH BOSTON FAMOUS SCREEN STAR BELLE BENNETT IN PERSON
Jos Marks—Charles Melson
On the Screen "The Lady Who Dared"
RKO VAUDEVILLE

NEW GAYETY-TODAY
OFFICIAL SCHMELLING-STRIBLING FIGHT PICTURES
MARION DAVIES in "THE FLAME OF THE YUKON" STAR CAST—"THE VIKING"

Fine Arts State Theatre Exhibitor Now Playing PIRANDELLO'S—ITALIAN FILM "SONG OF LOVE"

ADDS TO HER FAME

Belle Bennett, famed star of the screen, as she appears on the RKO-Keith stage this week. Sketched by Staff Artist Charles Schmidt.

Belle Bennett Scores in Personal Appearance at the Boston

By HARLEIGH SCHULTZ

Belle Bennett's in town. So is Billie Dove. But the latter favorite shows up only on the screen, and Miss Bennett is here in person.. And that gives her the precedence in the eyes and hearts of any fan. Miss Dove is mighty fine to look at, but Miss Bennett is better. So we begin by saying that the famous screen mother of the heart-throb stories is headlining this week at the RKO Keith Boston.

The screen star makes her vaudeville appearance in a sketched called "Waitress." This is a pleasing change from the usual bowing and talking of movie folk whose repertory of talent is exceedingly limited when it comes to entertaining before the footlights. Miss Bennett has great ability, performs away over the heads of a number of the personal-appearance stars, and would satisfy even without the halo of film fame. Of course, the audience gives her an ovation.

Other excellent acts are grouped about her. Among the turns are those of Joe Marks, aided in mirth-making by Eddie Ryan, Mae Leonard and Leo Fellows; Melson and Irmanette; Harry Foster Welch, the "one-man band"; and the Saul Freed Foursome.

* * *

Conway Teasle plays opposite Miss Bennett in a rather pleasing photodrama, "The Lady Who Dared." The story concerns the fortunes of a diplomat's wife who gets entangled with designers, whose chief is Teasle, a villain who turns out to be the hero in the surrender of the wife's love to the husband after some exciting and damaging incidents.

Neither story nor acting reaches par; but because of the direction of William Beaudine and the superb photography, "The Lady Who Dared" has cinematic values.

On Esplanade

The program for tonight's Esplanade concert follows:

March, "Stars and Stripes Forever" ..... Sousa
Overture, "Finest's Cave" ..... Mendelssohn
Pavane for a Dead Infanta ..... Ravel
Fantasia, "El Regisseur" ..... Moszkowski
Prelude in C Minor ..... Rachmaninoff
Lolita Fries, Soprano
(a) Solo Violin, M. Gaston Elcus
(b) Prelude and Allegro ..... Kreisler
(c) Flight of the Bumble Bee ..... Rimsky-Korsakoff
Waltz, "Girls of Baden" ..... Komzak

Italian Film on Fine Arts Bill

By HARRIS MORGAN

Entertaining movies follow one another satisfyingly at the Fine Arts. Now comes another picture made in Italy, bearing the aria-like title of "La Canzone dell' Amore," which being interpreted (if it need be translated) is "The Song of Love."

But it has more than this title suggests. Luigi Pirandello has turned out some notable stories, several of which have been staged in this city with success.

It should be said that knowledge of Italian is not necessary to enjoy this picture. It would be delightful whatever tongue were used.

Manager Kraska is more and more developing the accessory atmosphere in his little theater, of saying his welcome in an artistic way that is cordial as well. His new exhibition of paintings deserves more than this passing mention of so interesting a collection.

'Goldie' Hit on Twin Screens

"Goldie," a story of roaming and romancing, is the comedy feature which heads the program at the Public Beacon and Modern. Spencer Tracy and Warren Hymer are co-starred with Jean Harlow, platinum blonde of "Hell's Angels."

The time the men are sailor pals. Tracy, as usual, is the quick-witted fast talker of the two, while Hymer's only attribute is contained in the bulging muscles of his arms and back. Together they present a laughable pair of comics. Roaming the globe in search of adventure and love, they manage to uncover both.

In Calais, the two meet up with Miss Harlow, high diver with a carnival. The resultant conflict growing out of her attempt to destroy the friendship between the pals brings the climax of the picture.

On the same program is "Dancing Dynamite" featuring Richard Talmadge, famous for his aerial feats and stunts in moving pictures.

Two Soloists in Free Concerts

Frances Foskette, dramatic soprano, and Reginald Boardman, pianist, will be the principal soloists at this week's play of Brookline Field Concerts, given by an orchestra of 58 members of the People's Symphony Orchestra under Will Dodge.

Miss Foskette will be heard with the orchestra tomorrow evening in two songs of Rimsky-Korsakov and Gretchaninov as well as in excerpts from "Maytime," popular Romberg operetta. Mr. Boardman, one of the rising pianists of Boston, will play on Thursday. Another feature of the Thursday concert will be the entire "New World" Symphony of Dvorak. Among the orchestral numbers are a Suite from Delibes' "Sylvia" and Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstances."

The program for tomorrow is largely drawn from music by Russian composers. Some of the works to be played are Smetana's Overture to "The Bartered Bride," Chaikovsky's "Valse des Fleurs," and Goldmark's "Sakuntala" Overture.

Amusements

NOTED FOR HER BEAUTY—

She didn't earn a kind word said . . . as long as one even kept saying "I love you."

Matchless Star of Common Clay Makes Greater Screen Triumph in this human drama.

Constance BENNETT in THE COMMON LAW

RKO Pathe Picture with JOEL McCREA LEW CODY

Now Playing 2 to 11 P. M. 30c The world's

RKO KEITH'S

Amusements

Today at YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD THEATER

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PORTER-HARVARD SQ — GLORIA SWANSON "INDISCREET" "Lover Come Back" "The Rabbit"—Bobby Jones

CHARLESTOWN
M.H. LOEW'S HOLLYWOOD SOMA-1500 — LEW AYRES "IRON MAN" ELISSA LANDI "CHILDREN OF CHANCE" CHAPTER III
THOMPSON SQUARE THEATRE — WM. HAINES "JUST A GIGOLO" ALSO — "THE FLORIDA TERROR"

DORCHESTER
DORCHESTER THEATRE Tel. Geneva 0700 — MARY PICKFORD in "KIKI" — ALSO — "Defenders of the Law" Tomorrow Rita Kehoeh

EGLESTON SQ.
THE EGLESTON Sq. of Eglestion Sq — MARION DAVIES "It's a Wise Child" BUCK JONES "THE AVENGER" Comedy and Latest News

HYDE PARK
EVERETT SQUARE NTD 2234 — "Six Cylinder Love" Spencer Tracy-El Brendel "Good Bad Girl" Rae Clarke-Jeane Hall

MALDEN
GRANADA MALDEN TEL. 0218 — JANET GAYNOR "BODY AND SOUL LEGS" ROBERT WOOLSEY "EVERYTHING'S RUSH" STARTS SAT. "I TAKE THIS WOMAN"

MALDEN (Continued)
STRAND MALDEN Tel. MAL 0141 — John Boles-Lois Wilson "SEED" "Always Goodbye" Elissa Landi and Lewis Stone

REVERE
REVERE AND CRESCENT GARDENS — "SEED" With John Boles-Lois Wilson-Genevieve Tobin "Always Goodbye" Elissa Landi-Lewis Stone

ROXBURY
ROXBURY HUMBOLDT SAR 6849 — "Strangers May Kiss" Norma Shearer "HELL BOUND" With LLOYD HUGHES

SOMERVILLE
SOM. 2700 CAPITOL BROADWAY — Victor McLaglen-Edmund Lowe in "Women of All Nations" CHARLIE CHASE in "LOOSES THAN LOOSE"

SOUTH BOSTON
BOSTON STRAND THEATRE SOM. 2290 — WILL ROGERS in "CONNECTICUT YANKEE" "AIR POLICE" with Kenneth Harlan-Josephine Dunn and Charles Delaney, Also the Birthday-Schmeling Fight.

STRAND AND BROADWAY — Victor McLaglen-Edmund Lowe "Women of All Nations" ELISSA LANDI "Always Goodbye"

SOUTH END
NATIONAL THEATRE TREMONT ST. — "EAST LYNNE" With Ann Harding-Conrad Nagel-Clive Brook-Lewis Stone-Cecil Cunningham With GRANT WITHERS

BOWDOIN SQ. — Vaudeville Acts In Person
EXTRA—Starts Today Flash Pictures Gloria Swanson in "INDISCREET" with Ben Lyon "Man of the Hour" with Jesse Crosby, Ben Whiting Com. Thurs.—"CHANCES"—"LOVE COME BACK"

It's COOL at LOEW'S
STATE — RAMON NOVARRO in "SON OF INDIA" — EDWARD NUGENT MAUDE FEALY — DOORS OPEN 7:15
ORPHEUM — ROBT. MONTGOMERY in "FINDING MAN IN POSSESSION" — CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD — LOEW'S COLUMBUS — DOORS OPEN 12:15 — 15c

EXETER the place where you forget your troubles
Janet Gaynor in "Daddy Longlegs" Marion Davies in "It's a Wise Child"

Paramount-Publix Theatres — EVERY SEAT A COOL RETREAT

Metropolitan — from my intimate diary! — Love-Tangles, Courtships, Romances, Time-Defended by the Fiesta!
SYLVIA SIDNEY Phillips Holmes
"CONFESSIONS OF A CO-ED"
A Paramount Picture
Cambria's "PETITE FROLICS" Revue
Coming Thursday! Boston's Musical Idol HORACE HEIDT IN PERSON and his "Californians"

OLYMPIA-UPTOWN — WASH. ST. at DOVER ST.
"MURDER BY THE CLOCK" William Boyd—Lilyan Tashman
Kelly Sisters—"Three Pretty Girls" This Week—"The Marble Athlete"

MATT. AND FENWAY STUDIO
Double Value Program Barbara Stanwyck-Ralph Bellamy "MONSTERS OF THE DEEP" Hangain Hour 11:00 to 1:30 Adults 30c—Children 15c

MODERN BEACON — WASH. ST. at DOVER ST.
JEAN HARLOW "GOLDIE" Spencer Tracy Warren Hymer Richard Talmadge, "Dancing Dynamite"

SCOLLAY SQ
BIGGEST SHOW VALUE IN TOWN!
Where Stage and Screen Reign Supreme!
—On the Screen—
She's Been Through the Mill! She Tells All!
BARBARA STANWYCK as "NIGHT NURSE"
CLARK GABLE—BEN LYON
—On the Stage—
7 NEW, BIG ACTS 7
VAUDEVILLE
"DAUNTLESS"
The Famous Motion Picture Dog!

PARAMOUNT PUBLIX NEAR HOME THEATRES

ALLSTON — STA. 4410 — ROBERT MONTGOMERY-DOROTHY JORDAN in "SHIPMATES" Also "God's Country & The Man"
BRIGHTON — STA. 6500 EGYPTIAN BRIGHTON — "CHANCES" DOUG FAIRBANKS, JR. "Whoopee Shoulders" Mary Astor-Ricardo Cortez Mats. 25c Eves. at 8 P. M.
CAMBRIDGE — PUBLIX CENTRAL SQ. UNIVERSITY — Paul Lukas-Kay Francis "VICE SQUAD" El Brendel-Spencer Tracy in "Six Cylinder Love"
PUBLIX HARVARD SQ. CAMBRIDGE — "SEED" WINNIE LIGHTNER in "Gold Dust Gertie"
DORCHESTER — PUBLIX CODMAN SQ. DORCHESTER TEL. 0540 — JOAN CRAWFORD in "Laughing Sinners" WILLIAM HAINES in "JUST A GIGOLO"
PUBLIX FIELD'S COR. — Joan Crawford-Neil Hamilton "Laughing Sinners" William Haines-Irene Purcell "JUST A GIGOLO"
PUBLIX LIBERTY TEL. 2580 — SOFT MONTGOMERY in "SHIPMATES" LOWELL SHERMAN Rochelle Apartments Mats. Daily at 2 P. M. Sat. & Sun. 1:30 Eves. 7:15 P. M.
PUBLIX MORTON — "YOUNG SINNERS" With DOROTHY JORDAN MARION DAVIES in "It's a Wise Child"
STRAND DORCHESTER — "THE VICE SQUAD" Paul Lukas-Kay Francis "White Shoulders" Jack Hart-Mary Astor
JAMAICA PLAIN — PUBLIX JAMAICA JAM 3280 — CLIVE BROOK "The Lawyer's Secret" "It's a Wise Child"
MATTAPAN SQ. — PUBLIX ORIENTAL TEL. 1200 — Paul Lukas-Kay Francis "VICE SQUAD" Spencer Tracy "6-Cylinder Love"
NEWTON — PUBLIX PARAMOUNT NEWTON — NEW 4180 — Bargain Mat. Today 2:15, 15c "LAUGHING SINNERS" Starring the Smith Bros.
ROSLINDALE — PUBLIX BRIALTO — 4 Live Broad-Chevrolo Square in "The Lawyer's Secret" MARION DAVIES in "It's a Wise Child"
ROXBURY — PUBLIX EGLESTON SQ. — ROS. 1300 — Joan Crawford-Clive Brook "Laughing Sinners" Starring the Smith Bros.
PUBLIX RIALTO — Clive Brook-Chevrolo Square in "The Lawyer's Secret" MARION DAVIES in "It's a Wise Child"
SOMERVILLE — PUBLIX RIVOLI SOM. 0060 — Paul Lukas-Kay Francis "THE VICE SQUAD" Mary Astor-Jack Holt "White Shoulders"
PUBLIX SHAWMUT — BARGAIN MATINEE 15c Clive Brook-Charles Rogers "LAWYER'S SECRET" MARION DAVIES "It's a Wise Child"
WALTHAM — PUBLIX EMBASSY WALTHAM — JOAN CRAWFORD "Laughing Sinners"
WOLLASTON — PUBLIX GRANITE 9600 WOLLASTON — ROBERT MONTGOMERY "SHIPMATES" Spencer Tracy-Lilyan Tashman in "QUICK MILLIONS" Mats. 2:45 Eves. 7:45 Late Show 9:30

Watch This Directory Patronize Your Local

In Mayfair

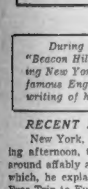
-with-

May Christie

During the vacation of Betty Alden, her daily column "Beacon Hill" will be replaced by this column of interesting New York society and literary gossip by May Christie, famous English writer, now living in the metropolis and writing of her experiences there.

RECENT DOINGS I LIKE TO LOOK BACK ON

New York, July 27—In a taxicab on Park ave. the other grilling afternoon, the driver—when the red light halted us—turned around affably and presented me with a "Lucky Passenger" ticket which, he explained with a beneficent air, might entitle me to a Free Trip to Europe..."and wouldn't that be swell..."



May Christie

Having made 18 trips across the Atlantic, and not responding to his remark with sufficient enthusiasm, he probably mistook this for despair of ever winning...

"Say, lady, you get a chance for one of the Week-End Cruises, too...I hear the liquor's grand!" he beamed backwards.

Honking of horns behind informed him that the light had changed, and we shot merrily onward.

* * *

St. Moritz and the Park

Lunching in the Terrace Club atop the St. Moritz Hotel the other day...and hearing a much-traveled lady insist that the view over Central Park reminded her much-ly of St. Moritz in Switzerland.

Now the Terrace Club has one glorious view, for'ard and aft, of all New York...but I couldn't quite follow her flights of comparison...

Unless she thought the buildings were mountains...!

Now my couple of trips to St. Moritz, Switzerland, were to enjoy the winter sports...and I've never been in the Land of the High Alps in the summer.

"Why, can't you see it...?...those dear little lakes...?...the trees...?...the color of the sky...? ...why, Central Park from here is exactly like Switzerland..."

Well, enthusiasm is grand . . .

I'll admit the view was beautiful . . . that any breath of air around New York that day was to be found in the high parch of the Terrace Club . . . and that the company was cosmopolitan.

I shall keep my eyes wide open when Christmas comes and the snow falls, to see whether or not the s-nor-mous buildings around Central Park take on an aspect Alpine . . .

The hospitality of that genial young couple, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Ryan.

She is good-looking, brunette and vivacious . . . and was Miss Gertrude Dakin, of Washington.

Where she fell in love with and married the tall, handsome Congressman.

Like Her Mother

Daughter "Anne" . . . aged 14 . . . is a pretty and original girl with a mind of her own . . . and greatly resembles her mother.

* * *

Meeting the blond and cheerful Mr. Jack Regan at a cocktail party the other afternoon, in either golf or tennis kit . . . and so interesting did I find the conversation, that I asked a gentleman who sat next to me to make a note of young Mr. Regan's appearance and record . . .

(No . . . no . . . I'm not a lady-detekatif . . . just a columnist with a grind on the job . . .!)

Today I find this illuminating memo in my handbag . . .

"Jack Regan . . . "a" dark and pretty Helene Costello's husband impassionate purple top and grey trousers, looking around for a 12½ size pair of tennis shoes . . . He just left Hollywood in time to take the call Mr. Helene Costello . . ."

* * *

Having a long matutinal session on the edge of the mighty deep with frenzied, vivacious and handsome Mr. Marcel Franck, of Boston, who is extremely popular in several Mayfairs . . . and is a divil wid the ladies!

This was followed by a festive gathering at a cabana belonging to Mr. Harry Fuller, vice-president of Sinclair Oil, and his attractive brunette wife.

Youngest Sheik

Whereat Mr. Joseph Adrian Kent Dempsey was the youngest and slimmest sheik . . .

Mrs. Bobby" Warschauer . . . who has been three months on the water-wagon but whose gayety is always on tap, just the same . . . pointed out with a great deal of pride and pleasure the cabana of her away that belongs to his ex-wife . . .

That popular member of the Curb Exchange, Mr. Ward Montgomery Williamson, who was also present, has just chartered a boat and gone off into the blue with two married couples . . . the husband of whom was also exchange member and ex-member.

There (in order): Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. R. Hall . . . and Mr. and Mrs. Emery T. Wales.

Mr. Williamson appears to lead the well-known life of Riley . . . according to the way his friends teased him January he spends in Havana, February and March in Nassau . . . April in Europe . . . and so forth . . .

Just a bright bird-of-passage, 'twould seem!

* * *

Encountering the close friend of a close English friend of mine yesterday.

And we have been hoping to meet for a long time. The lady walked up to me and said: "I'm Mrs. William Mackay, of Saratoga, and this is my daughter, Mrs. Western Logan, of San Francisco, who is visiting me, and I have heard so much of you from our mutual friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Adam, who live in Epping Forest, close to London . . . "

So that was that . . . and a grand pow-wow was had by everyone.

Including the hostess and myself . . . a charming lady with eyes as blue as gentians. Her name is Mrs. Elton W. Clark, of New York. . . . She was reading the excessively dashing novel entitled: "Pavement Lady" . . . in a tobacco-brown bathing suit.

* * *

She informed me of the charm and beauty of Mrs. William McIlravy's home-on-a-hill at Tarrytown-on-Hudson.

"At nights you can see, 25 miles away, the lights of the Chrysler Building!"

"Scots Wha Hae"

I asked if it were true that the parties up there were so jolly that one could see four times the number of lights on a wet evening . . .?

Oh . . . no . . . I'm not a lady-detekatif . . . just a columnist with a grind on the job . . .!)

Today I find this illuminating memo in my handbag . . .

"Scots who has wit Wallace bled . . . Scots wha Bruce has often led . . . welcome to your Gory Bed . . . or to Victory!"

* * *

I had a little visit with Princess Mellkov last Monday night, on her return from festivities in Easthampton, where she and her mother, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hooker . . . the former gentleman being her brother.

Princess Mellkov looked marvelously well, suntanned and happy.

Secret Kept

She is going off into the blue. . . . is en route now . . . friend as I am here, she would not divulge her destination . . .

And all the time she smiled a Mona Lisa little smile . . . as if something very beautiful were shortly happening . . .?

* * *

Major Leonard R. Gracy, that wonderful contract bridge-player, and well-known man around Mayfair, showed me parts of the book he is writing on bridge. It will be published in the autumn.

It has the tentative title of: "The Story Book of Contract Bidding."

Major Leonard Gracy had flu very badly in the World War . . . was invalided out . . . and spent a couple of years up at Lake Saranac.

"It was like being at college with no work to do . . . and it was there I started to play bridge regularly," he said.

"At the Cavendish Club in Mayfair House, 119 Park Ave., I sat at the feet of the experts . . . I made bridge my hobby," explained the Major. "It had no active business, you see, so I've given bridge more and more time and attention."

From experts who have had glimpses of Major Gracy's book, I hear remarkable and flattering predictions.

News and Gossip of Society Activities in and About Greater Boston

DEBUTANTE SEASON CALENDAR IS RAPIDLY BEING COMPLETED

PLANS DAUGHTER'S DEBUT

Mrs. Joseph Seabury, will present her daughter Martha, at a tea at their home on September 26. (Berkeley Studio Photo).

Lace for Semi-Formal Fetes

By ANN ARDEN

"DO YOU prefer it weak or strong?" Many a choice tid-bit of scandal has hung suspended while this all important question has been answered through the generations. Even though tenting at restaurant or hotel is chic, according to modern tastes, the informal cup of tea at home has remained a sacred rite. And now that we are all becoming a bit more homeconscious, in both fashions and entertaining, afternoon tea will no doubt be one of the most popular magnets to draw friends.

* * *

THE ROMANTIC trend of our fashions finds charming expression at such home gatherings. We can wear enchanting tea gowns, dashing pajamas, or the charming new afternoon frocks that reach gracefully to the ankle. Teatime is one of the most feminine expressions of modern women in the home—it should be cultivated with enthusiasm.

* * *

LACE AND CHIFFON, ever the choice of the woman of poise and charm, as she knows full well they are her allies in flattery. The gown pictured is of rose beige chiffon, a circular peplum topping the full skirt. Alencon lace in ecru tone outlines the round neck and fashions the interesting sleeves, fitting the arm to the elbow and falling in graceful, circular fullness to the wrist. The narrow chiffon belt has buckle of brilliants.

* * *

THE COMPLEMENTING pumps are of pompadour brocade, having heels and trim of gold and silver kid. This formal afternoon gown would be a lovely informal evening gown, too, meeting the twilight dining problem to perfection.

* * *

ANN ARDEN will answer questions concerning clothes, social customs or fashions generally. Address your questions to the Boston Evening American or the Boston Sunday Advertiser or to Station WAAB.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Max Cohen yesterday celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home, 36 Spencer st., Dorchester.

CHIFFON FOR CHARM

MODES from RADIO—American Beauty Photo

ANN ARDEN presentsate latest style news over WAAB every Tuesday and Thursday at 10:30 a. m.

Mrs. Seabury Will Present Daughter

Debutante parties recently announced for the coming season include a tea on Saturday, September 26, at which Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Seabury of Weston will present their daughter, Martha, at their home. Later on there will also be a luncheon given for her by Mrs. Griscom Bettle of Philadelphia.

In October there is to be a small dance on the third, in honor of Miss Madelaine Phillips, given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Phillips of Windyknoh, Wenham; and on the 16th Mr. and Mrs. Delano Wight will entertain at an informal dance at The Country Club for their niece, Mary Wight, daughter of the Warland Wights of Milton.

* * *

Another affair in October will be a tea at the Dedham Country and Polo Club, at which Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Batchelder will be hosts for their daughter, Barbara, on the 22d. The 22d is also the date put down for a dance in honor of Priscilla Dennett, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Dennett of Boston and Manchester, but as she has decided to enter that exclusive Fermatta School in Aiken, in the fall, the dance will probably be postponed till Christmas vacation. There seems to be a little mixup as to the date of the dance that Mrs. George Hall and Mrs. Calhoun Harwood are to give for their respective daughters, Jean and Margot, whether it is the 29th of October or, as we gave it before, the 7th of November; but that will be definitely decided very shortly.

In November there are several dates that have not been mentioned before, the 4th, when Mrs. Holden McGinley again comes to the fore, again accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greenough, to entertain for their daughters, Elizabeth and Ruth, at a dance at the Hotel Somerset; and on the 14th, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Griswold are having an affair for their daughter, Elizabeth Locke, daughter of the Arthur Lockes of Northampton. Earlier in the season, June, the Griswolds were hosts at a luncheon for her.

* * *

November 19th is the date chosen by Mrs. Edward J. Holmes for the presentation of her two nieces, Mary Seaman and Margarita Erickson, at a tea at the Chilton Club. Miss Seaman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Everts Seaman of New York (Mrs. Holmes was also Miss Mary Seaman before her marriage), and Miss Erickson comes from Seattle, Washington. They both may enter Radcliffe as well as go out for the social life in Boston.

The 28th of November brings the dance in honor of Lucille Swift, at the Hotel Somerset, given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hastings Swift of Beaver pl. Miss Swift has studied at both that well known school in Florence and the Fermatta School in Aiken, S. C.

A dance is to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Strong Moseley for their daughter, Harriet, on December 4, at the Somerset. Miss Moseley is also being entertained at a garden party by her cousin, Mrs. Andrew Wheeler, in Ardmore, Pa.

GOSSIP in the SHOPS

About people you know in Boston Stores

—By FRANCES BAIRD—

Twenty-five suggestions were considered at the first meeting of the suggestion committee of Filene's Co-operative Association recently, appointed by President George M. Watson, with Mr. Frye as chairman. Other members of the committee, who awarded eight prizes, were Miss Duffie, Mr. Carter, Mr. Fyfe, Miss Chipman and Miss F. B. Kent of the cash office and Miss Mary A. Hurley, fitter, were the judges. Miss Josephine A. Hennessey of the housekeeping department; Kathleen Mitchell, executive staff; Ann Young and Edith Sweit, contingent force, were each awarded prizes for suggestions.

MISS FEIBELMAN APPOINTED

Miss Rose Feibelman, secretary to the sales manager for Gilchrist's, has been temporarily appointed to a merchandising opportunity in the store. Miss Feibelman starts today merchandising the bargain tables on the main floor, in place of Miss Mary Burke, who is on vacation.

Miss Burke is taking a motor tour through the New England states.

TOURNAMENT ON

Members of the general office force of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. are in an eliminating golf tournament yesterday at Thorney Lea course. The prize is a set of golf clubs donated by L. W. Thompson, vice-president in charge of the Boston unit. The tournament will continue for 10 days, at the convenience of the players.

MISS HAVILAND RECOVERING

Miss Marian Haviland, advertising manager for Smith Patterson's, is recovering from an operation for appendicitis at Baker Memorial Hospital.

STORE SNAPSHOTS

L. S. Bitner, of Filene's, golfing at Ree Burn . . . Miss Doris Smith, of the sales promotion staff of Jordan's, vacationing with her parents at their summer home in Wellfleet . . . and Miss Shirley Epstein, of the same office, at Pine Shore House, Dover, N. H.

Bring Your Game to Par

Good golf needs confidence. Clean clothes bring confidence. Let Golden Bell help you this season. Send us your golf togs, sweaters, knickers, and so forth. Have them cleaned, pressed, and up to par.

Call Works at Malden

Malden 2000
Liberty 9250
At Winter St.
Salem 5099

GOLDEN BELL Cleaners—Dyers

Shopping with Priscilla Price

DEAREST ANNE:

Even if I didn't ever see a calendar, I'm sure I'd know what month of the year this was. What with the shops full of attractive dresses and hats, suits and coats at remarkable clearance sale prices; specials in permanent waves being offered and the marvelous bargains in furs, I couldn't help knowing that August was only a few days away. Here's exciting news of a most remarkable sale of wonderful summer frocks—

$1 Silk Dresses $1 Chiffon, Shantungs

Now is the time—and the New York Dress Mfg. Co., is the place—where the most extraordinary values in summer clothes are being offered in a wonderful Dollar Sale! Frocks that were formerly $6.75 each are now two for $6.75. Only one dollar for the extra dress! Dresses that were $3.75 each are now two for $4.75—and their dresses that have already been reduced to $2.75 from $3.75 and $4.75 are now two for $3.75! Bring your friend along and buy one each! They were so wild to sell these and four times their original prices! During this House-cleaning sale, only, all sales final. They guarantee to give you any dress free that you can duplicate in any other store at their price! The New York Dress Mfg. Co., 515 Washington St., 2nd floor (Opp. R. H. White). This is their only store.

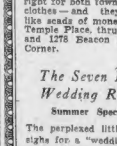
This Is a Marvelous

surprise! You'd never in the world guess where I found some perfectly stunning Panama hats reduced to $2 and $3! At Wetherem's! The store alone speaks for their quality — Sons of their original tags read as high as $8 and $10! Oh! lucky vacationist, you never found values in Panamas like this before—tailored grosgrain band—suave lines—flattering brims! And, remember, a brimmed and tilted hat is more flattering than any other variety—no matter what the age of the wearer. They're far above the average panamas in style and quality—sophisticated—casual—with shadow crowns that fit perfectly. These classic panamas are just right for both town and country clothes—and they really look like scads of money. Wetherm's Temple Place, thru to West St. and 1276 Beacon St., Coolidge Corner.

The Seven Diamond Wedding Ring

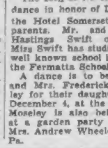
Summer Special—$18

The perplexed little bride who signs for a "wedding ring with diamonds" but hesitates because it might be too expensive, should inspect the dainty circlets marked as only $18 at the E. B. Horn Co. They are in the newest and most charming designs with a setting of seven diamonds which are said to bring you Luck in Love! This slender shining ring is usually $25! Prices on diamonds are now the lowest in years—really stunning solitaires in platinum diamond-set mountings are only $100—$125 to $300. In case you can't shop in person—write. Open Saturdays, during July and August until 5:30 P. M. The E. B. Horn Co. is famous for its fine diamonds for over 80 years. It's at 429 Washington St. Est. 1839.



In Thresher's Dollar Sale

one dollar will buy from $2 to $6 worth of choicest silks! . Plain colored crepe and Mirabeau French crepe is running rampant 'round our house! We are revelling in it; with great lengths traveling through the sewing machine and coming out in party dresses, sport and street dresses, as well as pajamas, nighties and undies. We can't miss the glorious opportunity to buy it up now when Thresher's are having their Greatest Dollar Sale! And this sale, by the way, is making history in silk prices. Plain colored crepes are marked down from $2 and $3 to $1! And imagine getting $3 and $4 printed silks for $1! Leading manufacturers have all contributed their best prints for this remarkable group, which includes chiffons, jacquards on crepes and chiffons with overprints. All pure silk and many pure dye! Be sure and ask to see the $2 Panne Satin marked at $1—Nots the quality—it comes in twenty gorgeous colors. Silks that were 85c and $1.00 are now marked at two yards for 85c—You'll be amazed when you see these silks—there are silk shantungs, rayon taffeta, printed silks, silk faced Duvetyn, Rayon twills and crepes and summer wash silks at this wonderful price, 50c a yard. They are also making sweeping reductions in their Lace, Hosiery, Gloves and Underwear departments. For instance, in the Hosiery department you'll find first quality, full-fashioned service and chiffon stockings at $1 a pair. I think that without exception these are the very best stockings you can buy at this price! Mail and phone orders are carefully filled. This is one event in the year, Anne, that you simply must not miss! Thresher's Silk Store is at 19 Temple Place and 41 West St.

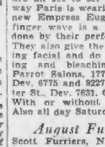


Poll Parrot Salons

There is a special on just now at the Poll Parrot Salons—their wonderful "Miracle" permanent wave for only $10! And this includes shampoo and wave set. The Miracle process waves the hair beautifully even if it is grey, or white. It's acclaimed by women everywhere as being among the best in New England. The change in millinery silhouette has brought about an entire change in hairdressing. The Poll Parrot Salons are all set to set your hair the way Paris is wearing it with the new Empire coiffure bats. A finger wave is a joy forever if done by their perfect operators! This is the most perfect season for giving facial and do excellent dyeing and bleaching. The Poll Parrot Salons, 177 Tremont St., Dev. 6775 and 9227, and 88 Winter St., Dev. 7631. Open evenings. With or without appointment. Also all day Saturday.

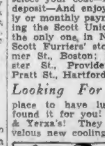
August Fur Sale!

Scott Furriers, New England's Largest Fur Establishment, 69 Summer St., Boston, is giving the 1932 furs their first coming out party! Of course, everyone knows the value of Scott Furriers' distinctive and dependable fur coats — and will surely want to attend their marvelous August Fur Sale. The prices are wonderful—$69.50 to $275 and up! The smartest flares and fabrics are at their best advantage in these 1932 models—chic lines grace each new coat with svelte appearance! You don't have to pay cash—Just select your coat—Make a small deposit—And enjoy small weekly or monthly payments by joining the Scott Unique Fur Club, the only one, in New England! Scott Furriers' stores: 69 Summer St., Boston; 309 Westminster St., Providence, and 81 Pratt St., Hartford.



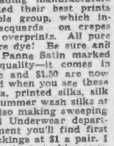
Looking For A Cool

place to have luncheon?—I've found it for you! Cobb, Bates & Yerxa's! They have a marvelous new cooling system—and the air is always delightfully cool and fresh. If you're on a budget, saving for your vacation, you'll surely appreciate their prices — Every day they have wonderful special luncheons for only 30c—Luncheons that include besides a main dish, bread and butter, tea or coffee (iced if you prefer) and dessert. The reason they can afford to serve you delicious luncheons like this for such a small amount is that they cater to an exceptionally large patronage. Their menu every day is very large and most tempting! You'll find them open from 8 o'clock until quarter-to-six—Have one of their homemade muffins for breakfast tomorrow morning. Cobb, Bates & Yerxa's is at 55 Summer St.



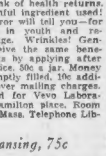
Edna's OK-O

Do you look years older than you are? Face marred by wrinkles? Dry skin? Edna knows it's all due to alkali in your skin! It destroys the natural oil secretions and Derms: Eye Strain and Worry which produce these embarrassing lines. Wash the eyes, neck and hands thoroughly — apply a small quantity before retiring, then notice the skin texture in the morning. Keep it up and the wrinkles disappear through scientific skin feeding. The youthful look of beauty returns. Not a harmful ingredient used! —Your mirror will tell you—for it proves the effect. Edna removes in age. Wrinkles! Gentlemen receive the same beneficial results by applying after shaving. Price, 50c a jar. Money orders promptly filled, 10c additional to cover mailing charges. Compounded for Vevo Laboratories, 9 Hamilton place, Room 37, Boston, Mass. Telephone Liberty 2977.



Cleansing, 75c

Why waste your energy and precious playtime cleaning and pressing your dainty, light-colored summer things when



The Home of Liederman Cleaning, Inc., will cleanse them for you—and better, too—for just 75c! They have shops in every neighborhood and two town stores, one at 8 Winter St., Room 1100—and at 306 Causeway St., North Station Terminal. They will cleanse any garment, except fur coats and fancy evening gowns for only 75c. This is a wonderful saving on your wilting summer energy —And your lovely, pale-hued frocks will retain their newness much longer! Three new stores have been opened recently in Malden, Nantasket and Quincy. Parcel Post packages receive prompt attention. The House of Liederman Main Office is at 162-171 Norfolk Ave., Roxbury, Mass., Tel. Highlands 4000.

I Haven't Enough Time

to tell you about everything in the shops. I do want you to plan to come up some day this week and take advantage of the best buys of the year. I know you're going to have a vacation in another week and there are so many things to get before you leave. But, honestly, you'd be surprised how far your money will go and how much value you'll get if you just make it your duty to visit the shops with me. The only trouble with that is that I'm sure you'll be in to see me and cart me around with you every week. But you know I'd love it! More news next week.

Devotedly yours,

Priscilla

Playground Outings to Stage Field Day

West End playground teachers are busy making elaborate plans for their annual field day to be held Thursday on the William Blackstone playground in the West End.

Miss Mary A. Rodenhiser is in charge, and will be assisted by the Misses Dorothy Hynes, Helen T. Sullivan and Goldie Brass of the West End health unit, including Ida Winchell and Washington play grounds.

Work Starts on Big Radio City Project

New York, July 27—The largest building project in the history of the world, costing $250,000,000, was begun when excavation started for Radio City the site for which is three blocks bounded by 5th and 6th aves. and 48th and 51st sts.

Eight steam shovels, 100 trucks and 500 men were on hand, while jobs for 5000 are in view.

Triduum Closes in Neponset Church

A solemn triduum in honor of St. Ann, the mother of the Blessed Virgin Mary, was brought to a close in St. Ann's Church, Neponset, last night, with a sermon by the Rev. T. J. Scannell, benediction of the most blessed sacrement and the blessing of the congregation with the relic of St. Ann.

On This Page: Writers With Something to Say, Who Know How to Say It

True to Type

CHILD LABOR AND THE SENTIMENTALISTS

—By Gilbert Seldes—

SEVERAL CORRESPONDENTS HAVE QUESTIONED my good faith in proposing the restoration of child labor and the inauguration of a ten-year holiday for the mature. They suggest that I can't be serious or, alternatively, that I am some sort of monster. A lot of people didn't think slavery would work, and a lot of others keep insisting that women must be kept out of factories because their place is in the home. It is the usual fate of pioneers, especially when their ideas are as sound and revolutionary as this one, to be ridiculed.

• • •

A Modest Proposal

In case you had something interesting to read when the original proposal appeared, I will summarize it briefly. Its object is to provide ten years of leisure for men and women at their highest point of maturity, or when they want and need leisure most and can get the best out of it. Tentatively I suggested the years between 25 and 35; or the first 10 years after marriage. The giving benefits of this 10-year period, when everyone would have health, a modicum of wealth, and a free mind to enjoy the whole world, are too obvious to be labored. The negative argument is enough: under the present system we haven't time, in our mature years, to enjoy the most precious things in life, whatever they are (love, travel, art, loafing, food and drink, and pure purposeless living).

• • •

Necessary, Not Evil

To insure this 10 year period of leisure, I proposed that labor be made obligatory for children as soon as they can be taught the handling of simple machinery. Anticipating the cry of black brutality, I asked for only four hours a day in the factory for the really tiny tots, and insisted upon good ventilation, a proper canteen, and, if they care for that sort of thing, a little community singing. I still think the days would be more attractive than most school days are.

No one seems to mind the other part of the program: obligatory labor for the old. All I hear about is the sacredness of childhood, and from one correspondent a little lecture on the value of youth. That I am personally, was written on the correspondent's 35th birthday, yet it warns me that "the emotional responses of youth are real; while those of maturity are fancied; and of senility but synthetic."

• • •

Cynic or Communist?

They will have to come through with less sentimental arguments before I abandon my plan. "Mrs. Morgan" (the quotations around the name are her own) writes that the people of America would revolt at the thought of their children being put to work—that is, if I am serious. She explains me by the assumption that I had an unhappy childhood. Certainly, all childhoods are unhappy, because they are periods of growth and change and uncertainty, but if I were ever moved to write a modern autobiographical novel (Heaven forbid!) my report on childhood would be almost idyllic. My hero would only regret that he wasn't put into a factory at the right time.

• • •

Work for the Workers

Another correspondent gets nearer home when he says that my scheme is "communism." I'm afraid he's right, but calling the project an offensive name is also a form of sentimentality. It proves nothing and no one can say that Stalin sent me Russian gold to propagate my idea. It is communism because the state will put the children to work and save their money for them; but it is good American capitalism, too, because at the proper age the state will turn over to each individual the amount he has earned, plus interest, and let him spend it as he pleases.

Work is for those who haven't anything better to do—the immature and the old. In the prime of life, No!

• • •

Abolition of Yorktown

From time to time I receive impersonal letters urging me to co-operate with the governmental committee on the celebration of the two hundreth anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Every time I am moved to commit something crops up. Today it is the report that "a scene depicting the surrender of Lord Cornwallis, planned as the climax of a pageant at Yorktown, Va., . . . has been ruled out on advice of State Department officials, lest it offend British visitors . . ."

The State Department, if it has taken this step, gives us all a clue to the history of the future. History, according to the historians, is something fixed and definite; we learn more facts, but we are bound by what actually happened. The new theory is that history has to be rewritten in accordance with our own needs. If we have to create "a usable past," we might as well create a false one, provided the falsehood suits our purpose better than the truth.

• • •

No United States

For the purposes of a celebration (especially of the true-calling Washington) the surrender at Yorktown is a mistake. Out, therefore, it goes. Cornwallis did not surrender and the United States never existed.

The joke in all this is that the British are not sensitive about the Revolutionary War. They regret their defeat because they think that the world would have been a better place if England and America had remained one; but they are eternally grateful to Washington for having carried to success the war which taught them how to deal with a colonial empire.

• • •

Who Burned Washington?

As for our other little war with them, the English are in a state of beautiful unconsciousness. The American writer, Margaret Wilson, married to an Englishman, tells of alluding to the War of 1812 and discovering that her English friends never heard of it. Even the text books merely refer to it as a tiny episode in the Napoleonic wars. Finally, in despair, she asked an Englishman if he had never heard of the British burning Washington.

The Englishman laughed and oh-I-sayed several times and finally, assured that Miss Wilson was serious, said: "Oh, come. Joan of Arc, I admit, we did burn. But George Washington—my, that's too thick."

Instead of the surrender at Yorktown, there will be a "very beautiful parade." As part of it I suggest George Washington, cherry tree and all—labeled "The Little Liar."

"I shee by the crystal that your gonna cross water."

4 Negresses

—By C. H. Towne—

PLEASE, I BEG OF YOU, do not be misled by the title of one of the most engrossing books of the season—"Four Handsome Negresses." For this is not a tale of Harlem. It is in no sense a study of the race problem.

It is simply a beautifully written tale of old Portuguese mariners who, sailing to the African coast in the far-gone age of exploration, take aboard four young natives and fetch them back to so-called civilization, investing them with the perquisites proper to the occasion. It is written by a certain H. Hermekin Baptist, which of course is a nom de guerre; and the book is brought out by those energetic young publishers, Jonathan Cape and Harrison Smith. It makes royal reading.

It sweeps along at a dynamic pace. The style is at once august and popular—a rare combination. I do not know who Baptist may be; but I am certain that he (or she) writes exquisite prose. The words fall like pearls on each page, and drip with beauty.

• • •

There are lovely descriptions of drowsy African villages—the dark continent that remained dumb and placid until the invasion of Europeans. The scene where the sailors and priests and poets come to steal the four women from their home is placed before us with delicate art.

• • •

It is sumptuous and exotic. The hot breath of Africa pours out of its passionate pages, and a deep, slow langour envelops you as you read it. At moments it is like a drug, an anodyne, the dreams that must come with jungle fever. It may be that it is a satire on our naive civilization. For the author says, at the end:

"Poet, mariner, soldier—all are spied upon by yellow men in the deep, tranquil bush. With the fierce inquiring simplicity of animals they watch, between the still unborn curtains of savage peace, the childish activities, the fantastic garb, the strange haste of white men. White men, where is Peace?"

• • •

If you like prose that takes on the color and tone of poetry, by all means read this unusual book.

Ballade of Wonders

If some famed sage of long ago
A new invention might exhume
And dower with life, how dazed he'd grow
At mysteries which we consume
Without surprise, since science's loom
Spins now in such amazing way
That simple seem as spring's perfume
The magic wonders of today.

Perchance old tales that charmed youth so
Of witches sailing on a broom
Or wizards who caused light to glow
From haunted closets dark with gloom,
Or made one hear wild breakers boom
Inland, beyond their utmost spray—
Were myths of progress to foredoom
The magic wonders of today.

Who'd once have dreamt that force could flow
From air that might great rocks exhume,
Or that the power of radio
Could keep alive one's accents whom
Death held imprisoned in a tomb,
Or films might for one's heirs portray—
Though at our ignorance they'd fume!—
The magic wonders of today.

L'Envoi.

Hence, reverent, our minds make room
For each unguessed, new marvel's sway,
As hour by hour, diviner bloom
The magic wonders of today!

—Charlotte Becker.

A Lady's Legs

—By Agnes Smith—

AT THIS UNREASONABLE SEASON of the year women may—and do—wear anything they please. Pyjamas, for instance. Now pyjamas are all right if they are worn as—and when—they should be worn. Otherwise they cease to be pyjamas, with the foreign spelling and the foreign implication, and become pajamas, which are something else again.

On the beach, for instance, they fit in perfectly; or in the garden or on the verandah. I think they must have been designed for women to wear while lounging in long, low chairs.

But Old Mother Nature never intended women to wear them for walking, or motoring, or dancing, or dining. Women, on vacations, who wear them on marketing expeditions along Main Street offend the artistic sensibilities of even the grocery clerks. To persons with blunt, realistic minds, pyjamas are just pajamas.

It isn't a question of modesty and it isn't entirely a question of appearance; it's the sound of the word.

• • •

Over 135?—Don't!

PERSONALLY, I do not think that a woman who weighs more than one hundred and thirty-five pounds should wear pyjamas at all. This isn't the fault of the pyjamas; the blame rests with the woman who allows herself to weigh more than one hundred and thirty-five pounds.

Trousers, be they ever so wide, so draped, so concealed, are only for the slender. It's a bitter, bitter truth. Anyway, the Summer dresses with old-fashioned skirts are really very pretty, aren't they?

But those brimless hats that expose not only your forehead and your hair but every wrinkle on your face! Any woman over thirty who wears one is flying in the face of Providence. She is, as it were, facing her enemies with a strong, glaring light playing steadily on her face.

• • •

Young girls can wear them, gayly, thoughtlessly and successfully. But put a small knitted hat, about the size of a wash cloth, on a plump-ish lady of 40 and you are doing something downright cruel.

The villainous little hat announces to the world that the woman is 47, if she is a day; that her hair has been touched up; that she is wearing the wrong shade of rouge; that her powder has been put on unevenly; that she hasn't had enough sleep in weeks; that she looks worried; and that very likely her husband is going to leave her.

And yet women, against the heartfelt advice of their millinery saleswomen, buy these tantalizing little hats, wear them—and laugh at Queen Mary!

• • •

Wear Your Stockings

I wish that there were an old Blue Law somewhere in the statute books absolutely forbidding women to appear on the streets without stockings. The sight of girls on the avenue with no stockings sets my teeth on edge. The very thought of putting bare feet into leather shoes gives me the creeps.

Many women deceive themselves when they think that they have pretty legs; it is really only their stockings that are pretty. When a woman discards her stockings and confidently rushes into public in bare legs, she does herself a bad turn. Stockings are beautiful and kind and flattering.

Again it isn't a question of modesty. In fact, stockings are seductive and a little naughty. Men can forgive a woman a second-rate gown and a not-so-good hat if her stockings and shoes are attractive.

• • •

As for the morals of leaving off your stockings, I think that only young and very innocent girls go bare-legged in public. Women who are not so guileless know that when a man falls seriously and dangerously in love, he stops sending orchids and buys, instead, lavish gifts of stockings.

Gloves and Waves

TO BE constructive about the summer fashions, I am glad to see the return of gloves. I hope they continue to be important.

Not so long ago much of the etiquette of dress centered on gloves. For instance, there was a heart-breaking rule that one must always wear a brand new pair of long gloves at any formal evening party. Cleaning spoiled the luster of the fine kid finish and left an evil odor. Cleaned gloves were put aside for less grand occasions—Sunday night concerts, for example.

Gloves are now worn very loose and women go about looking as though they had put on house mitts for dusting and forgotten to take them off.

Next winter, fashions being what they are, gloves will probably be too tight and the glove button hook needed to make a five and a half glove meet over a six and a half hand, will again come into use.

• • •

To conclude this inexpert and impertinent review of summer fashions, I have only one more thing to say.

Any woman, with hopelessly straight hair, who thinks that she can go through the summer without a permanent wave is playing with fire, toying with her future and asking for trouble.

TODAY'S TABLE « Martha Tells of Floor Care » By Martha Lee

JAPANESE CRAB SALAD LOAF IS FIT FOR QUEEN

Chopped cabbage and celery combine with Japanese crab meat in delicious salad.

Whipped cream is added to salad dressing in which a little gelatine is used.

Combine the mixtures, chill and unmold at meal time. It is truly a delicious dish

All Floors Need Proper Care

FROM MARTHA LEE'S MONDAY MORNING BROADCAST OVER STATION WAAB

Because we try to make this department helpful in all the phases of homemaking, let's talk today about how to take care of our polished floors with the least amount of time and strength. I was reminded that a talk of this kind was due when I looked at my own floors this morning and realized that they needed waxing badly, and that sand from bathing suits had been so ground in at one place that refinishing will be necessary.

Firstly, let's remember that our floor cleaning cloths are a serious fire hazard and should be kept, when not in use, in a closed metal or earthenware container.

Next, let's remember that water and soap should be used very sparingly on oiled floors. These should be swept with a soft brush and dusted with an oiled cloth or mop. Occasionally they do need a more thorough cleaning with a cloth wrung out of warm soapy water, followed by a polishing with a cloth moistened with kerosene or a good floor oil.

FOR PAINTED FLOORS

Painted floors should also be swept with a soft brush and dusted with a dry oiled mop, and about once a week they should be wiped or mopped with a wet cloth and rubbed with an oiled cloth or mop. Scrubbing with strong soap or alkali will soon ruin a painted floor, and letting water stay on is also injurious.

Varnished floors should be swept with a soft brush, a mop or a broom covered with a cotton flannel bag and then rubbed with a cloth or mop slightly moistened with floor oil or kerosene. The oil gradually dries out of varnish after it has been applied to wood and unless it is restored by an occasional rub with an oiled cloth, the varnish gets dry and brittle. Only use enough oil to moisten the mop or cloth, for any surplus oil on the surface will catch dust and darken the wood.

If you want to make your own floor oil at home, mix 1 part of boiled linseed oil with 3 parts of turpentine. Or 1 part of light motor oil combined with 4 parts of kerosene.

And be sure it is the light oil and not the heavy oil with the dark sediment.

No water should be used on varnished floors if you wish them to retain their color and lustre. If they're very dirty, wipe them with a cloth or mop wrung out of warm soapy water, if you must, but wipe dry at once and polish with an oiled cloth or mop.

Faithfully yours,

Martha Lee

Timely Tip For Tea Drinkers

When grandmother brewed tea, oh lady! that was tea. No pale, weak drink would she produce, but tea strong enough to "hold a teaspoon straight in the cup!" But all too often her brew was strong and bitter and required a liberal amount of sugar and milk to make it palatable for all but the hardended tea-bound.

How different today. Any woman who enjoys a cup of tea appreciates strength and body—substantiality—a drink that will refresh after hours of shoping, that will support you through the late afternoon just before dinner. But it can be delicate and fragrant, too, and still have that depth of flavor and aroma characteristic of India tea that you have been looking for in your afternoon rest period.

That's why India tea is so popular with those who know good tea. That's why hotels and restaurants, famous railroad and steamship lines have made India tea available to their "choicest" patrons.

A package costs no more than you pay for other tea, and one cup of India tea will reveal new high peaks in tea enjoyment.

SCALP LIFTERS AFTER MOSES

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Insurgencine war is threatening Republican control of the next Senate and the House.

Republicans have a slender plurality of one in the Senate and the Democrats are not eager to assume the responsibility organization of this independent branch entails.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire, the president pro tempore, is the target of some of the disgruntled Republican independents, who hold the balance of power in the next Senate and House. They have vowed that his scalp is to be removed.

The Democrats will vote as a unit for their nominees, and they expect the Republicans to do likewise. But there are rumors that Senator Nye of North Dakota, and others would do away with Senator Moses and vote, instead, for the Democratic nominee for President pro tempore—Senator Pittman of Nevada.

Moses has sent out word that he and his friends will retaliate by voting to make Democrats chairmen of committees headed by the Insurgents who vote against him.

Mother of Two Ends Life

Lawrence, July 27—Mrs. Alfia Buonoccorsi, 45, of 170 Union st., widow and the mother of two children died at the General Hospital here yesterday from the effects of drinking a large quantity of poison Saturday.

Tasty Loaf for the Summer

Let's get together, girls, and make a Crab Salad Loaf, today. I can't think of anything cooler and yet deliciously satisfying, for a warm weather dish, whether you serve it for luncheon as a main dish for a cold supper or porch party. First, we'll open a can of our favorite Japanese crabmeat, remove the spines and break up the crabmeat. Now chop 1 cup of crisp celery and 1 cup of young, tender, crisp cabbage. Whip 1 cup of cream and add ½ cup of mayonnaise blended with 1 tbsp. of gelatine which has been dissolved over hot water. Combine these mixtures and place the salad in a wet ring mold or individual molds or your favorite bread pan and chill thoroughly. Serve on lettuce leaves.

I'm particular when I go shopping for canned crabmeat because I want to be sure that I won't get just a collection of little stringy, like large, firm pieces of clean, beautiful, tender, red crabmeat of delicious flavor. And that's why I ask for the Japanese crabmeat that you see in the illustration and which you will find in our food cabinets of the Martha Lee Cooking School.

These Japanese crabs are caught in the cold depths of semi-Arctic seas, free from germs of any kind and they grow to an enormous size. They are packed within a few hours of the time they are caught and the cans are lacquered inside and lined with special parchment paper to keep the crabmeat absolutely pure and healthful. Crabmeat, we know, is not only tasty and wholesome but contains iodine and other very valuable elements. Don't throw away the liquid in the can. It's the fish protein which is very valuable.

The salad dressing the young lady has chosen is made of sugar and spice and everything that's nice—and of the best quality—the best of cane sugar, fruit vinegar, fresh eggs, best salad oil, spices from Austria, mustard from England, salt from Michigan and best of rare spices from the Orient, which are the secret of this best mayonnaise's tasty, tangy, inimitable flavor.

Today, in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads, you will find scores of opportunities for profitable investment.

Dieting Fads Are Assailed

G. H. Heineman, physical director of the largest gymnastic club in the United States, is outspoken in his condemnation of the fads which govern the diets of a large proportion of women.

"The physical condition of a great majority of the girls who are struggling to attain a boyish figure at any price is proof that you can't build a strong, healthy body without good, energizing food," he says. "Their lack of stamina makes them susceptible to sickness and fatigue, and it's a handicap to them in everything they do.

"They deprive themselves of sugar or some of the other carbohydrates in an effort to cut down on their daily consumption of calories, and what's the result?

"Take sugar as an example. When they eliminate sugar and sweets, they rob themselves of one of the most valuable of all the sources of human energy, and the joke of it is that sugar and sweets are no more fattening than any one of a score of other foods.

"If women would forget their dieting fads they'd not only be healthier and stronger, but a whole lot more attractive to look at. So don't know what's responsible for the present vogue of the excessively slender feminine figure, but speaking as a mere man, my platform is more curves and fewer angles, and if you polled my own sex, I think you'd find the great majority agree with me."

Tasty Sandwich

Whole wheat bread Lettuce
Butter Bananas
Peanut butter

Spread alternate slices of bread with creamed butter and with peanut butter. On each of the latter slices place a leaf of crisp lettuce, or shredded lettuce, and cover with sliced bananas. Cover with the buttered slices of bread.

Whole Wheat Pastry

Sift 1 2-3 cups whole wheat flour and ¼ tsp. salt together and cut in ½ cup shortening. Add ice water until the proper consistency to roll, using as little as possible and handling as lightly as can be. Makes crust for one large pie.

Rule One:
For making Iced Tea!

Use India Tea . . . for India Tea responds to icing with a drink of rare richness. Chilling never weakens its flavor.

Some teas become tasteless when iced. Not India Tea! It gives your drink the strength and tangy taste that you like. It makes a better iced tea! Be sure to get genuine India Tea. Look for the Map trademark (shown below) on packages of tea you buy.

INDIA TEA TEA

It's Smart to be HEALTHY

The extra energy you need for a smashing game is stored in every golden loaf of—

GENTLES
Swedish Health
BREAD

The bread that regulates the system naturally

RUDY VALLEE'S OWN STORY OF HIS ROMANCE

Continued from First Page

devoted to her, would like to see her at least once a year. This has all been arranged between us. So, those of you who are interested enough to read this story will know that these temporary separations, accompanied as they may be by all sorts of rumors, will not be "marital rifts." And, as for seeking other female companionships, that is a point I shall discuss later in these articles.

JOINED BY FATE

Of course, our marriage has been subject to the askant nods of skeptics.

Already they are saying:

"It won't last."

"Rudy is too fickle."

"The vagabond lover will go vagabonding in love."

"In the business he's in, he has too many temptations."

"He'll never be satisfied with one girl."

And some newspapers are even publishing horoscopes designed to show that Fay and I are ill-mated, and that our marriage is doomed to failure. Fortunately, we have no faith in astrology. Otherwise, we might be disturbed.

But we do have faith in the FATE that drew us together—almost miraculously. That, however, is another part of the story, which will be told later.

Any doubt that may be entertained for the success of our marriage should come, not from the possible effect of astrological influences, but from the influence of ordinary human traits and the interplay of human emotions.

Who can tell what that subtle and ungovernable interplay will bring?

Both of us are highly emotional. We must be on our guard. Of course there are elements of danger. There are elements of danger in every marriage.

That is what keeps romance alive!

We are not so foolish as to set our marriage up as the perfect and immutable union. We went into this thing with our eyes open. We married for certain qualities we found in each other and which I shall explain later, but we did not, in dramatic fashion, vow eternal love, although we are confident it will be.

I AM ROMANTIC

I can feel that some of my readers are being shocked by this statement—those of you who picture me as a super-romantic Romeo. But please do not jump to conclusions before I have had a chance to explain.

I AM romantic. Romance to me is an essential part of my being. The statements above may sound as if I were wonfully matter of fact, but it isn't true. I believe that our feelings toward each other represent the height of romance.

We realize that there is an element of danger in all love and marriage. That's where the romance comes in. I am inspired to use all the powers I may have of romantic fervor to keep her constantly in love with me; and she feels the same way.

Of course, that does not mean that we are in any way afraid of our love. Each of us is confident of holding the love of the other, but we shall take no risks of indifference and apathy. That is the way, we believe to encompass a love that will resist every strain, that will hold true under every circumstance. We like to think that our love inspires a loyalty which will defy any misfortune. And our lives now are dedicated to a constant renewal of our inspiration.

That, to my mind, is not only the height of romance, but also the height of adventurous living. It may be called "the romance of sensible persons who look the facts squarely in the face, and who really give some thought to the situation."

WAY TO HAPPINESS

In former days, in the so-called great romantic periods of the world, marriage was often the tomb of love. The man swore undying love to his "ladye faire" and they were married. But marriage was the finality of romance. It was almost inescapable. There was no necessity for constant renewal of the flame of love. Romantic fervor was confined to courtship, and melted into hum-drum matter-of-factness in marriage. Had Romeo and Juliet lived, there might have been a different story to tell.

So, Fay and I prefer "romance that moves and lives," romance which extends through marriage, and marriage which keeps romance alive. We must always be on the alert to give our best, and in that way lies happiness.

I am explaining these things because we have found that there has been a rather large public interest in our marriage. We appreciate that interest immensely. Since our wedding I have had all sorts of questions asked me about the marriage, about Fay and myself, and about love and marriage in general, so I am taking the opportunity of answering them in this series of articles, not that my opinions are of any importance, but perhaps they will satisfy the curiosity of my friends all over the country.

It is only natural that people should be curious abot public figures, and I think public figures should make some attempt to satisfy that curiousity. So, I shall do my best to answer the questions straight forwardly in subsequent chapters.

(Copyright, 1931)

(Just as he finished this chapter, Rudy Vallee received news of his mother's serious illness. He rushed to her by airplane, and remained at her bedside until she died. In tomorrow's chapter he gives an intimate picture of her last moments.)

Drowned in Lake

Harold Snyder, 15, of 52 Spencer st., Dorchester, who was drowned while swimming in Mountain Lake at Groton. His body was sent to Boston.

KLAN LEADERS IN NEW DRIVE

Continued from First Page

rganization meeting is scheduled for the end of this week in Townsend, scene of the first national gathering.

CAME FRO MFAR STATES

The 2000 or more members of the hooded order who listened to Evans' call to arms were no ordinary klansmen. The vari-colored capes they wore indicated that they were high functionaries of the order, and the plates on their cars showed that they came as far as Colorado in the West and Florida in the South.

Save for the states immediately bordering Massachusetts, the home state of the imperial wizard, Georgia, sent the heaviest delegation.

From the platform, Wizard Evans exhorted his followers to shake off their lukewarm attitude and "raise the fiery cross over our enemies."

"The same forces we battled to defeat in 1927 and 1928 are preparing another assault upon American liberty," the imperial wizard declared, according to an auditor. "This country is once more in danger. Let us rise, klansmen, and throw our united strength into the fight for the right."

The Bayberry Hill assembly was the first reported in the nation since the Klan went into a decline.

SELECTMEN ALLOW MEETING

The meeting had the sanction of the Board of Selectmen of the town of Townsend, which embraces Bayberry Hill.

According to Chief of Police Harry C. Feich, he was ordered to furnish a police guard by Frederick J. Piper, chairman of the board of selectmen.

GAUTHIER CASE SUSPECT HELD

Fall River, July 27—Peter H. Vaillaincourt, whose face rests principally in two old shoes, pleaded not guilty in district court to a charge of strangling Miss Marianne Gauthier, 44, in the home of William H. McBride.

The body of Miss Gauthier, housekeeper for McBride, was found between two mattresses in the evening of June 15.

Vaillaincourt's arrest came after a pair of worn shoes, found beside the murdered woman's bed, were said to belong to him. They had been exchanged for a new pair of McBride's. They are now at the State House in Boston, where tests will be made to identify the wearer.

Doctors Join in Fight Against Paralysis

New York, July 27 (AP)—Health authorities of New York city and state and of New Jersey and Connecticut met today to fix plans for their fight against the spread of infantile paralysis.

Over the week-end 89 new cases were reported in New York city, 69 in Brooklyn, nine in Manhattan, four in Queens, four in Richmond, and three in the Bronx. The total since Jan. 1 was brought to 408.

WHO IS THIS?

Send us the correct answer and receive FREE a "Drawlet" Pen or a Mephisto sketch pencil.

Illustrated through courtesy of the Boston American.

Complete line of foreign and domestic artist materials, supplies and equipment.

DRAWING and ETCHING MATERIAL | BLUEPRINTING and PHOTOSTATING SERVICE

B. L. Makepeace, Inc.

Three Convenient Locations

462 Boylston.... 54 High

337 Washington Street, Boston

'SLUMP NEARLY OVER'—KLEIN

Washington, July 7 (AP)—Julius Klein, Asst. Sec. of Commerce, believes the United States is climbing out of the depression and making progress toward preventing future business declines.

"We are, obviously, coming out of the depression now," Dr. Klein said in a radio address, "and at the same time we are seeing the basis laid for an enduring, stable prosperity that will resist another unbalance."

Stressing the need for accurate statistics and their correct interpretation, he said:

"Better knowledge as to all phases of the intricate operation of industry, wider distribution of ascertained facts, and institution of effective research into economic factors will make for business stability."

DRY LEAGUE FOR HOOVER IN '32

Shelby, Mich., July 27 (AP)—The last six months have seen more stringent enforcement of prohibition than at any time within six years, F. Scott McBride, national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said in a statement today endorsing teh administration of President Hoover.

The dry leader is conferring with state prohibition chieftains at his summer cottage at Little Point Sable on Lake Michigan, outlining work of his organization for next year in congressional and the presidential campaigns.

"President Hoover is making an honest effort to have prohibition enforced and is succeeding to a degree that is disconcerting to the wets," McBride said. "President Hoover is acceptable to the league as a candidate for re-election."

Dr. McBride declared his organization could not support Franklin D. Roosevelt, Alfred Smith or Owen D. Young for the Democratic nomination.

U. S. Explorers Find Lost Village and 7 Indian Volcanoes

New York, July 27 (AP)—The Shippee-Johnson expedition to Peru, composed of five young New Jersey aviators, reported by cable to New York agents today that it had discovered another of the "forgotten" villages of the "lost" Colca Valley.

The expendition is headed by Robert Shippee, 20, Red Bank flier, and George R. Johnson, 20, of Monmouth Beach. Shippee reports also discovery of a silver-trimmed equestrian statue in Madrigal, in the Andes, one of the "lost" villages.

PRIESTS CAN FIX OWN STATUS

Mexico City, July 27 (AP)—Catholic priests in the State of Vera Cruz were free today to decide whether to turn their church property over to the state or continue their religious offices in defiance of Gov. Adalberto Tejeda and the recently enacted state religious law.

Reports have reached here from Jalapa, capital of the state, of a riot yesterday in which several persons were injured and of a reputed attempt on the life of the vicar-general, Pedro Castillo y Landa. The vicar-general escaped over a back fence and is hiding.

In Jalapa four churches were damaged by fire Saturday set by mobs.

Governor Tejeda was shot through the ear by a young man.

Fr. Dario Acosta, who was shot to death in Vera Cruz Saturday, was buried yesterday.

R. I. BANK CLERK HELD IN $10,000

Providence, July 27 (AP)—William F. Healey, former discount clerk and note teller of the Exchange branch, Industrial Trust Co. here, was arraigned before Judge Letts in federal court today, charged with embezzling and misapplying $108,092 of the bank's funds. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $10,000 bail.

Although the indictment places the sum misapplied at more than $100,000, the actual shortage, through manipulation of checks, was $45,000 and full restitution to the bank has been made.

U. S. Tax Hearing Ends Today

Hearing on appeal of B. F. Sturtevant Co., Hyde Park, from taxes levied on manufactured apparatus, begun before the Federal Tax Appeals Board last Wednesday, is expected to end late today.

75¢ For Cleansing and Pressing Any Garment

Cash and Carry

Spots—dirt and perspiration odors removed and everything made to look as spic and span as though just received from the store. We do it quickly, too!

"There's a HOWARD SHOP Around the Corner"

Howard Inc CLEANERS

Boston Garrison 8200

GOOD..they've got to be good!

"ROUND THE CORNER" 110,108 DRUGGISTS AND PHARMACISTS (IN THE U. S. A.) stand ready to help you in a hundred ways!

If you can't find it in a drugstore, you kick! And that goes for almost anything. What a bother life would be without the corner druggist. Sick or well, you count on him—and when he doesn't come through, that's NEWS!

No purer cigarette can be made!

Worth every cent and every thought it costs—PURITY.

Everything that goes into the making of Chesterfield cigarettes MUST be pure. No "maybe's" will pass muster here. Tobaccos—the mildest, ripest and purest money can buy. Paper—the purest made.

And our factories? The last word in machine equipment, light and sanitation. Models of cleanliness. The air throughout is changed every 4½ minutes.

No purer, milder, better-tasting cigarette than Chesterfield can be made. We challenge the world to produce a better smoke!

Chesterfield

THAT GOOD CIGARETTE—THEY SATISFY

© 1931, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

GREATER BOSTON NEWS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

BOSTON, MONDAY, JULY 27, 1931

SECOND SECTION

THIS IS LIFE

HEYWOOD BROUN ON THE STAGE, OR AUTHORS AND LITERATURE

By ROBERT E. ROGERS

I SHOULD HAVE LIKED to see Heywood Broun's theatrical venture, "Shoot the Works," which opened in New York Wednesday evening. I say "should have liked" because from all the press accounts the show seems likely not to last until I get down to New York. I get down to New York about once in 10 years, which ought to give the piece a reasonably long run. But the critics, apparently, do not give "Shoot the Works" even that long. They advise people to buy tickets for the good of the cause—and to give them away.

ROBERT E. ROGERS

The cause is a good cause. Mr. Broun promoted his revue to give work to a group of actors who need work and, probably, deserve work. His mistake seems to have been his generous determination to appear in person throughout the entertainment. And three hours of personal appearance of Mr. Broun seems to have been more than enough—quite a bit more.

I am interested to see how the lure of the stage is the undoing of so many of our modern men of letters. It is not absolutely a new racket by any means, but it is becoming epidemic.

* * *

Dickens Not Like Other Authors

There was a time when a reputable man of letters would not touch the stage with a ten-foot pole, except as the author of something in five acts and blank verse. Even old Wordsworth succumbed to that lure, and Longfellow, and Julia Ward Howe, and others of our chastest writers. But they stopped with the manscript. Robert Browning liked actors and had a yen for dramatic authorship, but he was too respectable to carry it very far. Also, his plays wouldn't act.

Charles Dickens, however, loved grease paint. He was an ardent and unremitting amateur actor. He not only dramatized plays with Wilkie Collins, but he played in them himself. There is a drawing of him as Captain Bobadil in a forgotten Elizabethan piece, in which character he acquitted himself mightily. And he loved his public appearances in his readings more than any other aspect of his fame. He even put on rouge for the lecture platform.

But Dickens was considered not altogether a gentleman. The Victorians thought him something of a bounder. Like Disraeli, his waistcoats were too bright and his jewelry too profuse. Something tells us that he would have fitted admirably on the new Broadway, the literary Broadway gone stage-struck. He would have made a good humorous columnist. "Sketches by Boz" are in the right O. O. McIntyre tradition.

* * *

Stage Is Respectable Now

But the stage is respectable now—or was before the literary playboys took to it. In what earlier age would the widow of a former President of the United States, even though now happily married again, have thought it compatible with her dignity to go a-trouping, even if the trouping were only the harmless amateur theatricals that young college folk in good society affect? What a wide historical gulf yawns between this news and the scandal caused by the late Nero Ahenobarbus, Caesar, when he shocked the old families of Rome by appearing publicly, miming and dancing, at the Roman equivalent of a Follies show.

But we were talking of literary men!

You may write it on his tombstone, you may put it on his card,
That an author acting is an author marred.

Or so it would seem. Robert Benchley led the way some years ago when he delivered his famous monologue, "The Treasurer's Report," as a part of the proceedings of a musical show. It was undeniably funnier when properly delivered than it is in cold type, because Robert Benchley, in the old Dramatic Club days at Harvard, was one of the funniest comic actors I ever hope to see.

The germ got in his blood, likely, and he gave the disease to others of his ilk. (Earnest souls will write to me, protesting this use of "ilk," but I am like Eva Tanguay. The idiom is popularized, in spite of Lindley Murray and H. W. Fowler.)

Then Donald Ogden Stewart, whose "Parody Outline of History" and "Mr. and Mrs. Haddock Abroad" were really original and funny, took to writing plays and, worse, to acting in them. As an actor he is so-so, but we haven't read anything of his lately that measures up to his early work.

And then Christopher Morley, our only all-round, catch-as-catch-can poet, essayist, mystic, story-teller and man of letters in the English tradition, went mad over Hoboken and beer and melodrama. He wrote and adapted and produced and acted and carried on until the whirligig of taste left that venture flat. And now Heywood Broun, not content with running for Congress—surely as satisfying an outlet for latent exhibitionism as one would want—must attempt the three hours' traffic of the stage, with such a conscientious desire to give the playgoers their full money's worth of Mr. Broun that many of the critics have to repeat with Artemus Ward, "This is 2 much!"

* * *

Just Too Bad for Literature

I have in my library the first copy of the first issue of "The Atlantic Monthly." It contains, among other things, the first instalment of "The Autocrat," by Oliver Wendell Holmes; several poems by Emerson, including the marvelous "Daughters of Time, the Hypocritic Days"; Longfellow's "Santa Philomena," Lowell's "The Maple," and other contributions by Motley, Whittier, Harriet Beecher Stowe and Charles Eliot Norton.

Not a single contribution in that old Atlantic bears the author's name. All of them are anonymous—and immortal. And, so far as I know, no one of those writers ever acted at the old Boston Museum, or did a monologue, or a comic song, or a soft-shoe dance. They just simply went in for inhibition instead of exhibition—and wrote.

I wonder if that fact accounts for something which is beginning to bother me, that neither Benchley nor Stewart nor Morley nor Broun seems to be living up to the promise of his literary youth. It's lot of fun playing around in amateur theatricals at professional prices, if you do not have to make a living at it. But it seems to be bad for literature.

Possibly a return to the good old habit of literary anonymity would smarten up our young writers, make them depend once more on the quality of what they write, instead of upon their personal—I almost said sex—appeal.

Copyright, 1931, by the Boston Evening American.

"ESCAPES"

Every Woman Can Look Back Upon Such as These

DRAWN BY Nell Brinkley

A beautiful Spanish woman I know said, fluttering immense dark eyes, "I falle in loave with a beootiiool AHmerrrreecan cowboy wance when I was seexteen, BOT—I mathe my ES-cape."

The Gloriettes and Mary-Anns get out either their actual or their memory portraits and snap-shots sometimes, and marvel upon their escapes. Wonder at their former intensities. Smile upon their admirations, their anxieties, their rapt interest in the looks, the conversation, the doings, of these then-romantic and now impossible young men of their 'teens. "COULD I have ever worried," says Gloriette, "over whether that boy with the snub nose and the big teeth would appear at the gate on a certain night?" "COULD I," chimes Mary-Ann, "have watched for the post-man with a stopped heart, with a special delivery from that person with a flat face, fat nose and an ego to match?" A-well-a-day!

What woman is there who does not ponder upon that stranger who was herself a while ago? And how she could care for some one who may closely approach a caricature to her now? The man she loves now and has married may be bald on top and fat, too—but he doesn't look like THAT—at least not to her.

Perhaps the boys get out their memory albums, too, and shake their heads over your braids and shirt-waists and sailor-hats, and think, "What was it I adored?" "Was this the face, the freckled little face, that launched a thousand ships of fancy for me?"

Some of our portraits of callow romance hung in the long corridor we can turn and look back through, are smiled at—but not ridiculed. Others are frankly something to feel a bit of shamed relief over, shamed because there was that in us that could have felt sentimental over some one unworthy or unmanly, relieved because of our good fortune to escape alliance with such. Some we still have an amused tenderness for, some nothing but aversion and a song in the heart that he isn't our's NOW!.

"My childhood sweetheart!" Some women have married their—and are in Reno after thirty years. He has turned out to be the young man they should have escaped, and looked back upon. Some still list his picture mildly, remember him with sentiment, and say, "he was a dear." Some, when they come upon him, look upon him with closed horrified eyes and say, "GOOD HEAVENS!"

Strange to think, too, that what is your escape may now be some woman's beloved and admired.

NELL BRINKLEY.

POLICE DOUBT VAUGHAN FOUND

Police today are awaiting word from Long Beach, Miss., on the identification of a man there, believed to be Guy L. Vaughan, missing receiver of five defunct banks and wanted here for larceny.

A description of the missing man has been wired to the Mississippi town by police and a photograph and more detailed description has been sent by air mail. Police doubt that the man in Mississippi is Vaughan, but are following every clue.

The man in question, said to be accompanied by a young woman of about 25, stopped at the tourist camp owned by W. H. Grove and has been there since. Grove became suspicious of him when he told different stories about his affairs.

Vaughan has been missing since March 26 when he dropped from sight in Washington. A municipal court warrant here charges him with larceny of $20,600 and he has also been indicted for the Suffolk and Middlesex grand juries for larcenies from the banks of which he was receiver. The shortages total almost $200,000.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a kitchenette apartment and the best ones advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

Bad Rum Fatal

John Kingston, 45, of Shawmut ave., South End, is dead as a result of drinking poison liquor at a party yesterday. A second man, George Nolan, is dying

3-DAY DRINKER DIES OF POISON

With one dead after a three-day drinking party in the South End, police today started a search for other members of the party in belief that there might be more casualties.

The dead man was John Kingston, 45, of Shawmut ave., South End. He died early today at City hospital. Physicians saved two brothers, William and George Nolan, at whose home in Union Park the party was held.

William Nolan, 60, and George, 55, told police that during the party other men participated, and police believe some of these may have suffered ill effects.

Two Chinese Fined $25 Each in Raid

Two Chinese, seized in a narcotic raid on a South End room early Sunday, today were fined $25 each by Judge James H. Devlin in municipal court for illegal possession of 100 grains of morphine. The men arrested were Men Shoe, in whose Beach st. room the drug was seized, and Wee Yong of Oxford st.

Man Drops Dead at Beach

Patrick J. Neary, 54, of 205 Park ave., Worcester, dropped dead from a heart attack while walking on Park ave., Nantasket, yesterday.

CARDINAL ACTS IN WILL CASE

Cardinal O'Connell, today filed a petition in Middlesex Probate court, through his attorney asking for the allowance of the will of Humphrey O'Sullivan, millionaire rubber heel manufacturer of Lowell, who left an estates worth several millions, to Catholic charities. The cardinal was named executor and trustees.

Jeremiah O'Sullivan, a Lowell attorney, representing several one of the many heirs-at-law of the deceased, none of whom was mentioned in the will, will tomorrow ask Judge Bean to appoint him as special administrator of his uncle's estate, he said today.

O'Sullivan was one of the foremost Catholic laymen in the country. He was a childless widower.

News in Want Ads

If you're planning to build or make alterations, you will be interested to know that prices on lumber and other equipment are from 15 to 25 per cent lower than for the past ten years. A Medford concern offers some interesting bargains in their announcement in the classified section.

TODAY'S WANT ADS

After Divorce

Mrs. Marion Robinson Mack, who will sign a divorce complaint against her famous black-faced comedian of the Moran and Mack team. (International Newsreel photo.)

COFFEY LATE IN NEAR-DEFAULT

Former Rep. James S. Coffey arrived 20 minutes late in East Boston Court today to answer police charges.

He was arrested Saturday night after flaunting a printed slip accusing East Boston police of selling liquor and the court of "fine" cases at Day sq. He was charged with sauntering, loitering and carrying a banner without permit.

"Why are you late?" asked Judge Joseph H. Barnes, who had defaulted Coffey.

"A bad case of cramps, Your Honor," was the reply.

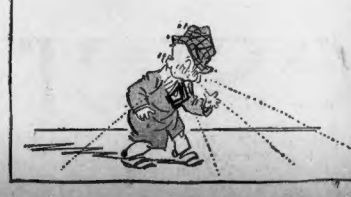
Judge Barnes removed the default and continued the case for a week after Coffey had pleaded not guilty.

Coffey said his tirade was caused by the closing of a war "era" speakeasy three weeks ago and police failure to act for convictions of alien lawbreakers.

Selling Rum to Police Costs $100

Carl Myatt of Station st., Brighton, made the grave mistake of selling a pint of alcohol to a policeman for $2.50. Today in Quincy court he was fined $100. He was also found guilty of drunkenness and fined $15. Myatt was arrested Saturday by metropolitan police.

SKIPPY



A Matchless Description

By Percy Crosby

I WAS SENT TO MATCH A PIECE OF RIBBON AN' I LOST IT, BUT IT WAS ABOUT AS LONG AS YA FOOT
--IT WAS A SORT OF A BLUISH RED.
7-27
© 1931 Percy L. Crosby, Great Britain rights reserved. King Features Syndicate, Inc.

DAILY TRUE STORY
FOR BETTER OR FOR WORSE

ENRAGED FATHER HALTS MAISIE'S WEDDING

"DO YOU TAKE THIS WOMAN—"

There was a shout! A door slammed behind the minister's back. A heavy grey-haired man panting breathlessley said "Stop!" The young couple who were about to become united stared horror-stricken at the girl's enraged father. Maisie, the girl, burst into angry tears. Morgan Thompson, her fiance, put an arm about her, belligerently facing the father.

"You can't go on with this," said Mr. Mansfield, facing the minister. "It's an elopement. Furthermore, my daughter is under age, doesn't know her own mind. She's throwing herself away on this worthless young—"

The young man stood before him. "Suppose you tell the minister any single definite thing you have against me before trying to blast my reputation. Besides, I want to tell you now that I am going to marry your daughter. We love one another. You may stop us temporarily. In exactly one week she will have reached eighteen, legally of age, then what will you do?

"I'll lock her up. I'll have her put in an asylum—before I'll consent to letting her marry you."

The minister folded up his book, waved the fighting people out of his rectory. There wasn't any use in fighting. Morgan knew. Law was on Maisie's father's side. He watched her being driven away in her father's car.

"Now then," said father Mansfield, when he had his daughter safely at home. "I'm going to prove to you that this young upstart, who hasn't been in town more than a month, is trying to marry you for your money. He's worthless.

Where's Diploma?
Is He a Real Lawyer?

"Why doesn't he admit to anyone but you that he's a lawyer? Where's his diploma, where's his practice?"

Maisie wept. "I don't know. He says he's working on a big case here in Clinton, one that he can't talk about."

"Quite right, he can't talk about it. First of all, he thinks he's making sure of his capital, his meal ticket for life, by marrying you."

Golden-haired Maisie suddenly stopped weeping. She faced her father squarely. "Anything else you say about him may be true, but that isn't. He didn't know who I was that first night at the Charity Ball. He thought I was a stenographer in your office, and that was how I happened to know you. Purposely, I didn't tell him my right name then or for a long time afterwards. I know he loves me for myself. He fell in love with me that night, and I with him. All your talk is silly, ridiculous. In due time we'll all find out what his real work is and until then—"

"Until then," said father, "you're going to be watched and chaperoned and guarded as you never have been in your life. Promise me this. Give me one week, that's all I ask to find out about Morgan Thompson, if that's his real name. I have very definite suspicions of the young man. Very definite ones. Will you give me the week?"

She smiled. "Surely, dad. I'll give you that, and if you haven't proved anything awful in that time am I free to marry Morgan with your consent?"

"Absolutely." They shook hands on it. Maisie wrote Morgan of her father's absurd request, that she refrain from seeing him for a week, ending the note: "And so in one week we can be married right here in Clinton with dad's full consent."

Six days passed uneventfully for Maisie, busily for Mr. Mansfield. Maisie smiled triumphantly at dinner on the sixth day. So did her father. She said:

"I know I haven't found a thing." He said. "Wait and see. My detectives are coming here this evening. They'll lay their preliminary findings before you and you can judge for yourself."

Maisie Turned Pale
The Detectives Came

Maisie turned pale. "You're just saying that, dad." But later the detectives arrived and went straight to their business.

"We followed young Thompson immediately after you told us, found that he went from his hotel to a place called the Bovers' Club, a gangster hangout. Furthermore, he seemed well known at that place. The tone of the gathering changed as I went inside. They obviously suspected my identity."

Here the second detective continued the story. "I have a friend who does undercover work for us, a half-and-half balance between us and the underworld. He followed up Thompson. His evidence is most damaging."

Maisie felt faint. She half heard the long description of well-known stock frauds and robberies that had been going on for months, damning all the merchants of Clinton. Her father, having retired, was not actively interested in them. She heard, swaying dizzily, that Thompson talked last night with crude men of a certain "job" to be perpetrated this very evening.

The talk was vague and shadowy, without damaging details. The detectives had warned as many local merchants as possible. The police were on the lookout all over town. Maisie heard no more. She had fainted.

When she came to, her father was holding her gently. "So you see, darling," he said tenderly, "your old father isn't so dumb, after all."

She couldn't sleep that night, thinking of the trap that Morgan might be falling into this very night. She imagined him caught with these men; in some horrible way, their catspaw, their dupe. He must be innocent.

She crept downstairs in the early dawn and telephoned Morgan's hotel. A sleepy voice informed her he had not been in all night. She went back to bed, aching, miserable.

In the morning, though she felt ill and weak, she dressed before her father was downstairs, and went outside for the morning paper. She carried it back with her, afraid to look at it. He might be in jail right now.

Father met her in the front hall and demanded the paper. She gave it to him, her hand trembling. He opened it. There was Morgan's picture on the front page. Maisie caught her breath. Then she read the headlines:

"Clever young criminal investigator ends Clinton's crime wave. Morgan Thompson prevents bank robbery and leads five local bandits into police net."

Together they read the paper, the account of Morgan's single-handed capture of the band of crooks. Morgan had come to Clinton at the request of local merchants, who knew of his ability at ferreting out crime. They were tired of the sluggish local police and detective methods. Morgan was a hero. Maisie looked at her father.

"He'll think now that I'm taking him just because he's—made good!"

"No he won't!" Mansfield said suddenly. He hurried out of the house. An hour later he returned with Morgan. "I told him," said Maisie's father, "just what an idiot I've been. I told him how you never doubted him for a minute, even when I produced my superb evidence. And he—"

There wasn't any need for further explanation. Morgan held her in his arms.

"That marriage license still is good," he said. "Let's use it right away."

All names of characters in this story are fictitious.

Elevated to Rush Removal of Rails

Car rails in Pleasant st., Malden will be removed starting Wednesday, the Elevated notified Mayor William A. Hastings of Malden today. Bus service has already been instituted. Double shifts of workers will be used to speed up the work and repaving of the street will be pushed forward. Pleasant st. is Malden's principal business street.

PHYSICIAN FIGHTS FOR HOME FROM SICKBED

COURT MEETS AT BEDSIDE OF LYNN DOCTOR

Dr. Rowley Battles to Regain His Home and Cash From Former Housekeeper

While his once estranged wife sought to comfort him, Dr. James C. Rowley, of Lynn testified from his sickbed today in a plea for the return of a bungalow and $331 in cash he said he gave a former housekeeper for seven years.

Dr. Rowley is bedridden in his apartment in Broad st., Lynn, cared for by Mrs. Rowley, who returned to him a few weeks ago.

In a halting speech that amounted to gasps, according to his auditors, Dr. Rowley said he told Mrs. Hannon to record the deed of the bungalow in Blair ave., Lynn, to herself.

REPORTERS BARRED

Reporters were barred from the unusual setting, but Atty. John M. Fogarty, sitting as master, and counsel for both parties issued a joint statement of the testimony.

"Mrs. Hannon and I sat in the bungalow last May, just before I was to be operated on," the doctor testified.

"I didn't think I was going to leave the hospital alive and I told her to take the deed of the house and record it in her name in Salem probate court.

"If I die, you sell the house, pay all hospital expenses, buy me a lot and pay all the burial expenses," I told her.

"Before she left I indorsed checks of $331 and told her to deposit them in her name and take care of the current hospital bills with it.

"She went at my suggestion to Atty. Frank Cashman to settle the details of the house.

"One night after the operation I called her to come to the hospital and she failed to arrive."

WOMEN FAIL TO MEET.

A prophesied dramatic meeting between Mrs. Dorothy Hannon, the housekeeper, and Mrs. Rowley failed to materialize when Mrs. Hannon failed to appear during the taking of the testimony.

Mrs. Hannon was made defendant in a bill in equity suit soon after Dr. Rowley became reconciled with his wife.

He said in the bill that he wants his wife to benefit from the $8000 bungalow and the cash in the event that his present abdominal illness proves fatal.

Returning to Lynn District court, Atty. Cashman was called as a witness by Atty. Edwin Coughlin, counsel for Dr. Rowley.

Atty. Cashman said he handled the deed, acting as a friend of both. He advised her to open an account with the checks, he testified.

Under questioning of Coughlin he told of Mrs. Hannon's alleged refusal to visit Dr. Rowley at the hospital on one occasion on the grounds that she had an appointment with a hairdresser.

Atty. Herbert Broyderick, counsel for Mrs. Hannon, announced at the hearing that he would call 26 witnesses when the defense is heard.

PHONE THIEVES ARE HUNTED

Eight crack patrolmen from the Back Bay station were assigned to plain clothes duty at 1 o'clock roll call this morning to work until 9 o'clock searching the Back Bay apartment house and business districts for looters of New England Telephone boxes.

Telephone box thieves have been busy for weeks, visiting a score of buildings during the course of a night and knocking the telephones off the wall or from the telephone booths and then either taking them to the roof or to the basement to smash them up and steal the money. The amounts taken from the boxes vary from $2 to $5.

As a result of these wholesale thefts Back Bay police were notified by Supt. Michael H. Crowley of police headquarters to use every available man to apprehend the thieves.

Trained Horses of 110th Cavalry Kick Up Dirt at Camp Devens

EDGAR H. NEEDHAM CHARLES NEEDHAM

Brothers follow Dad. When the 110th Cavalry with its wonderful horses arrived at Camp Devens for the annual summer encampment there was included in the contingent 1st Sergt. Edgar H. Needham, Jr., and his brother, Corp. Charles Needham. They are members of troop E. Their father has been a member of the same outfit for 24 years. (Staff photo.)

The 110th Cavalry, Massachusetts National Guard, composed entirely of Boston boys, get into Camp Devens in happy mood, where they will undergo intensive military training. The outfit is part of the Yankee Division, the balance of which returned from Devens Saturday. Company B of the cavalry is shown leaving North Station for the camp. (Staff photo.)

HE FLED SURGEON'S KNIFE

Anthony Ferris just simply vanished from the X-ray table at the City Hospital as he was about to undergo an operation for appendicitis. He was found hiding in a ward, and here he is after the operation. (Staff photo.)

False Alarms Lead to Jail Sentence

Thomas Flaherty, 29, of Dorchester ave., South Boston, charged with sounding false alarms, pleaded guilty before Judge William Day in South Boston court today and was sentenced to three months in the house of correction.

RECORD THRONG AT DEVENS

Camp Devens, July 27—One of the largest crowds ever to visit the Citizens' Military Training Camp came here Sunday to watch the 800 student soldiers stage a faultless regimental review and the presentation of 22 medals.

Earl S. Eaves of 17 Whitridge st., Dorchester, won the gold medal for being leader of the best drilled rifle company.

For being leader of the best drilled rifle patoon, Gordon M. Tice of 87 Walnut Hill rd., Chestnut Hill, was given a gold medal. George H. Nes of 31 Greenoch st., Dorchester, won the gold medal for having the best drilled squad, and Joseph T. Livoti, of 24 Lexington st., charlestown, was similarly honored for having the best drilled machine gun platoon.

Top honors for marksmanship went to Edward L. Devlin of 42 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, and John Sheehan of 68 Antwerp st., Brighton, who nudged the best automatic rifle shot. Donald H. M. Wells of Somerville won the silver medal for automatic rifle shooting.

All of these medals were provided for the camp. The army and navy League of Valor award was won by John A. Ryan of 33 Center st., North Easton.

ROXBURY OPENS OLD HOME WEEK

Roxbury's "Old Home Week" starts off with a flourish tonight with a banquet in Intercolonial Hall, and many prominent guests.

Those invited include Mayor Curley, former Gov. Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire, now a resident of Roxbury; James F. Flynn, 84, chief marshal of next Saturday's parade; Gov. Ely; President Gasper G. Bacon of the Senate and Congressman John W. McCormack.

It will usher in a week of festivities that will end next Saturday afternoon with the street parade.

The marchers will form in Calumet st. and parade through Sterling, Washington, Warren and Waverley sts., Blue Hill ave, Dudley st. and Harrison ave. to Eustis st., where they will disband.

The reviewing stand will be at Harrison ave. and Dudley st.

Veterans of Foreign Wars will preside the American Legion, preference having been decided by a flip of a coin. Also in line will be members of the Colored Knights of Pythias.

A feature of the week's celebration will be an outing at Pemberton on Wednesday, sponsored by the business men's organizations of the district.

On Thursday night there will be a bonfire at the William Eustis playground, Normik ave.

STAR IN REAL MOTHER ROLE

Shirley Mason registering mother love and pride in a Los Angeles hospital as her baby, 15 days old, registers unconcern. Sidney Lanfield, the director, is the husband of the movie star and the father of Sheila. (International Newsreel photo.)

TWO-DAY BY WATER WEEK-END Excursion to NEW YORK $5.50 ROUND TRIP via FALL RIVER LINE
SATURDAY, AUGUST 1

A two-day excursion and only $5.50 for the round trip. A wonderful sail over Long Island Sound. All Sundays and Monday in New York or if you want to you can return Sunday night. An unusual trip at extremely low cost. Spend Sunday seeing the places of interest and Monday enjoy yourself seeing the "Big City" as it is. Why not take advantage of the great bargain opportunity to visit New York for two days at so little cost.

GOING SATURDAY, AUGUST 1
LV. BOSTON (SO. STATION).....3:00 P. M.
LV. BACK BAY.....3:06 P. M.
DUE NEW YORK (PIER 14, N. R.).....8:00 A. M.
RETURNING SUN., AUG. 2 OR MON., AUG. 3
LV. NEW YORK (PIER 14, N. R.).....4:30 P. M.
Eastern Standard Time

BUY YOUR TICKETS IN ADVANCE AND AVOID DISAPPOINTMENT
CHILDREN 5 AND UNDER 12 HALF FARE
Limited number of tickets and staterooms now on sale at South Station, North Station and Back Bay Ticket Offices or 67 Franklin St., Boston.

THE NEW HAVEN R.R.

Opportunity to Associate with a Growing Concern

One of our clients, internationally known with factories in four continents, wishes to communicate with an enterprising man of character desirous of establishing a permanent and protected business of his own, distributing an essential household product.

Absolutely Non-competitive and Used Daily in 5,000,000 Homes throughout the World.
Economy, Utility and Enjoyment to the Consumer.
The Product is Approved by Good Housekeeping and Many Other Household Institutes. Also endorsed by Prominent Household Appliance Manufacturers.

The distributor operates under an exclusive arrangement in a protected territory—no enforced quotas to meet—product enjoys a rapidly ascending cumulative volume of profitable automatic repeat business.

Our client is not seeking investors—but seeks a distributor who desires to own, operate and control his own business.

If you can qualify—write us your full personal and business history—all in confidence—and an interview will be arranged.

Write—Box G
STANLEY R. GUNNISON, Inc.
Advertising Counsel
67 West 44th Street, New York, N. Y.

Party Aids Hospital

A benefit bridge party is to be held at the Winthrop Yacht Club, Winthrop, tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, for the benefit of the Winthrop Community Hospital.

Do You Know

How to get the correct time when you have no clock—or when the clock has stopped? Call Capitol 1000 and a pleasant voice will immediately announce the correct time.

The only charge made by the Telephone Company for this service is that for an ordinary telephone call to down-town Boston.

Advertise Your Wants in the Boston Evening American

POSTOFFICE STRIKERS PUT CASE UP TO JOINT BOARD

THREE UNIONS FAIL TO COME TO TERMS

Leaders Decide Board of Both Sides Can Settle Strike at New Postoffice

The dispute between hoisting engineers, ironworkers and teamsters, which is holding up work on the new Boston postoffice, was referred today to the building trades claims committee for settlement.

This action was taken at a meeting of representatives of the unions at the headquarters of the Building Trades Council, 142 Berkeley st.

The claims committee is composed of members of the Building Trades Employers' Association and the Building Trades Council.

The hoisting engineers claim the sole right to operate cranes in the handling of 30 carloads of steel, while the ironworkers and teamsters both claim the privilege of moving this material from the freight yards.

Meanwhile all work on the new postoffice, so long delayed in starting, is at a halt.

Asked how soon a settlement could be expected, union leaders said it depended on the speed with which the claims body meets and acts.

25 'LITTLE WANDERERS' INSPECT BYRD'S POLAR SHIP

A group of 25 children from the New England Home for Little Wanderers on board the City of New York, Rear Admiral Byrd's polar flagship. They are shown here accompanied by governesses and Capt. Lloyd McGrinlie, the radio operator on the South Pole expedition, who explained various features of the craft to them. (Staff photo.)

NINE MORE TO TESTIFY IN MALDEN

Man Accused of Threatening Witness for Patrolman Due to Take Stand

Summonsing of additional witnesses for the hearing of charges against Patrolman John G. Cronin of Malden for tomorrow night is going forward today.

At the same time police are investigating to determine if the reason for the non-appearance of two witnesses summoned at a former hearing was that they had been threatened with death if they testified.

It is understood Mrs. Nellie McCormick of Pearl and Medford sts., Malden, one of the star witnesses for Patrolman Cronin, has supplied police with the name of the man she charged with threatening her if she testified in favor of the policeman.

It is understood that police now have the man's full name and address and that he will be one of those summoned to appear when the third session of the hearing takes place at Malden police headquarters tomorrow night.

At least nine witnesses not already heard, will be summoned by Patrolman Cronin and the two witnesses who failed to appear under summons at the previous hearing last Thursday night will be resummoned. They are prosecution witnesses.

Patrolman Cronin is under suspension as the result of the alleged clubbing of Edward McGuinness of Medford st. in the early morning hours of July 4th, resulting in McGuinness being confined at the Malden Hospital with head injuries for several days.

SURVIVOR IN DISASTER

Former Dorchester girl, known as Sister Beatrix of the Cro was one of the survivors of the disastrous fire at the Litt Sisters of the Poor Home for Aged in Pittsburgh, when more than a score met death and hundreds were injured. She was Miss Agnes B. Greeley, sister of Michael Greeley of Dorchester.

Freak Fish Caught Off Cape Puzzles

Veteran fishermen at the Fish Pier were puzzled today over a strange specimen of the finny tribe caught 100 miles east of Cape Cod by the dragger Robert and Edward.

Capt. Frank Scalzana, of the vessel which brought the fish to the pier, said the fish was three feet and two feet wide, oblong in shape. The fish tipped the scale at more than 100 pounds.

Seen Daddy?

MRS. ANNA SALINI

FRANCES SALINI

Here's two of the reasons why the Boston Evening American is aiding the search for Frank Salini, missing from his Malden home since July 4. His wife, Anna, and her little brood of three children, shown above, are in dire need of Daddy's pay envelope. (Staff photo.)

CHILDREN VISIT BYRD'S SHIP

A group of 25 children from the New England Home for Little Wanderers visited Rear-Admiral Byrd's ship, the City of New York, tied up the Army Base, today.

The children were shown about the ship by Capt. Lloyd McGrinlie. They were told that the ship is 46 years old and that it could not be duplicated nowadays because the Norwegian wood used to build the sides of the hull, 60 inches thick, cannot be found.

Governesses at the home accompanied the children.

TWO ROBBED IN BAY STATE RD.

Peter Stames of 232 Bay State rd. and a companion, Edward F McAleer of 133 Hillside rd., Watertown, were robbed of $37 by two robbers who also took their car, which was later recovered after Stames was forced at gunpoint to drive from in front of his home.

The two men were sitting in the car engaged in a conversation. Suddenly an armed man appeared and told Stames to move over. He then forced his way into the car at the same time thrusting a pistol to Stames' side. The confederate of the robber, also armed, then appeared and got into the car.

They ordered Stames to drive away. He drove to Granby st. nearby, where $20 was taken from him and $17 from his companion. They were then forced to get out of the car and the robbers drove away. The car was found on Sherborn st., a nearby street.

CHELSEA MAN IS HELD IN SLAYING

James B. Donnelly, 61, of Arlington st., Chelsea, was arraigned in Chelsea District Court today, charged with the murder of Dr Louis B. Cohen, Mattapan dentist, following a quarrel between the two Saturday night. The case was continued for one week by Judge Samuel Cutler.

Donnelly, it is alleged, stabbed Cohen after the latter resented a remark made by Donnelly to Mrs. Esther Palter, the physician's mother at her home in Arlington st. He died a few hours later in Chelsea Memorial Hospital.

Funeral services for Cohen will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his home at Almont st., Mattapan. He is survived by his mother, his wife, Mrs. Ruth Cohen, and two sons, Sumner, 13, and Gershon, 11.

BABIES WANT DADDY HOME

Mrs. Anna Salini, mother of three children, of Linden ave., Malden has asked the aid of the Boston Evening American in locating her husband, Frank.

Salini, a baker, by trade, left home on July 4, and no word of his whereabouts has been received by Mrs. Salini.

There are three children in the family, Frances, the eldest girl, is four and a patient at the Morrison State hospital. The other children are Rita, two, and Barbara Jane, three months.

Mrs. Salini is having difficulty supporting the family and is anxious to locate the father and husband.

MILLION FUND IN 62 YEARS

Percy Baxter, former Governor of Maine, today presented a check for $50,000 to Mayor Curley, representing the city of Boston, in accordance with the terms of the will of his father, James P. Baxter, six times mayor of Portland.

Baxter died in 1921. Under the terms of the will, $50,000 was to be turned over the city of Boston and held in trust for 62 years, or until it amounts to $1,000,000. The fund is to be used to erect a building to the memory of the founders of New England.

Former Governor Baxter, as executor, turned $5000 over to Boston in 1923.

The domestic help problem is solved by using a Kitchenette apartment and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

Court Prayer Lands Driscoll Back in Police Cell

Daniel Driscoll, 54, of Adams st., Dorchester, prayed out loud in South Boston district court today. He prayed that the Lord save the Commonwealth. It took two husky court officers to quiet him.

He was before Judge William Day on a charge of drunkenness and when the court crier began the "Hear Ye" salutation for opening court, Daniel heard. He joined the court crier and would not surrender until court officials calmed him.

Judge Day ordered Daniel returned to the Athens st. station to get in condition.

Coal Output Increases

Washington, July 27. (US) Bituminous coal production in the United States for the week ending July 18 amounted to 6,794,000 tons an increase of 121,000 over the preceding week, the commerce department announced.

$1,000,000 'SEED' PLANTED

MAYOR CURLEY PERCIVAL BAXTER

Percival Baxter, former governor of Maine, whose father in 1921 left $50,000 to be put at interest till it reached $1,000,000, today paid the last instalment of the fund. It will take 62 years to grow up and is to be used in building a memorial to the founders of New England. As the money was given the city of Boston, Mayor Curley got the check. (Staff photo.)

WHAT DID YOU SEE TODAY

The Evening American buys news as well as sells it

We pay for each and every exclusive news and photo tip that results in a story or picture. No limit on price for tips on extraordinary, exclusive stories.

$50 or More Each Week!

AMERICAN TIP EDITOR, LIBERTY 4000

LEGION DROPS CARNIVAL PLAN

Because residents in the vicinity of Malden's playgrounds have sent strong protest against carnivals for semi-private organizations being conducted during the night hours there, and because a question as to the right of the Malden park commission to grant permits for such carnivals for private gain on public grounds has been raised, the Malden American Legion Post has abandoned its plans for a carnival this year.

The legionnaires have gone on record as opposed to any more carnivals under its auspices.

Driver Dozes, Wakes Up in City Hospital

Harold Pratt of Cook st., Bridgewater, was taken to City Hospital today suffering from lacerations sustained when his auto crashed into a parked car in Blue Hill ave. near Glenway st., Mattapan.

Fred Collins of Fourth st., Medford, who was in the parked car was unhurt although the machine was overturned. Police said Pratt told them he fell asleep at the wheel.

11 Appeal Jail Terms After Gaming Charge

Eleven men were given 10 days each in the house of correction in Chelsea district court today on charge of being present where gaming implements were found. All appealed and were held in $200.

The men were arrested when police raided a residence in Cherry st., Chelsea, Saturday.

The defendants, all of Chelsea, are Samuel Mink of Grove st., Jacob Goldberg of Essex st., Joseph Frater of Hawthorne st., Farne Guman, Nat Soapiro, Samuel Blatt and Morris Cohen, all of Walnut st.; John Melick of Shawmut ave., John Murphy of Williams st. and Nat Stone of Union st.

Gassy Stomach quickly relieved with Pepsinic Seltzer

AT DRUGGISTS 25¢, 50¢ and $1.00 Write Worcester, Mass., for Free Sample

JENNEY CONCERT BAND EVERY SUNDAY EVENING 8:30 TO 9

INSTANT STARTING!

"I'll say it's a quick starting gas. The instant you kick the starter she's off. Sure, there's nothing like this 'newest' Jenney Aero for power or anti-knock, either. Everyone who tries it comes back for more. Once they know how much better Aero is they just won't use any other. No other gasoline can touch it."

stick to JENNEY AERO

Exclusive distributors for VALVOLINE

Marry-Go-Round

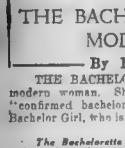
THE BACHELORETTE TYPE OF MODERN WOMAN

By HELEN ROWLAND

THE BACHELORETTE is the very newest type of modern woman. She is the feminine counterpart of the "confirmed bachelor," and not to be confused with the Bachelor Girl, who is merely a girl who hasn't married—YET.

The Bachelorette wouldn't marry the Prince of Wales if he offered himself tomorrow. She is NOT a marrying-girl!

A confirmed old bachelor used to be known for being "set in his way" and wedded to a collection of habits. No woman was as dear to his heart as his pipe, his freedom, his night prowlings and his early morning sleep.



HELEN ROWLAND.

He was just a large body of habits, completely surrounded by selfishness.

But, now, the world is full of WOMEN who are stealing his stuff and fast becoming confirmed bachelorettes. Single women, divorced women, and women who have tried matrimony once or twice, and found it wanting. Or found themselves unfitted to pull along in double-harness.

The Bachelorette is usually a woman who is wedded to a career, a job, a business or her alimony. She has lived alone for years or eight years—and, when a woman lives alone that long, she becomes attached to her ways, her habits and her freedom, just as a man does. Marriage to the best of men would mean a complete upheaval of her life, and be nothing but a nuisance.

She likes to go to bed with cold cream on her face and her permanent wave in hairpins. She wants to retire when she's sleepy and to get up and have her morning coffee when she wakens, without having to rustle breakfast for a man and get him off on the 8:15.

Lots of times, she just wants to be let ALONE; to get into a comfy old kimono and a pair of mules and go off by herself and read or commune with her soul.

She can't bear the thought of having a man around smashing things, leaving lighted cigarettes on the mahogany, putting his feet on the damask chairs, scattering newspapers all over the house, dropping burning matches in the waste-basket, tracking mud over the rugs, upsetting her dinner hours, and calling for his breakfast on mornings when she has a headache.

She often dreams of love and romance and sweet "companionship" and feels lonely on odd evenings when nobody drops in or asks her out for dinner.

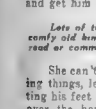
But she's a confirmed Bachelorette, and the price she'd have to pay for a husband—in freedom, comfort and independence—is too great. So she closes her ears to temptation, clings to her spinsterhood or her grass-widowhood, and lets life go by—just like an old bachelor!

(Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.)

Spotty Tan' Is Problem of Beauty

By MISS HUDDLESTON

MOST OF us who are going in for suntan this summer have troubles to the sudden realization that our dreamed of bronze beauty is slightly spotted from too much exposure in some places and not enough in others.



Josephine Huddleston

Naturally this uneven tanning scheme is not as attractive as it even tone would be and I've been experimenting to see just what can be done about it.

One spot in particular seems in be of a much darker shade and coarser texture than others...the center part of the chest. I've noticed, not only on myself but on innumerable of my companions, a V-shaped patch which begins at the collarbones at the sides of the neck and tapers down to a point just above and between the breasts.

That particular part of the chest is exposed most of the year and so the skin is thicker and tougher at that spot. Consequently, it takes very little additional exposure in the intense rays of the summer sun to overdevelop the pigment of color cells in that area.

Think about the necklines of your frocks during the past year. Most of them worn last fall, during the winter months and early this spring have a part of upper chest at least as large as the hand. This means that day by day as the sun is merciful in a place or that a small area of the skin has been exposed to the rays of the sun and tanned as well as to the elements during early spring when wind tan is a common occurrence.

The backs of the hands frequently show darker in color, too, and this may be due to their more constant exposure.

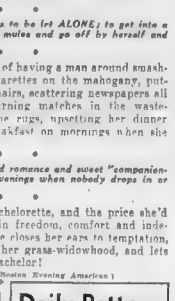
I have found that it is possible to lighten these spots by localized bleaching methods and that the skin can be refined to make its texture and color blend smoothly with the rest of the skin.

In my next article, Thursday, the methods of bleaching and refining these spotty areas will be discussed.

Copyright, 1931, by the Boston Evening American

Daily Pattern

—By MARIAN MARTIN—



Feminine and Very Chic

PATTERN 9212

ONE OF the nicest things about the new daytime fashions for this time of the year is that, though they are very feminine in character, they are seldom so trimmed or elaborate that one feels too dressed up for the most practical occasion.

Pattern 9212 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3 ¼ yards of 39-inch material.

To get a pattern of this model send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred). Please write very plainly your name, address, style number and size of each pattern ordered.

The Pattern Catalog contains an excellent assortment of afternoon, sports and house dresses, exquisite lingerie and pajamas and adorable kiddies' models, also delightful accessory patterns. Price of catalog, 15 cents. Catalog and pattern together, 25 cents.

Address all orders to Boston Evening American Pattern Department, 238 West 18th st., New York City.

Copyright, 1931, by the Boston Evening American

GRAND HOTEL :-: By VICKI BAUM

Baron Held in Hiding Place

Continued From Saturday

"HELLO, PIMENOV," the dancer telephoned. "Yes, it's Grusinskaya. I am in the hotel. You must forgive me. Yes, I was unwell suddenly. My heart, you know. I could scarcely breathe.

"Yes, like that time in Scheveningen. No, I'm better now. I must have put you in a fix. I know, dear old Lucille got on your nerves. Oh, fair. And the audience? "What's that? No, I am not upset. Went off quietly? Not much applause? A different program, you think? Good. We'll talk it over. No, no, no, I want nobody not Suzette either. I only want to be left in peace. You will drive, please, to the French embassy and make my excuses.

"Thank you. Good-night, my dear. Good-night, Pimenov! Listen, Pimenov, my greetings to Witte and Michael too and all the rest as well. No, don't worry about me. I shall be all right tomorrow. Good-night."

She replaced the receiver on its hook. "Good-night, my dear," she said softly after she had done so, standing alone in the hotel bedroom.

So it was her heart, thought Gaigern. She was ill. It had needed all his attention to follow the rapid French words. So that was why she had turned up at this worst of all possible moments. She looked wretched certainly. All to the good, for she would go to sleep and then there would be a hope of taking his leave of her. The great thing was to keep calm. He moved cautiously to the edge of the bedroom and looked over. The two idiots in blue were sitting there in consultation. They had hung up two fine dark lanterns and looked as if they were prepared to put in the entire night on overtime. Gaigern's craving for a cigarette reached the pitch of disease. Inside the room meanwhile, Grusinskaya had come up to the chevel glass with its two wings. The plundered suitcase lay in front of it. Gaigern's heart suddenly thumped in his chest. However, she pushed the leather case aside without a glance at it, and turning on the light over the center of the mirror she grasped its frame with both hands and pressed her face up to the glass, as though she meant to plunge right into it. The attention with which she then studied her face had something probing, greedy, and gruesome about it. Odd creatures, women, thought Gaigern, behind the curtain. Strange animals. What can she see in the glass to make such a frightful face over?

He himself saw her as a beautiful woman, undeniably beautiful, even though the paint on her cheeks began to run. Her neck, above all, reflected twice over in the side mirrors, was incomparably delicate and flexible. Grusinskaya, fixed her eyes on her face as though on the face of an enemy. With horror she saw the fell-tale years, the wrinkles, the flabbiness, the fatigue the withering; her temples were smooth no longer, the corners of her mouth were disfigured, her eyelids, under the blue paint, were as creased as crumpled tissue paper. Another fit of shuddering, more violent than the previous one in the street, came over her while she looked at herself. She tried to bandage her lips but could not succeed. She hurried across the room and hastily turned out the uncompromising light suspended from the ceiling and turned on the table lamp, but even that did not lend any warmth. With a few impatient movements she tore off her costume ready for her flight, went to the radiator and leaned against the gray-colored pipes. She scarcely thought at all as she did so. She only desired warmth. Enough, she thought, enough. Never again. Enough. Enough. She whispered her irrevocable decision in every language, her teeth chattering all the while.

She went in to the bathroom and held her hands under the hot tap and let the water run over her arteries till it began to hurt. She took a friction brush and rubbed her shoulders with it. Then, suddenly, she left off in a fit of disgust, came back shivering and went straight across the room to the telephone. She had to put her lips twice to the telephone before she could speak.

"Tea," she said. "A lot of tea and a lot of sugar."

Then she went to the looking glass and looked in it with gloomy intensity. Her body, however, was of unique and faultless beauty. It was the body of a 16-year-old ballet pupil, which the years and disciplined work of a lifetime had preserved unaltered. Suddenly the hatred she felt for herself changed to self-pity. She clasped her shoulders and stroked their smooth sheen. She kissed the hollow of her right arm. She bent her head down and kissed her poor slim sinewy knees as though they were sick children whom she loved. "Bjelnjinin, malenkaja," she murmured to them, in the old endearment of her early days. Poor little one, it meant.

Unconsciously Gaigern, between the curtains, showed pity and admiration in his face. He was embarrassed by what he saw. Yet this was really a secondary consideration. It was the helplessness, the lost and tremulous despair of this pitiful Grusinskaya as she stood before the looking glass, that impressed him most.

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

Copyright by Vicki Baum

WOOL'S THE PARIS MODE

Severe Effects Avoided

SKETCHED IN PARIS

At the left is sketched a Vionnet dress in fine black wool. The caped, sleeveless jacket is bloused into a cloth belt which fastens with a wide patent leather tab in front. This jacket is removed to reveal a tailored frock, with surplice closing beneath a wide tafeta scarf plaided in black, white, green and yellow. The right-hand sketch shows a navy blue wool to suit from Chanel. The little coat is fitted at the waistline by means of groups of darts at intervals. The deep collar, coat edge and cuffs are scalloped and trimmed with hand-done eyelet work.

What Spineless Beings Are the We's of the World!

By WINIFRED BLACK

THE YOUNG husband crossed his knees and swung one of his rather large feet with a gesture of free and careless rapture that was really entic-ing.

Winifred Black

"Yes," he said, "we like the Sheldons, don't we, dear?"

The young husband crossed his other large foot in a lovely rhythm.

"No, dear," he said, "we don't like the Thompsons."

And all the strange, weird evening it was the same.

"We" like this.

"We" didn't like that.

"We" had read such and such a book.

"We" thought thus and so of the author.

"We, We, We." It was like the insistant hum of a mosquito, that arousing We.

Did either of them ever have an independent thought, did either of them ever step out alone for one single instant?

What he liked she liked.

What he loathed—she detested.

It was so funny that it was difficult not to explode into a peal of outrageous laughter.

And they didn't seem to have the least idea how funny they were.

The next day we heard that the young husband had slipped, in some mysterious way or other, and broken his leg.

How disloyal of him, how could he think of doing such a thing, all by himself. And sure enough, when I called up to inquire about the invalid Mrs. Newly Wed said over the telephone:

"We had a little temperature for a little while, but we're better now. The Doctor says we'll have to stay at home for ten days anyhow, and that's going to be pretty hard on us."

She did say it, honestly she did, and that poor couple are never going to be called anything but the We's for years and years.

I know a pair of sisters who do the same thing and somehow you never think of them as separate persons at all. They aren't Caroline and Margaret—they're just the Jones girls.

I wonder if it doesn't get to be a bit of a bore to them sometimes. They talk alike, and walk alike, and think alike. I never see them without feeling vaguely that I have eaten something that disagrees with me, and that I am "seeing double."

The We's of the World, do we ever retake what strange, spineless, colorless beings they are—do you suppose?

Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American

The Best Joke I Ever Heard

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for the best one of the jokes published here each day. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

TODAY'S WINNER

Editor—My uncle is an absent-minded One he lost his walking-stick, and then found it was in his hand all the time.

Bobbie—Well, I know an Irishman who once got out of bed and struck a match to see if he had blown out the candle.

MARY WILSON.
43 Royal st., Watertown.

HONORABLE MENTION

Farmer: "Would you like a job at digging potatoes?"

Tramp: "I would that—if its digging them out of the gravy'"

MRS ETTA GRIFFIN.
329 Glenwood ave., Pawtucket, R. I.

Smart Sayings of Children

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for the best one of the published smart sayings each day. Address "Smart Sayings," Boston Evening American.

TODAY'S WINNER

Little Mary and her father were watching another have her hair marcelled when Mary reached and touched her father's bald head, saying with a smile:

"No waves for you daddy dear, you're all beach'"

EVA KING
323 Cambridge st., Worcester.

HONORABLE MENTION

Teacher—What happened in 1800?

Pupil—Lincoln was born.

Teacher—What happened in 1812?

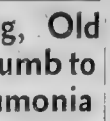
Pupil—Er-er-Lincoln was three years old

NICHOLAR LOMBARDI.
371 Maverick st., East Boston.

Young, Old Succumb to Pneumonia

By DR. R. R. COPELAND

PNEUMONIA is one of the most dreaded of human ailments. It is a disease of great significance, since it takes a great toll of the aged and of the very young.



Dr. Copeland

Sir William Osler aptly described this disease as "Captain of the Men of Death." Pneumonia accounts for about 10 per cent of the deaths in a community. It does not respect age, sex or locality.

Pneumonia has been known ever since man has been subject to disease and suffering. Its prevention has been greatly advanced, but little progress has been made in its treatment.

Within the past decade more research work has been conducted into the cure and treatment of this disease than in relation to any other similar infection. Great impetus was given to this work during the World War.

Under the guidance of the Rockefeller Institute new knowledge concerning pneumonia has been developed. As a result of this work it has been definitely determined that there are four types of pneumonia.

More than half of all cases of pneumonia are of the so-called Types I or II. Type III is the most severe type and fortunately only about 10 per cent of cases belong to this group. Group, or Type, IV is spoken of as the miscellaneous group, in which about a third of all cases of pneumonia belong.

Most outstanding in the work at the Rockefeller Institute has been the development of a curative serum. The serum differs according to the type or group of pneumonia. Animals inoculated with these serums develop an immunity or resistance to pneumonia.

The method of treatment has been applied to humans. In many cases it has been more than successful. In other cases it has been disappointing in its results.

Further study is required before the desirable and much needed treatment is perfected. It is hoped that we will soon be more capable of combating this disease and reducing its mortality rate.

Petting Vulgar, Girl Writes to Miss Fairfax

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

A week or so ago, a young man signing his letter J. F., wrote to this column and said he was like the rest of the boys, i. e., when he took a girl out he "petted," or pretended to have "petted" when he talked this evening over with his chums. "To kiss and tell" has never been part of a gentleman's code, but I didn't mind J. F. of this when I answered his letter. A young lady signing herself "Pet" takes the young man in hand.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I have just read J. F.'s letter, and I would like to correct him. He doesn't have to lie to the boys about what he does when he takes a girl out. He just says he would like to find girls with whom they can have a good time without petting. Petting is the cheapest way in which to pass the time. A kiss is absolutely vulgar unless you're certain you're in love with the man you kiss.

Decent girls don't want to be kissed every other minute—they would rather dance, walk or talk than pet with every chance Tom, Dick and Harry that comes along.

DOT.

Demands Money

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

What would you think of a girl who gets mad if I don't give her some spending money every week? Would you go with her or get another girl friend?

LONESOME.

Dear Lonesome: I think that there is something queer about a girl who asks a man to whom she isn't married for money. I would certainly suggest that through your friends, you make an effort to meet some other girls.

The Murder of the Choir Singer

By ANTHONY ABBOT

Continued From Saturday

"HOW DID you come to know this couple, Mrs. Rubble?" asked Colt.

"Oh, they were customers of mine. They often used to come around to my place to eat during the last two or three years. I don't think they ever fixed much to eat for themselves in here. I heard her say she had done enough cooking in her lifetime, and he told her she would never have to cook again once he took charge of her life.

Mr. Colt, I never saw two people more in love with each other than that preacher and that poor little woman. Neither one of them was any too young, you know, but they behaved like high school children. She would sit there in my dining room and hold his hand while I was heating up the goulash, and more than once I have seen her lean across the table and kiss him. The poor dears."

"What happened last night?" asked Thatcher Colt.

INFORMATION

"Well, Mr. Colt, I don't know whether it means anything or not. I would hate to get anybody into trouble, but I saw something that I think the police at least ought to know about, but murder is a ter-rible thing. You know that for yourself."

Thatcher Colt and Dougherty both nodded their entire agreement with this opinion.

"I hadn't seen them for some time. Oh, it must have been a month ago that they came into my place, and they were terribly worried. Of course, I'm no busybody. I don't try to pry into anybody's affairs. But I have a very small place, Mr. Colt, and even when I'm in the kitchen I can't help hearing what's going on, and these two were talking a blue streak. I couldn't catch all of it, for every once in a while she would caution him, or he would caution her, and they would drop their voices. But I heard enough to get the drift. Of course, I had known all along that both of them were married. You didn't need a telescope to find that out. But I didn't blame her.

"I don't know what it is to care for somebody. Life is awfully short, anyhow, and nobody knows what's coming afterward. I suppose it was wrong, but just the same I had an awful soft spot in my heart for her. This time I'm talking about—it was last April—he was telling her about his brother-in-law. I think the name was Curtain-pole."

WARNED BY GERALD

"Curtainwood," corrected Dougherty.

"That's right. He called him Gerald. From that I could tell we were on the brotherly plane. I could see that Gerald had come to him—the preacher, I mean—and told him that there was going to be a scandal, and that he would have to give up the woman or else he asked to resign from the church.

"There was some kind of meeting held right in the minister's study. And as the two of them were sitting there, at one of my little painted tables, drinking their tea and eating their cinnamon toast, and talking over what they ought to do. So then they began talking of running away.

"He told her that he had some of his own money—some bonds that had been left him by his father—and that his wife was rich and didn't need him to support her, and he said he would sell the bonds and they would run off to China or some place like that, and never come back. And, she said: 'What about Isabel?' and he said: 'You can take her with you if you want to, but I think she would be better off home.' And she said she would have to think that part over, but that she would do anything he wanted her to do, that his word was law with her.'

"And he told her he would give her some money to buy some things, and that they would go just as soon as they could. But they agreed they could not come back to this house any more because their secret was known, and they decided to write notes to each other and hide them somewhere in the church. I told Mr. Perkins about that this morning.

LONG DRAWN OUT

"And when did you see them again?" said Thatcher Colt.

"I never saw them again."

"Then what happened last night?"

"Well, I was coming to that. You see, from the back window of my tearoom I can look right across the trees down into this place. Last night it was such an awful hot night that I could hardly get my breath, so I closed up the tearoom an hour earlier because I thought I would fatten over the hot stove. So I shut up the shop about 11 o'clock and went upstairs and sat in a rocking chair by the window trying to get a breath of air off the river, and I happened to look down here and I saw a lot of people out in the yard I didn't know any of them, but I knew them here and I thought it was awful funny, because everybody is away at this time of the year.

"They were keeping awful quiet, but I could see their arms moving as if they were whispering and excited. And then one of them moved away a little bit and I saw it was a woman. There is a lamp hanging there that the watchman, Krauz, always keeps lit, whether anybody's around or not and she was right under the light. I saw her plain as day. I had never seen her before. I didn't know who she was then, but when the papers came out in a afternoon with the pictures of the family I knew who, I was right away.

"It was the preacher's wife—"

"Mrs. Rubble, you understand that is a very serious this statement is, don't you?"

Dougherty's voice was coarse with excitement as he put that question.

"Of course."

"You realize that it amounts to an accusation?"

"Charging her with the murder? I'm not doing that at all. I don't know who killed them. But it's the truth, and I believe in telling the truth and shaming the devil! I saw her there."

"How was she dressed?" asked Thatcher Colt.

WEARING A COAT

"She was wearing some kind of a long coat—and on a hot night like that, too—and, while I wouldn't want to be certain, it seemed to me it had fur at the neck and cuffs."

Colt and Dougherty looked at each other significantly. No word of Mrs. Beazley's coat or episode of the dyer of New Rochelle had as yet been published in the newspapers. It was still our own secret. Mrs. Blanche Rubble could not have invented such a precise and convincing detail.

Thatcher Colt rose.

"Mrs. Rubble," he said, "would you mind waiting here? We may be quite a while. Mind?"

"Take your time," chuckled Mrs. Rubble. "Don't mind me, I'm used to everything!"

With a nod of his head to the District Attorney and myself, Colt strode across the lawn that till we were on the brow of the slope overlooking the river. A cellar, pulled by a tug, drifted past us, borne silently on the current hurrying down to the sea.

"The atmosphere is positively vivcid," remarked Colt. "Let's sit down here—we are out of earshot of the Rosary Rubble—and consider this matter."

Three in a row, we sat on the brow of the green hill.

DISAGREEMENT

"Well," exulted Dougherty, "it looks like our case is beginning to shape up."

"It is more puzzling than ever, Dougherty."

"What, man! All I need now is to confront Mrs. Beazley with Blanche Rubble and get a positive identification, and I can force them to tell the truth!"

"No, Dougherty, Powell will have anticipated this—he will shout that woman's story full of holes."

"Show me one hole," challenged Dougherty

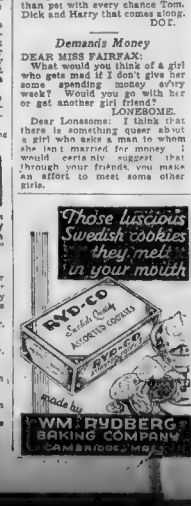
Colt smiled a little sadly as he rested one hand affectionately on the district attorney's shoulder.

"Mrs. Rubble told us that she closed up her shop last night about 11 o'clock. Consequently, it was after 11 o'clock when she sat at her window and looked out on this lawn and saw a woman she believed to be Mrs. Beazley. Now your other witnesses have fixed the time of the shots as 9:45. The times are out of joint, Dougherty."

The district attorney folded his arms, clicked the toes of his shoes together, and then looked at Colt resentfully.

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

Copyright, 1931, by Consolidated Press Co.



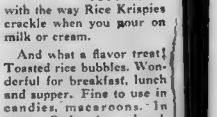
don't forget to ask for them by name

Deerfoot Farm Frankfurters

The name "Deerfoot" means the utmost in frankfurter quality. Look for this name on the frankfurter before you buy. Then you'll get the kind of frankfurters you'll want again and again.

A DIVISION OF NATIONAL DAIRY

listen to it!



KIDDIES are fascinated with the way Rice Krispies crackle when you pour on milk or cream.

And what a flavor treat! Toasted rice bubbles. Wonderful for breakfast, lunch and supper. Fine to use in candies, macaroons. In soups. Order the red-and-green package from your grocer. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

19% lower in price

Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

DEGLANE IN PERFECT TRIM TO DEFEND MAT CROWN

FANNING

By GEORGE UNDERWOOD

Meet Len Macaluso ↑ Budding Mat Champ
Colgate Sport Hero ↑ He's Coming Strong
Grid's High Scorer ↓ Wrestles Thursday

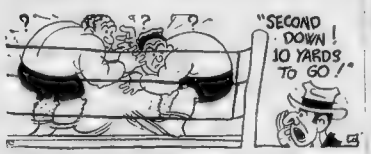
You'll See Him in Big Xmas Fund Show

If Lenny Macaluso lingers longer in the Game,
He'll make a name in grappling to match his football fame.
For Lenny is a Bear Cat and when he hits his peak,
He'll down all opposition, stand Sonny on his beak!

From the few peeks we have had of Len Macaluso we have a hunch that with a little more seasoning and experience, the former Colgate All-American football star is going to have a big finger in the heavyweight championship pudding one of these days. Len is young at the Game of Grunt and Groan. He is serving his baptism of fire. Just now he doesn't know quite enough to cope with such seasoned veterans as Henri DeGlane and Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg. But one of these days, if we read the signs along the wrestling trail rightly, you will see the former Colgate star on the mat wrestling for the world's heavyweight championship, just like Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg and Henri DeGlane will do in The Grapple of the Century next Thursday night.

What a flock of college gridiron gladiators have invaded professional wrestling. There is scarcely a match on next Thursday night's great Christmas Fund card in which either or both of the contestants will not be a gridiron hero. Offhand there's Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg, himself, like Macaluso, an All-American player. Then there's Ed George, the Michigan star; Buck Weaver of Chicago University, Jake Patterson of Syracuse, Jack Spellman of Brown, Charlie Strack, who played football for both Colgate and Oklahoma A. and M.; Bibber McCoy of Holy Cross and Al Morelli of B. C. Let some wag at the matside bellow, "First down and ten to go!" next Thursday night, and we'll wager the wrestlers will be in danger of letting go their grips and jumping into football position.



But back to our hero, Len Macaluso. In Len's grammar and high school days Len's father did not like the idea of his favorite son endangering life and limb on the gridiron. He was afraid little Lenny would get hurt. So a large part of the playing Lenny did in his prep school days was on the "sneak" and away from the jubilee eye of his Dad.

When Lenny was a little lad his Dad warned: "Lenny, Boy,
If I catch you playing football, it will afford me joy
To use strap or stick or shinglo in a way that will make you Think yourself a football and booted black and blue!"

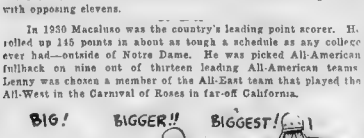
But Lenny managed to sneak in enough football to have college scouts camp on his trail. When a Colgate alumnus showed how it would be possible for him to play football and get a good education at the same time, Len's father relented and gave Lenny a parental gridiron blessing. Little Lenny by that time had grown into such a powerful physical specimen that even the old man doubted if he could be hurt.

Don't get the idea we are pinning any bouquets on Len for playing football behind his Dad's back. We know just how old man Macaluso felt. We have sons of our own, and if we catch any of them busting beaks and ribs without us telling 'em to go ahead and be busted to their hearts' content, we'll give 'em something that will make 'em stand up to their breakfast for the next six weeks. Gosh, we've been threatening that for a long time. Reckon we're afraid of blistering our hand or something. Heighe!

Well, folks, once Lenny got up there in the balmy air of Colgate he started in showing 'em what a great athlete old man Macaluso's son really was. Made the track team and set a Colgate discus record. Made the football team and started raising havoc with opposing elevens.

In 1930 Macaluso was the country's leading point scorer. He rolled up 145 points in about as tough a schedule as any college ever had—outside of Notre Dame. He was picked All-American fullback on nine out of thirteen leading All-American teams Lenny was chosen a member of the All-East team that played the All-West in the Carnival of Roses in far-off California.



Coach Andy Kerr proclaimed Macaluso as a greater football player than Ernie Nevers. Andy, you know, played on the Coast and saw Nevers in all of his glory. The veteran, Pop Warner, said that Nevers was a greater football player than Jim Thorpe. That makes Lenny Macaluso the greatest player in the game, doesn't it? One and one makes two, you know. Kerr says Macaluso was greater than Nevers and Warner says Nevers was greater than Thorpe. Forty-four votes for Macaluso. Let's make it unanimous.

You will not get a chance to see Macaluso go through center or slice through between tackle and end at Braves Field next Thursday night. But you will get the opportunity of seeing the great Colgate football player display his grappling wares against the best opponent Promoter Paul Bowser can select.

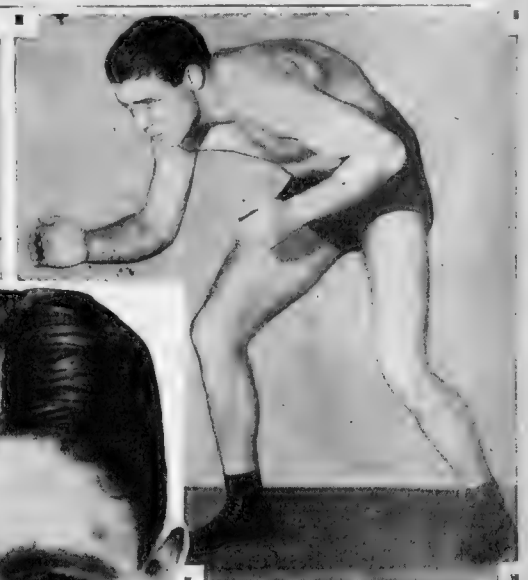
There'll be a nine-course grappling spread all built around the piece de resistance, the world's heavyweight championship duel between DeGlane and Sonnenberg—The Grapple of the Century. Anyone that stays away from Braves Field next Thursday night is going to miss the greatest grappling show that ever was staged. Au Revoir. See you at the matside.

Let's all meet at the matside when DeGlane meets Dynamite Gus,
For, folks, those two great grapplers 'll put up a man-sized fuss.
Such hugging and smoothing, you never again will see—
So gather at the matside and park along with me.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

ON GRID OR MAT, MACALUSO CAN TOSS HIS FOES FOR A LOSS

As grid foes saw him. LEN MACALUSO, former Colgate all-America football star, who will appear on the great wrestling card for the Boston Evening American Christmas Basket Fund on Thursday night. The show is to be held at Braves Field.



Ready for the bell. MACALUSO takes a football stance against his mat opponents, and his powerful muscles that won fame on the gridiron, now should make him a mat star.

Here you see MACALUSO as he appears ordinarily, with a friendly, smiling countenance. The smile vanishes when he enters the ring, however, and mat foes face a very serious-minded student of the very serious grappling game.

Cochet Saves Net Cup by Brilliant Victory

Paris, July 27 (US)—The big musketeers of France's tennis old guard tottered off a muddy battlefield yesterday winners of the Davis Cup, emblem of international supremacy, for the fifth successive year.

As in previous years it was too much Cochet. As he has turned back American challengers when the match was a deciding one, so did Henri today repel the British onslaught, taking the fifth and deciding match from Fred J. Perry after his companion, Jean Borotra, had fallen before H. W. (Bunny) Austin, the British ace.

Convalescing from an illness and playing reluctantly in a downpour of rain because the British were unwilling to delay after Austin had replaced the matches at two all Cochet was invincible to the end.

The imperturbable Lone Red Boy was too much for the desperately battling Perry. He took the match 6—4, 1, 6, 8, 7—5.

A countless Austin crushed a spasmodically sparkling and erratic Borotra, 7—5, 6—3, 3, 6—7, 6—, the match was played mostly in a drizzling rain.

Sunday's Stars

By The Associated Press

Al Spohrer, Braves—His single in the 11th drove in run that beat Cards in first game of double-header.

Paul Derringer, Cardinals—Hung up 12th victory at Braves' expense in second game.

Larry Benton, Reds — Blanked Robins with 10 hits in first game of double-header.

Darrel Vance, Robins—Held Reds to three hits and beat them, 5-0 in second game.

Gerge Goslin, Browns—Touted double and home run against Senators, driving in three runs and scoring one.

Charley Gehringer, Tigers—Hit three doubles and pair of singles in second game of double-header with Red Sox.

Charles Ruffing, Yankees—Held White Sox to eight hits and got him himself as Yankees won second game, 22-3.

N. Y. YACHT LAST TO END RACE

Plymouth, Eng., July 27 (AP)—The Ketch Lismore, owned and sailed by William Ross, of New York city and wife Mrs. Ross as a member of the crew, today sailed into Plymouth Harbor last of the ten boats which set out from Newport, R. I., July 4th to finish the 3,000-mile race across the North Atlantic.

The Lismore lost part of her rigging in a storm while a little over halfway across and was so delayed in passage she sent two of her crew on to England aboard the Hamburg-American liner Hamburg in order to conserve the food supply.

The race was won by the yawl Dorade, one of two entered in the race which finished last Tuesday after covering 12 days cruising.

The corrected order of finish on handicaps placed Ska second, Amber Jack III third, Highland Light fourth, Mistress fifth, Land fall sixth, Ivy seventh, Water Gypsy eighth, Mail ninth, Nina and Lismore tenth and last.

Baseball in Brief

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Philadelphia	98	54	.645
Washington	94	56	.627
New York	87	63	.580
Cleveland	67	82	.450
St. Louis	64	85	.429
BOSTON	62	87	.416
Chicago	61	88	.409
Detroit	60	89	.402

GAMES TODAY

Detroit at Boston
St. Louis at Philadelphia
Chicago at New York
Cleveland at Washington

AMERICAN LEAGUE RESULTS

St. Boston	(1st game)	R	H
	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0	1
Detroit	1 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 x—3	7	1
	(10 innings)
At Washington		R	H
St. Louis	1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—2	5	1
Washington	0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 1—3	7	1
At Cleveland		R	H
Philadelphia	0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 x—1	5	0
Cleveland	1 0 0 0 3 1 2 x—7	10	0
At New York	(1st game)	R	H
Chicago	1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—2	8	1
New York	1 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—4	10	1
	(10 innings)
Detroit	1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1	6	1
Boston	0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 x—2	11	0
At Chicago		R	H
New York	2 0 2 0 0 0 0 3—7	11	0
Chicago	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0	4	1
New York	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 x—1	8	0

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
St. Louis	91	57	.615
Chicago	84	65	.564
Pittsburgh	82	67	.550
Brooklyn	81	68	.544
New York	77	72	.517
Cincinnati	71	77	.480
Philadelphia	51	98	.342
Boston	50	98	.338

GAMES TODAY

Boston at St. Louis
New York at Brooklyn
Philadelphia at Pittsburgh
Chicago at Cincinnati

NATIONAL LEAGUE RESULTS

At St. Louis	(1st game)	R	H
Brooklyn	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0	6	0
St. Louis	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1	7	0
	(10 innings)
At Cincinnati	(1st game)	R	H
Brooklyn	0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0	10	0
Cincinnati	0 0 0 0 0 1 2 1—4	7	1
	(8 innings)
Brooklyn	0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—1	6	1
Cincinnati	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0	5	1
At Chicago		R	H
Philadelphia	0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1	6	1
Chicago	0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1—2	8	0

Burke and Barron Tie Farrell, Diegel

Greenwich, Ct., July 27—Billie Burke, national open golf champion, and Herman Barron, professional at the Tamarack Club, tied at 148 with Johnny Farrell, former national open champion, and Leo Diegel, pro at Agua Caliente Country Club in Mexico, in selection match at the Tamarack Club.

AMATEUR GOLF TRIALS OPEN

New York, July 27 (INS)—Top notchers in the amateur golf world, members of the affiliated with the United States Golf Association and who have a handicap of four strokes or less, One hundred and fifty men will be on hand for the qualifying rounds of the championship proper in Chicago next September 5.

The sectional elimination rounds are open to contestants who are members of an affiliated with the United States Golf Association and who have a handicap of four strokes or less. One hundred and fifty men will be on hand for the qualifying rounds of the championship proper in Chicago next September 5.

Peltzer Is Defeated by French Runner

Berlin, July 27—Jules Ladoumegue, the French [illegible] defeated Josef Peltzer, [illegible] in a [illegible] meet here today. Ladoumegue covered the [illegible] one and one-half second slower than his own record time.

Dave Cobb, Harvard [illegible] pitted

Karl Warner of Yale won the 400-meter event in 49 4-10 seconds. Helmut Koernig captured the 100 meters in 10 8-10 seconds.

GEORGE HOPES 'SONNY' WINS

By RINGSIDE

Dr. Don George, former Yale heavyweight wrestling champion who meets Jack Dillon in the semi-final to the Sonnenberg-DeGlane bout at Braves Field Thursday night, intends to be in the wake of the title contest.

"I would like to see Sonnenberg win, said George "I won the title from Gus on the Coast last winter, and I feel that a contest between myself and the former Dartmouth star would be a great attraction in Boston. Of course, I wouldn't be averse to tackling DeGlane either, but I prefer Gus as an opponent.

There are so many New England fans who think Gus is unbeatable that I would like to prove Dr. his master. First I must get by Dillon, who will appear on Thursday night I won from Nick in the Arena last winter and I think I can repeat my triumph."

In all their [illegible] nationally known [illegible] on Thursday night's card. The advance sale at Paul Bowser's office at No. 115 Chauncy st., indicates that all gate receipt records for wrestling in the East will be shattered.

Champ Plans to Give 'Sonny' the Works

By JACK CONWAY

Henri DeGlane, world's heavyweight champion, is the most finished grappler I have ever seen in action.

I formed this opinion as the Frenchman went through a spirited workout before a large Sunday crowd at the Pine Grove Inn just outside of Marlboro on the Worcester road. DeGlane is getting ready for his title defense match against Gus Sonnenberg and his terrific flying tackle at Braves Field on Thursday night.

DeGlane is a real Apollo. Standing five feet ten inches tall he carries his 200 pounds gracefully. He is built in proper proportion to his size. Working in an outdoor ring he has picked up a tan which makes him look even more bronzed and [illegible]

Jack Conway

He has [illegible] Gotch, Stanislaus Zbyszko, Farmer McLean, Joe Stecher, Stanislaw Lewandowski, Morris Karl Davidson, and other famous wrestlers in action, but none of them possessed the grace and certainty that clouds DeGlane to batter his opponent into [illegible]

The Frenchman always seems to be on the right [illegible] at the right time. He is a cool as the proverbial ice when in a tight spot. He does his best work at critical moments when a mistake would mean defeat.

I watched DeGlane [illegible] Patterson, Fiddler, Savage and a flock of other pay-as-you-enter grapplers. He didn't [illegible] The Frenchman always seems to be on the right [illegible] at the right time. He is a cool as the proverbial ice when in a tight spot. He does his best work at critical moments when a mistake would mean defeat.

Before DeGlane came to [illegible] I had a chat with Dr. [illegible] in charge of Physical Education at Boston University. In the course of our conversation I asked him what he thought of the effect of wine and ale on the human system. I told him that I had always believed that wine and ale, taken in moderation, were beneficial to a person.

The doctor, who is a well [illegible] replied that wine and ale, taken in moderation, were beneficial to a person.

He made also the point that [illegible] champion, or [illegible] should [illegible] rules.

DeGlane takes a great deal of [illegible] when he defends [illegible] Flying Tackle. With his [illegible] hand clamps tight, he clipped his sparring partner at the base of the brain. Then, much like the rabbit punch used in boxing, [illegible] ripped his clasped hand [illegible] his opponent came [illegible]

Champion Intends to Be Rough With Sonnenberg

"I intend to be very rough with Sonnenberg," said the Frenchman. "Gus has got away with all kinds of infractions of the rules since he entered the wrestling game. Merely because he is a great drawing card he has been allowed to make up his own rules.

"Sonny butts, kicks and does about everything else that is illegal when he is in the ring. I intend to give him as good as he sends when we clash next Thursday night. Maybe I shall put an extra [illegible] more than he gives. You know we Frenchmen can be pretty tough when we work. We had to be during the war.

I am in the best condition of my career and confident I shall be able to win from Sonnenberg. I want to get revenge for the two setbacks I received at the hands of Gus prior to winning the championship."

DeGlane told this writer that he [illegible] work on his training.

I have had wine with my meals since I was a boy in France," said Henri. "It tones up the system. I find it is particularly beneficial when I am training.

I [illegible] like to drink a glass of good ale. I believe that the American people would be much happier if they were permitted to have first-class wine and ale. Wine and ale, taken in moderation are beneficial to a person."

He made also the point that [illegible] champion, or [illegible] should [illegible] rules.

DeGlane takes a great deal of [illegible] when he defends [illegible] Flying Tackle. With his [illegible]

Advice to Contenders

By MYLES T. McSWEENEY

Dear Sir: I have been reading stories from various fight training camps wherein boxers claim that wine and ale are good for a man when he is drilling for a hard battle.

If this is true, then I have been the heavyweight champion since the days of John L. Sullivan. How can I go about claiming the title? I also trained on brandy, whiskey and rye. —Signed Ben Beery.

Answer: The last assertion disqualifies you. In order to be champion, you must stick to wine and ale. It's too late for you now.

In your class, John Barleycorn has always been the recognized champion.

Honest, this stuff is right off the boat.

Where to Get Your Tickets For Grapple of Century

Tickets for the great Xmas Fund Wrestling Show on Thursday night, in which Henri DeGlane will defend his world's wrestling championship against Gus Sonnenberg in The Grapple of The Century, are on sale at the office of Paul Bowser, Room 202, 115 Chauncy st.

Bowser will keep his office open until 7 o'clock nightly to accommodate the fans who cannot find time to purchase their tickets in other hours. Remember, tickets for The Show of Shows are to be bought in ROOM 202, 115 CHAUNCY ST., BOSTON. Telephone Hubbard 4533.

COLLINS TO TRY OUT PICKERING BEHIND PLATE

'SLUG' SURE OF REGULAR POSITION

By JOE CASHMAN

You may go out to Fenway Park one of these fine afternoons and discover Urban "Slug" Pickering catching for the Red Sox.

Manager John Collins has learned that his erstwhile third sacker was a regular receiver in the minors for years before becoming an infielder and he's going to start "Slug" working out behind the bat in practice today.

And if the young man shows enough ability, he'll be doing his share of the catching for the club in the near future.

With the exception of Eddie Connolly, Pickering has the strongest arm of any of the Fenway flock. In addition, he has a great pair of hands and is big and strong enough for the heavy work back of the plate. He's also plenty game as he proved while playing third by jumping right in front of the most scorching of drives.

There would appear to be no reason why he shouldn't make a good catcher if he had as much experience in the berth as he claims.

She'ld Pickering fall back of the bat, he will be tried at second or in the outfield. Miller is playing too well at third to be replaced, but "Slug" while not very fast, is far too good a hitter and fielder to remain on the bench for long and Collins is determined to find a spot for him.

Sox Take First Game in Tenth, 7 to 6

The first game of the Sabbath twin bill between the Sox and Tigers went 10 innings, so, as is their custom, the natives won it 7 to 6, after allowing the visitors to pile up a four-run lead in the very first inning. It was the seventh victory in nine overtime games this season for the Collinsmen.

In the nightcap, the local's again permitted the Bengals to take a four-run lead, but they couldn't force this contest past the regulation distance, neither could they overcome the enemy's margin, so they lost, 7 to 3.

Danny MacFayden was knocked off the hill in the first inning of the opener, but Bob Kline, who was forced to the showers in the opening frame of Saturday's game, hurled brilliant ball the rest of the way and more than deserved the victory that he finally gained in the tenth when Oliver and Berry doubled in succession off Arthur "Red" Herring, who went the distance for the Tigers.

Jack Russell attempted to come back after a two-day rest in the second game. It was to much for the lightweight Texan. He disappeared from the scene after being found for seven hits and four runs in the first two stanzas. Pitz Ed Morris then came in to give two runs in five innings and "Rudy" Durham, who finished up, yielded the final Tiger tally in the eighth.

The Sox made 10 hits including a triple and three doubles in the contest, but Charlie Sullivan, young Detroit hurler always had enough left to stop them when they became dangerous.

In an effort to break his club's losing streak, Manager Bucky Harris of the last place visitors made several drastic shifts in his lineup for the local games. He sent big Dale Alexander, regular first sacker, to left field, moved Charlie Gehringer, one of the game's greatest second sackers, to the initial bag and put the veteran Marty McManus, the league's leading third sacker of last year, who had been sitting on the bench, on the keystone bag.

The third game of the current series will be played this afternoon at the Fens with Wiley Moore pitching for the Sox and Kid Whitehill, classy southpaw, hurling for the visitors.

Vince Dundee in London Bout Tonight

London, July 27 (AP)—Vince Dundee, Baltimore middleweight clashes with Jack Hood, British welterweight champion, in a non-title bout here tonight.

Table of Runs

From July 19 to July 25

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	S	M	T	W	T	F	S	T
BOSTON	....	6	2	3	6	13	1	5 36
Cleveland	....	5	6	2	3	2	1	6 27
Chicago	....	7	5	11	4	3	7	3 37
Detroit	....	7	3	4	4	5	4	5 32
New York	....	18	8	—11	7	6	10	6 80
Philadelphia	....	*	12	10	7	5	2	9 45
St. Louis	....	11	8	*	5	6	*	1 34
Washington	....	7	7	3	6	4	*	1 27

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	S	M	T	W	T	F	S	T
BOSTON	....	*	*	*	4	6	1	1 12
Brooklyn	....	10	0	4	6	6	7	4 46
Chicago	....	6	1	3	5	3	5	6 27
Cincinnati	....	*	*	*	4	5	5	3 22
New York	....	3	*	5	5	4	5	12 29
Pittsburgh	....	*	*	*	12	17	5	8 42
St. Louis	....	4	*	8	*	*	17	3 32
Philadelphia	....	15	*	*	*	5	2	1 16

*No Games.

Arlington Park Mutuels

FOR SATURDAY, JULY 25
FIVE RACES.....$222.58
SEVEN RACES.....$388.18

AS GUILFORD EQUALS ATTLEBORO RECORD

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

THEY PUT IT OVER!
DOC. DAN KILEY AND JIM CUTSNAW OF THE TOURNAMENT COMMITTEE.
ED GOWEN CHAIRMAN OF GREENS COMMITTEE HAS EVERYTHING INCLUDING THE CHAIR.
THAT IS A SWEET APPROACH OF WRIGHTS BUT IT AIN'T THE WAY TO HAVE PLAYED IT
IF MY PLAYING INTERFERES WITH YOUR YELLING I'LL WAIT DOC!
HELLO DOCK!
HELLO DOCK!
BILL RICE
I HAD A PUTT HERE FOR A THREE YESTERDAY AND SHHH-WATCH OLE JESS!
THE COURSE WAS LITTERED UP WITH DOCTORS
AND I MADE IT NO TRUMPS.
I HAD A GORGEOUS HAND OF HEARTS AND SHE A SWEET BALL
WE OFTEN WONDER WHY WOMEN FOLLOW GOLF MATCHES.
CLUB CHAMP. TUT RICHARDSON GETS SHUSHED
DOC. EDWARD M. WEBB
GUILFORD
BILLY McPHAIL QUIT AT ALLIGATOR HOLE
YOU CAN HAVE IT
STRATTON SURE CAN MAKE THREE PUTTS FROM FOUR FEET AWAY LOOK EASY!

Twixt Tee and Cup

By BILL GRIMES

Secretary W. C. "Chick" Connelly and his N. E. P. G. O. are strutting their stuff at the Keene Country Club today in the New Hampshire open.

During this tournament the qualifiers for the N. E. P. G. O. championship will play the first and second rounds of match play.

Although the qualifying rounds for the United States amateur championship at the Brae Burn Country Club is a very important event, the outstanding tournament of the week is the Junior championship, which starts on Wednesday at the Sandy Burr Country Club.

Dropped in at Jack Donaldson's driving range recently and saw Frank Daley, the old Winthrop High athlete, hit some of the longest tee shots it has ever been the writer's pleasure to witness.

If Wilfred Crossley is successful in defending his junior title this week at Sandy Burr, he will be the first champion to perform this feat since Eddie Lowery did it in 1920.

There are any number of real golfers entered for the Juniors, such as Bobby Hunter, John Quan, Bobby Hopkins, Bill Donnelly, Herman Goldberger, Bobby Smith, Jack Page, Joe Galvin, Harold McGrail, Ralph Cude, Tommie Quinn, Charlie Mallory, Dan Shea, Stanley Reptuna, Herb Goudwin, Phil Fahey, Jimmie Forhan, Benson Bosquet, Joe Carew, Charlie Pickering, Preston Cushing, Art Rogers, Chris Larkin, Harry Hood, Peter Hylan, Tom Hartigan, Tommie O'Leary, Luke Mahan, Leo Reilly, Dick Ruggles and Willis Ogg.

While Crossley is battling to retain his junior title, the big boys will be playing the Jaques Cup at The Country Club. Due to the fact that the New England amateur championship will be played at The Country Club next week, there is a far larger field entered for the Jaques Cup this season.

John Saugy, the prominent Providence merchant, with a penchant for neckties, has offered to give Jack Martin a stroke a hole at the South Shore Country Club. Unless Jack feels that it is his duty to supply Saugy with a half dozen ties, he had better drop out of the match and substitute Mrs. Jack, who stepped to the turn at the Hingham course in 58 blows yesterday.

It is going to take just about the best golf the junior championships have ever presented to eliminate Bobby Hunter of Albemarle this week. Hunter is one of the finest prospects in the State, and the junior, who eliminates him can be rated as a champion without fear of dispute.

There will be three members of the Quinn family, John, Tommie and Teddy, in the juniors at Sandy Burr. And when a job Joe "Pressrullo" Quinn, the youngest member, will do on any one of them who does not qualify.

State Senator Joe Monahan's victory at Rockport was especially pleasing to the members of the Caps Ann club. If a Rockport member could not win, there is not a player in the State that the entertaining club would rather see win than Joe Monahan.

Marston Winner at Eastern Point

Eastern Point, N. C., July 27—Max R. Marsten of Philadelphia won the Shennecossett Club invitation golf tournament for the first time in six years by defeating E. L. Beard, Jr., of Flushing, N. Y. in the final match, 3 and 2.

In the semi-finals Marston defeated David S. Gamble, 2d, of New Haven.

Today's Scratches

LATONIA SCRATCHES

1—Salud, Dunes, Prince, Herbert, Clashy's Choice, Drury, The Mink, Price Megan, Boston Hill.

2—Loud Speaker, Violet Crown, Watch Classic, His Over, Missonine, Agitator, Hidden Thoughts, Linda Matt.

3—Lellia Lee, Better Fly, Lonell, Vestah Clark.

6—Chene, Kathryn, Roxie Weidel, Ourman.

7—Lady Ebony, Earl of Warwick, Kennahaw, Monkey Shine, Rushing.

Weather clear; track fast.

GUILFORD TIES COURSE MARK

Attleboro, July 27—Jesse Guilford, "Siege Gun" of Woodland, equalled the course record at Highland with a brilliant 69, and led a field of 250 entrants in the three-day tournament.

The record-equalling round not only was the prize-winning gross in class A, but it was the chief reason why Guilford and Emery Stratton, of Brae Burn, defeated Fred Wright of Albemarle and Bill McPhail of Norfolk, 3 and 2, in the feature of the week and golf tourney.

Not only did Guilford wreck Wright and McPhail, but he propelled the first prize visions of Brad Oxnard of Metacomet, one of Rhode Island's foremost golfers. Oxnard had compiled a 71, one above par, yesterday and had sewed up the gross in the top division of the three competition. His handicap of three strokes, furthermore, had made him the low gross.

But Godfrey Brinley of Sandy Burr came in with a 73—8—65 for first net, with Edward Kirsan of Walpole right behind with a 74—7—67 and then Guilford added the finishing touch with his par-beating 69 to capture first honors and leaving runner-up laurels for the Rhode Islander.

In the second class, for golfers handicapped from 9 to 1, Sallet of Highland walked off with gross and net, although he took only the gross, when he turned in 76—11—65, while Dan Riordan and G. B. Reed of Walpole were tied for second gross with 78s. In division three, C. K. Shaw, Jr., of Pawtucket played far ahead of his handicap, breezing around the layout in 79, which, with his handicap of 17, left him with a 62 net. J. Stockbury of Scarboro took second gross with 83—85, while R. E. Marsden and K. E. Black of Colonial were tied for first net with 84—18—66.

Playing his first full round in two weeks and in his second tournament of the year, Guilford blasted the State amateur champion and last year's winner.

Stratton was able to help him by only one stroke with his score of 74, while Wright turned in a 76 and McPhail had an approximate 80, being 39 out and two strokes more coming back.

The winners, however, played steady golf, with occasional sensational flashes by Guilford as he blasted out long drive after drive and then demonstrated a fine putting touch as the finisher.

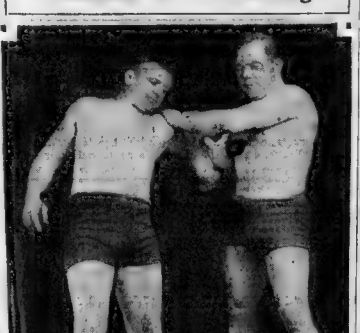
Helen Jacobs Extended to Win

By MICHAEL J. FOSTER

Seabright, N. J., July 27—Clara Greenspan, the pretty New York sophpaw who formerly held the metropolitan championship, played the best tennis she has exhibited in two years here this afternoon to force Helen Jacobs to a 6—3, 6—4 score in the fifth setting. Clair could lead the seeded players into the second round of the women's singles at the Seabright Invitation tournament of the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club got under way.

Miss Jacobs, as defending champion and No. 2 seeded player, held the attention of the gallery in the absence of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, the world's champion, who tops the "seeds." Mrs. Moody didn't play, advancing by means of a default by Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere of Boston.

Lessons in Wrestling



ARM LOCK AND SHOULDER PUSH

With JACK ALBRIGHT assisting, DYNAMITE GUS SONNENBERG today shows you one of the most punishing holds, the arm lock and shoulder push. Falls are seldom scored with it, but the hold is used in wrestling an opponent off his feet and getting him in position for the throwing fall. DYNAMITE GUS is almost certain to use it in working on Henri DeGlane, world's champion, in The Grapple of the Century at Braves Field on Thursday night.

By GUS SONNENBERG
AS TOLD TO GEORGE GRIMM

LESSON 8

A wrestler never can win a match with his opponent standing up. He must have both shoulders to the mat at the same time for at least three seconds, so it is necessary to bring him to the mat to gain a victory.

There are many ways to attain this advantage, but the most effective is to work on the arms, twisting them in such a manner as to force the opponent down where you can apply other holds.

The one used the most by me is the opportunity presents itself is the arm lock and shoulder push. It may have another name, but that is what I call it.

From the referee's hold, if the opening occurs, or if you can maneuver your opponent into a trap, you throw your arm outside your opponent's elbow, at the same time placing your other hand on the shoulder of the arm you have pinioned behind your back. Bring the pinioning arm up under and grasp your other arm by the wrist or forearm and start pushing with the hand you have against his shoulder.

This has a tendency to twist him around and a continued application of the leverage is bound to force him to his knees and finally to the mat.

In addition to being a hold that will bring an opponent down, it is a painful hold for the other fellow for if not only twists his arm but his whole body and unless he goes with the twist voluntarily, a bone in the arm is liable to snap. The above picture fully illustrates the hold.

Another lesson tomorrow.

Sullivan to Battle Proulx at Brockton

Napoleon Proulx of Taunton and Eddie "Kid" Sullivan of Walpole will meet in their return bout of 10 rounds tonight at Highland Park, Brockton.

This bout was postponed twice last week owing to the rain.

Proulx received the decision in their first meeting.

Johnny Hanlon of Lynn meets Art Lavigne of Taunton; Tony Motrano of Foxboro faces Dean Cross of Milford; Bud Mignault of Bridgewater opposes Vito Pierro of Lynn and Pat McStay of Watertown opens the show with Charley Martin of Boston.

3500 Attend Annual Yacht Clubs Outing

The 11th annual outing of the Massachusetts Bay Yacht Clubs Association, Inc., took place yesterday at the government garrison, Ft. Andrews, Peddocks Island, with more than 3500 representatives of 31 yacht clubs and their families attending.

Patrolling the waters to prevent accidents were the Coast Guard boats from City Point station and the Harbor Police from Division 8. The Squantum Yacht Club band gave a concert during the afternoon under the direction of Charles Ray.

John Scully, director of the Industrial Bureau, represented Mayor Curley. Other guests included Z. A. Howes, supervisor of Marine Fisheries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and Reps. William P. Prendergast and Harry C. Mohr of Charlestown and Cambridge, respectively.

By special arrangements with the 1st Corps Area the freedom of the inland fortification areas was given to the yachtsmen and their guests, who followed the athletic events from atop a knoll overlooking the parade ground.

The terrace in front of the former hospital building made an ideal gallery from which to see the yacht races in the bay.

The opening athletic contest was the baseball game in which the No 1h Shore team vanquished the South Shore players, 11 to 6.

Commodore George J. Hamilton of Winthrop, head of the association, was one of the busiest men on the outing, arranging minute details and providing a good time for all.

DONIE BUSH MAY QUIT SOX IN FALL

Chicago, July 27 (AP)—The Herald and Examiner said today Donie Bush would resign as manager of the White Sox in the American League after this season.

The newspaper made its deduction from Bush's action in letting Caraway and Webb take a 22-to-5 pounding from the New York Yankees yesterday in order to reveal pitching weakness which has not been remedied by club officials at his request.

Only five of the eight moundmen are uninjured, the newspaper said, one of them being an "apprentice." Aged Red Faber had to go the route in the first game of yesterday's double-header, and Caraway had but two days of rest when he took the bill.

Bush, former pilot of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Washington Senators and Indianapolis Indians of the American Association, is in his second year as manager of the Sox. He succeeded Lena Blackburne. There have been no previous reports of friction between him and Charles Comiskey, the owner.

The Sox have just struggled out of eighth place after a long term in the cellar.

Bush's two-year contract expires in October.

White Sox Faced Tough Assignment

The Sox went to New York facing six games in four days against a club they had not defeated all season. In view of that prospect, Bush kept Pat Caraway in two games from which he should have relieved him earlier in the week. At the time it was believed to have been a measure of disciplineme on account of suspected indifference on Caraway's part. It later developed that overwork has cost him his cunning.

The home office has booked an exhibition game with Newark, N. J., Thursday. Smead Jolley, an outfielder, has offered to pitch it.

Reports that the club has abandoned all organized scouting activities in the minor leagues, except for one man in Texas, were unconfirmed.

Bush Surprised at Report He Will Quit

New York, July 27 (AP)—Donnie Bush, manager of the Chicago White Sox, expressed surprise today at reports he intended to resign, due to the club's poor showing.

"I have no intension of quitting, now or at the end of the season," Bush told the Associated Press. "My two-year contract expires with this season but I have not talked with the club about its renewal. I have had no discussion at all about next year, nor given anybody any suggestion I would be ready to step out.

"My only kick is we haven't enough pitchers, but except for the Athletics and possibly the Washington and Cleveland clubs, I guess everybody has that complaint."

DONIE BUSH FANS BACK UP LEFTY O'DOUL AGAINST 'UMP'

Cincinnati, O., July 27 (INS)—More trouble for President John A. Heydler's umpire system appeared today. Frank J ("Lefty") O'Doul refuses to take yesterday's $100 fine, imposed upon him by the league head, without making himself heard.

Upon receipt of Heydler's telegram, the fiery Brooklyn outfielder announced he intended filing a protest and bringing in more than a score of Pittsburgh fans as witnesses to the decisions of Umpire Charles Donnelly.

O'Doul, who was put out of the game by Donnelly in Pittsburgh Saturday, promptly secured the signatures and addresses of about 20 persons who expressed themselves as eager to offer testimony on the decision.

Heydler's wire told O'Doul the fine was imposed and payment expected within five days "for violation of playing rules and obscene language to the umpire."

YOUNG HEAVIES IN ACTION

New York, July 27 (AP)—Put-it follows in the New York district will get another glimpse this week of Charley Retzlaff of Duluth and Steve Hamas of Passaic, N. J., both potential heavyweight champions in the eyes of some students of the game.

Both appear on the Queensboro stadium card tomorrow night Retzlaff opposing Maxie Ges, hard hitting Spaniard in the 10 round feature, and Hamas battling Frank Petrus, veteran army fighter, in an eight-rounder.

Retzlaff has compiled an impressive record in the last year.

Complete Card for Mat Carnival

WINDUP

Gus Sonnenberg vs. Henri DeGlane (finish match, best two in three falls.)

SEMI-WINDUP

Ed Don George vs. Nick Lutze. (One fall, 45 minute time limit or until 19 p. m.)

PRELIMINARIES

Stanley Stasiak vs. Pat McGill.
Leo Manchino vs. Sailor Arnold.
Al Morelli vs. Boris Demetroff.
Joe Malcewicz vs. Freddie Meyers.
Count Zarynoff vs. John Spellman.

Jim Browning vs. Jack Wagner.
Jack Sherry vs. Jake Patterson.
Charlie Strack vs. Karol Zybsko.
"Buck" Weaver vs. "Bibber McCoy.

George McLeod vs. Glenn Wade.

Tickets at popular prices may be secured at Paul Revere's office, 118 Chauncy st. Tel Hubbard 4333.

Empire Handicaps

By ED CURLEY

New York, July 27—This afternoon the White Plains Purse for three-year-olds and up will feature the card at Empire City. This is over the mile and sixteenth route, and a good field of claimers is mentioned.

Chief's Challenger will probably get down in front. Fator will do the kicking and the king is now riding in his great form. Nursery Rhymes, on his last race, figures to capture the second money. Shawnee will like the fast track, and should be in the money.

THIRD RACE—White Plains Purse; three-year-olds and upward; claiming; mile and one-sixteenth.

Horse	Wt.	Jockey	Pr. Odds
Chief's Challenger	113	Fator	4-1
Nursery Rhymes	113	Thorber	8-1
Shawnee	113	Workman	6-1
Nadine	113	Remillard	6-1
Sun Keither	113	Miller	12-1
Gilford Arms	110	Callahan	10-1
Dreamland Boy	113	Saunders	4-1
Marie Hoss	113	Pitzsi	20-1
Royal Panoply	113	Morris	8-1
Sidney G.	116	Catrone	20-1
Castle Rock	113	Richards	20-1

FIRST RACE—Two-year-olds; claiming; five and one-half furlongs.

Horse	Wt.	Jockey	Pr. Odds
Sassy Ida	113	Remillard	4-1
Dadaee	111	Descamilla	4-1
Dopesick	113	D. Smith	6-1
Black Dreams	113	Malley	8-1
Lucky Bird	113	Wall	8-1
Sarah Jones	113	Rivera	10-1
Iron Lad	113	Harvey	15-1
Dark Tempest	113	Fator	15-1
White Blossom	113	Fleischman	15-1
The Don	113	Baker	20-1
Habanero	113	Barnes	20-1
Dexterity	113	Pascuma	20-1
Captain Ed	113	Abel	20-1

SECOND RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; claiming; about six furlongs.

Horse	Wt.	Jockey	Pr. Odds
Hard Pursuit	120	Workman	4-1
Parsell Bound	120	Workman	4-1
Nelson	120	Remillard	4-1
Nemesith	110	Smith	6-1
Lucky Partner	110	Wall	8-1
Haystack	120	Fator	10-1
Trick Bore	115	Rivera	20-1
Ali Fahumba	107	Rosiere	20-1
Wild Wave	110	Miller	20-1
Kerry Green	107	Descamilla	10-1
Time Enough	115	Baker	20-1
Nydia	107	Fleischman	20-1
Fine Time	115	Collins	20-1

FOURTH RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; claiming; about one mile and seventy yards.

Horse	Wt.	Jockey	Pr. Odds
Bateman	117	Barnes	4-1
Little Tacks	107	Callahan	6-1
Polyfos	117	Kelsay	6-1
Donna	112	Waller	8-1
Finger Tips	107	Harvey	8-1
Newton	117	D. Smith	10-1
Rosecoil	115	Stevens	15-1
Silver Canopy	115	Rivera	15-1
Rain or Shine	110	Pitzsi	15-1
Quacker	112	Remich	10-1
Sun Ship	112	Remillard	20-1
Mild	117	Fitzsi	20-1
Lee	117	Abel	20-1
Low Blows	117	Ambrose	15-1

FIFTH RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; claiming; one mile and seventy yards.

Horse	Wt.	Jockey	Pr. Odds
Gold Prize	122	Catrone	3-1
Bunkum	116	Rivera	4-1
Christie	120	Workman	5-1
Little Sap	113	Harmon	6-1
Quorum	108	D. Smith	8-1
Ferrara	114	Pascuma	10-1
Mine Sweeper	109	Callahan	12-1
Sidney	118	Harvey	20-1

SIXTH RACE—Two-year-olds; fillies maidens; five furlongs.

Horse	Wt.	Jockey	Pr. Odds
Dollar Princess	118	Barnes	3-1
Bunkum	118	Richards	4-1
Scoops	118	Remillard	8-1
Tahoe Lass	118	Harmon	8-1
Barbusse	118	Malley	8-1
Ex Avant	118	Callahan	10-1
Fair Rissche	118	Harvey	6-1
Hertfort	118	Harvey
Chilonda	118	Green	20-1
Cambaley	118	Snider	10-1
Arthurs J.	118	Catrone	20-1
Miss Nova	118	Mann	20-1
Nagreta	118	Mann	20-1

Selections

AT LATONIA

1—Essential, Grand Union, Lojo.
2—Sedan Rose, Jeanne Warne, Hravyr.
3—Shaker Lady, Beauty Bride, Smiling Mona.
4—Justintan, Double Heart, Shirl.
5—Hartzig, Don Lyon, Rhu-ben.
6—Major Haskell, Jackpine's Dream, Alyce Goldsmith.
7—Earl of Warwick, Low Gear, Rushing.

BEST BET—Jack Rose

FENWAY PARK

TODAY AT 3 P. M.

RED SOX vs. DETROIT

Seats at Horace Partridge's. Liberty 0070

TITLE MEET AT LYNN

225 ATHLETES BID FOR N. E. CROWNS

Eighteen track and field titles will be decided at the annual N. E. A. A. U. games that will be held at the General Electric Field, Lynn, tonight, starting at 7 o'clock.

With a field of more than 225 athletes contending for the honors, some of the keenest competition ever connected with the annual games is expected.

For the first time, locally the championships will be decided under floodlights.

In all there will be champions in 10 events defending their laurels of a year ago. Many are expected to come through with the honors. George Morin of Holy Cross will defend his laurels in the 100 and 220-yard run. Donald Feil of Melrose will try to win the hurdles, but he is sure to have his troubles with John Miller of Brown entered.

Many College Stars Entered in Meet

Don Fleet, the B. C. flash now competing for the B. A. A., will not go after the quarter-mile title but will confine his efforts to the half-mile. In the 880-yard run Fleet will meet George Kelly who finished second last year and Ernest Gernior who finished third a year ago.

College athletes in particular promise to play a big part in the games this evening. Some of the New England Intercollegiate champions who showed rare form at the recent New England college games at Lewiston are also out for the New England A. A. U. titles. Two in particular who will bear watching are Warren "Spike" Pike of New Hampshire University in the broad jump and Tom Gibbons of Brown in the shotput. Pike also is no slouch of a sprinter and may take the title away from George Morin of Holy Cross. Gibbons also is a dismal thrower of no mean ability and may land this event as well as the shotput. He has a mark of 45 feet 9¼ inches in the shotput.

Morang Defends High Jump Title

Al Morang, defending high jump champion, will have his troubles in the leaping event, for Curtis, Scott and Freeman are no mean jumpers. Over the 440-yard route, the days of Jake Driscoll would be recalled when the crack quarter-milers take the field, for Shea, the well known Boston quarter-miler; Bill Hanson, and Lloyd Allen are sure to deliver a race to talk about.

In all, the "New Englands" tonight look to be one of the finest sets of games ever conducted by the local organization.

GOOD GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON
"Golf's Greatest Teacher."

The path which your club follows in its swing should be as wide as you can make it, without straining at yourself. This path is called the radius of the swing. It is defined, of course by your left arm, which is the reason this arm should be kept fairly straight throughout the swing. Now if you hold your head still, and keep your left arm straight, naturally a considerable pull exerts against your middle body, resulting from the necessary turning of your upper body. Thus you maintain a stiffened right leg, which is your fulcrum, for this turning, or pivoting. By lifting, or yanking the club directly upward you greatly restrict the swing radius. Naturally the contracted and restricted swinging action will not be effective against the ball. Keep your club away from you, not close in.

(Copyright, John F. Dille Co.)

League Leaders

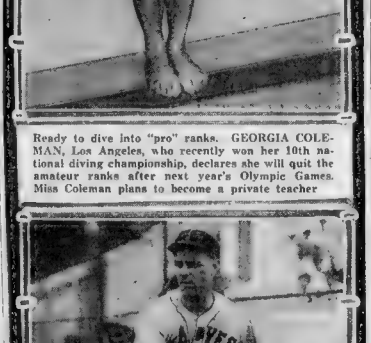
By the Associated Press
(Including games of July 26)
NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting—Roth, Yankees, .352; Simmons, Athletics, .378.
Runs—Gehrig, Yankees, 101; Roth, Yankees, 84.
Runs batted in—Gehrig, Yankees, 100; Roth, Yankees, 91.
Athletics, 145; Hunt, Athletics, 137.
Doubles—Webb, Red Sox, 44; Miller, Athletics, 32.
Triples—Simmons, Athletics, 19; West, Senators; Reynolds, White Sox, 11.
Home runs—Gehrig, Yankees, 30; Ruth, Yankees, 26.
Stolen bases—Chapman, Yankees, 20; Johnson, Tigers, 17.
Pitching—Crowder, Senators, won 11, lost 1; Grove, Athletics, won 10, lost 2.
AMERICAN LEAGUE
Batting—Grimm, Cubs, .349; Klein and Davis, Phillies, .347.
Runs—Klein, Phillies, 83; English, Cubs, 72.
Runs batted in—Klein, Phillies, 85; Hornsby, Cubs, 81.
Hits—Klein, Phillies; L. Waner, Pirates, 119.
Doubles—Hornsby, Cubs, 33; Bartell, Phillies, 30.
Triples—Traynor, Pirates, 12; Terry, Giants; Watkins, Cardinals, 11.
Home runs—Klein, Phillies, 23; Ott, Giants, 17.
Stolen bases—Comorsky, Pirates; Cuyler, Cubs; Frisch, Cardinals, 11.
Pitching—Osborn, Pirates, won 8, lost 0; Root, Cubs, won 8, lost 2; Lindsey, Cardinals, won 6, lost 0.

SPORTS REEL

DAILY SHOTS FROM EVERYWHERE

Ready to dive into "pro" ranks. GEORGIA COLEMAN, Los Angeles, who recently won her 10th national diving championship, declares she will quit the amateur ranks after next year's Olympic Games. Miss Coleman plans to become a private teacher.



Turns on former team mates. FRED FRANKHOUSE, Braves hurler, who gets credit for defeating the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday. Frankhouse held the Cards scoreless for 10 innings and then collapsed. Brandt finished up, the Tribe winning in the 11th.

Diamond Dust

By JOE CASHMAN

Our battling Braves remain idle in St. Louis today having played the game scheduled with the champion Cardinals for this p. m. as part of Sunday's doubleheader.

The Warriors are still about the toughest club in the league for the champions to beat.

They split even in Sunday's doubleheader, winning the opener in 11 innings, and losing the nightcap, which gives them a record of seven wins in twelve starts against the Streetmen to date and reduces the lead of the Mound City outfit to eight games over the Cubs, who beat the Phils and climbed into second over the Giants, who were idle.

In the first game, Fred Frankhouse, Tribal curve ball artist, and Sylvester Johnson, one of the cards' best flingers, pitched shutout ball for 10 innings. The latter weakened in the 11th and the Braves scored three runs. Frankhouse collapsed in the last half of the frame but gets credit for a win as Brandt rushed to his rescue and the best the champions could do was score twice.

The latest winning streak of the world's champion Philadelphia Athletics ended at 13 as the Indians swamped them on the slab both by a count of 13 to 2. It was one of the worst defeats suffered by the Macks this season but it didn't cost them any ground in the pennant race. They are still 13 games out in front in the race as the second-place Senators also suffered a setback, being beaten by the surprising Browns, 5 to 3.

After dropping four games in a row to the Pirates, the Brooklyn Robins moved into Cincinnati to lose the first game of a doubleheader to the Reds but in the second game they emerged from their slump by scoring five runs while Dazzy Vance was blanking the Bowlywomen with three scattered blows.

The Detroit Tigers are carrying but 19 active players, or six less than the big league limit. That must be the smallest squad in either league. Whether it is or not, the Bengals have the poorest record of any team in either league to date.

Wes Schulmerich, Braves outfielder, received news of the death of his father in California just before the start of the Sabbath twin bill in St. Louis and left the team at once to go to the coast. He will be absent at least a week.

That was a very valuable victory the Red Sox grabbed from the Tigers in the first game of their doubleheader. Had he natives lost, they would have dropped into the cellar, as the White Sox won even with the Yanks, coming from behind to win the opener in the ninth, 8 to 4, and then losing, 22 to 5.

Army Four Wins

Rumson, N. J., July 27—Lieut. R. MacKinney scored eight goals as the United States Army four conquered Rumson, 18 to 8, in the first semi-final of the Herbert Memorial Cup polo tournament here yesterday.

RIFLEMEN IN TRAINING AT WAKEFIELD

Two members of the American Service team, who won prominence at the last Olympics, are among the Marine Corps riflemen assembled from all Marine Corps stations throughout the world who are now competing in the elimination matches at the Camp Curtis Guild Rifle Range in Wakefield.

They are Gunnery Sergt. Morris Fisher, who won an Olympic championship, and H. M. Hailey, who won a title in the Olympic pistol matches.

First Lieut. P. E. Conradt, high individual scorer of the national team matches for a number of years, is back at the range staging a comeback after six years' absence from rifle shooting. Marine Gunner C. A. Lloyd, holder of the 600-yard rifle, is training at Wakefield. Other noted rifle shots at the range are Lieut. R. T. Pope, Sergt. J. R. Thorp, winner of the Palmer match a year ago; Lieut. L. S. Moore, of Wyoming, who was crack shot at the Naval Academy last year; Capt. M. A. Edson of Burlington, Vt.; J. S. Blanchard of Lawrence and Lieut. S. S. Yeaton of Auburn, Me.

Civilians Work Out at Wakefield

While the service teams are practicing at Camp Curtis Guild, the weeding out process is under way for the selection of the Massachusetts state civilian team.

This will compete with civilian teams at the Camp Perry matches.

Under Coach George L. Cutting of Worcester, there remain on the team the following men:

C. Saunders of Maynard, F. Vosahlik of Arlington, W. Bailey of Real Weymouth, A. B. Sprague of Worcester, E. H. Harnois of Lynn, H. H. Ripley of Lynn, R. S. Dolber of Waltham, F. M. Kidder of Ayer, J. Crawford of the Boston police department, W. F. Gurney of Winchester, John Land of Worcester, George Johnson of Malden, A. W. Beamish of Waltham, W. F. Ruggles of Everett, W. H. Chamberlain of Stoneham, F. E. Hart of Somerville and Patrolman Payne of the Boston police department.

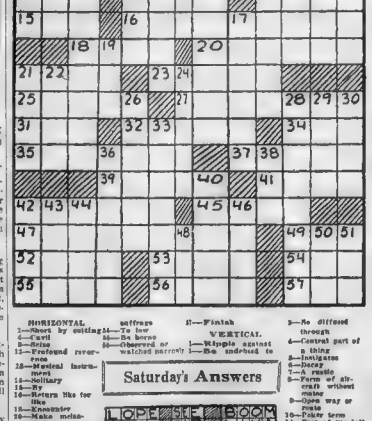
Helene Madison Breaks Swim Mark

New York, July 27. (INS)—A new American record for 500 meters, free-style, was held today by Miss Helene Madison, coast star.

A crowd estimated at 50,000 people saw the Seattle mermaid splash through the water in the record-breaking time of 7:22 3-5 in Central Park lake on Sunday.

DAILY CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

By Eugene Sheffer



HORIZONTAL
1—Short by cutting
5—Bring
12—Portugal revenue
13—Musical instrument
14—Solitary
15—By
16—Return like fur like
18—Encounter
20—Make melancholy
21—One who mimics
22—Dark bluish gray
23—Lacerate
27—Want of sorrow
31—Lair of crabs
32—Portable ledges of cavern
34—Without a main
35—Make ready
37—Knaves
38—Make awards for
41—Exclamation of regret
42—Awards
45—Lags with a sprinkling calm
47—Yawning for food or fowl
48—Possess
49—Entrance to a mine
50—Enrobes right of suffrage

51—To love
56—Be bored
58—Observed or watched narrowly

VERTICAL
1—Ripped
2—Ripples against
3—Be endowed to

5—No differed through
6—Central part of a thing
7—Indigestion
8—Decay
9—A realm
10—Form of aircraft without motor
11—Open way or route
16—Poker term
17—Part of the bo
19—Most recent
21—Dark in color
24—In the summit
25—A fruit
26—A fabric
28—Narrows
29—Marinarea
33—Outline
36—Annoys
37—Taking to eat away
39—Head of the 43—Knock
44—Choice of select part
45—Lustrous mineral
46—Mohammedan registrate
48—Barren
49—Frosted
52—Child's plaything
53—Triumphed
55—Incline the

Saturday's Answers

Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.

MAKING RADIO STARS

Evening American on the Air

THE GLOBE TROTTER

of the Boston American and Hearst Metrotone News.
A complete radio daily newspaper—110 minutes of news, markets, fashions, features, sports and special entertainment.
213 M.—STATION WAAB—1410 K. C.

7:45- 8:00 A. M.—CITY EDITION OF THE AIR.
10:30-10:45 A. M.—FEATURE PERIOD.
Mon., Wed. and Friday—Martha Lee's Homemaking Class.
Tues. and Thurs.—Ann Arden on Fashions; News; Stock Quotations.
Saturday—Feature Forecaster; News; Stock Quotations.
12:00-12:10 P. M.—MID-DAY STOCK QUOTATIONS; NEWS
12:10-12:15 P. M.—FEATURES.
Wednesdays—Uncle Ted.
2:30- 2:45 P. M.—STATE STREET EDITION OF THE AIR
Stock Market Quotations; News Flashes
6:35- 6:45 P. M.—SPORTS FINAL EDITION OF THE AIR.
News Flashes; Sports Results; Features.
10:30-10:45 P. M.—NIGHT FINAL EDITION OF THE AIR.
SUNDAY—News Bulletins, 6:35 to 6:45 p. m.; 8:30 to 8:45 p. m.

Ten High Spots

6:00—WAAB—Views and Interviews.
6:45—WAAB—Bird and Vash.
8:15—WEEI—Weber and Fields.
8:30—WBZ—Gypsies.
9:00—WNAC—Crime Club.
9:30—WBZ—Real Folks.
10:00—WBZ—Express.
10:30—WNAC—Scott Furriers present "Arabesque."
11:00—WAAB—Dr. Julius Klein.
11:15—WEEI—Fan-American program.

For Those Who Dance

7:00—WAAB—Dietators.
9:00—WAAB—Alpert Orchestra.
9:00—WBZ—Bargy Orchestra.
9:30—WNAC—Evening in Paris.
10:00—WNAC—Lombardo music.
10:45—WEEI—Guardsmen.
11:15—WAAB—Henderson music.
11:25—WBZ—Joe Rines music.
11:30—WAAB—Bert Lown music.
12:00—WNAC—Meeker Orchestra.

5:00 P. M.
WAAB—Dancing by the Sea
WNAC Ted and Greeter Gang
WBZ—Peggy Winthrop.
WEEI—Dancemians
WLOE—Greater Boston Merchants'
5:15 P. M.
WBZ—Gems of Melody.
5:30 P. M.
WAAB—"At the Beach."
WNAC—Dance Tunes.
WBZ—Organ.
WHDH—Broadcast to Fishermen.
5:45 P. M.
WNAC Uncle Ben.
WBZ Talk; National Affairs
WHDH Musical program.
6:00 P. M.
WAAB—Views and Interviews
WNAC—Opera Cameos
WBZ—Bill Whipple; Sport Review
WEEI—Old Man Sunshine.
WLOE Mother Goose
6:15 P. M.
WAAB—Kate Smith
WNAC—World's Business
WBZ—Troubadours
6:30 P. M.
WAAB—Baseball scores; American Globe Trotter.
WNAC—Roy Atwell.
WEEI—6:35) News
WHDH—News records.
WLOE—Daily Record hour, musical program; news
6:45 P. M
WAAB—Bird and Vash.
WNAC—Big Brother
WBZ—Lowell Thomas topic
WEEI—Stebbins Brothers.
7:00 P. M.
WAAB—Dictators
WNAC—Baseball scores, news
WBZ—Ames 'n' And;
WEEI—Old Painter; organ.
7:15 P. M.
WAAB—One Man Band.
WNAC—Dennis King.
WBZ—Jesters
WHDH—Song program.
7:30 P. M.
WAAB—Ford Hall Forum
WNAC—Time
WBZ—Phil Cook
WEEI—Will Dodge music.
WHDH—Variety program
WLOE—Joan Adair, contralto
7:50 P. M.
WAAB—Recital.
8:00 P. M.
WAAB—Gossipers

WNAC—Pryor's Band
WBZ—Baritone recital.
WEEI—Rita Montellier.
WLOE—Song program.
8:15 P. M.
WAAB—Recital.
WNAC—Cole and McLaughlin
WBZ—Cole and McLaughlin.
WEEI—Weber and Fields.
8:30 P. M.
WAAB—Gypsy Sweethearts.
WNAC—Bon Bons.
WBZ—Ensemble.
WEEI—Gypsies.
8:45 P. M.
WAAB—Major P. C. Borre
WNAC—Gloom Chasers
WHDH—Twilight Tunes.
9:00 P. M.
WAAB—Alpert Orchestra.
WNAC—Crime Club.
WBZ—Roy Bargy music.
WLOE—Piano; tenor.
9:30 P. M.
WAAB—Organ.
WNAC—Evening in Paris.
WBZ—Real Folks.
WEEI—Family Party
WLOE—Peterson's Orchestra.
9:45 P. M.
WNAC—Summer Daze.
10:00 P. M.
WAAB—Dunstaffnay's Orchestra.
WNAC—Guy Lombardo music.
WBZ—Express.
WEEI—Mary and Bob adventures
10:30 P. M
WAAB—American Globe Trotter.
WNAC—Scott Furriers present "Arabesque."
Frank Kaney, Charles Warburton, Adelaide Klein, Carlin Conkeey, Jack McBride, Georgia Backus.
WBZ—Mr. Bones and Company
10:45 P. M.
WAAB—Melody Mirror.
WEEI—Guardsmen.
11:00 P. M.
WAAB—Dr. Julius Klein.
WNAC—Baseball scores; news
WBZ—Bill Whipple; sports talk.
WEEI—(11.06) News
11:15 P. M.
WAAB—Henderson Orchestra.
WNAC—Organ.
WBZ—Hungry Five; Rines music.
WEEI—Pan American program.
11:30 P. M.
WAAB—Bert Lown music.
WNAC—Mickie Alpert music.
12 MID.
WNAC—Meeker Orchestra.
12:30 A. M.
WNAC—Nocturne.

Outside Stations

WEAN—Opera Famers
WJAR—News Cap Room music
WORC—Opera Cameos
WTAG—Jesters
WCSH—Studio program
6:15 P. M.
WORC—World's Business
WTAG—World's Business
6:30 P. M.
WEAN—Roy Atwell
WORC—Roy Atwell
WTAG—News; baseball scores
WCSH—News
6:45 P. M.
WEAN—Addie Dowling.
WJAR—Stebbins Boys
WORC—Big Brother
WTAG—Dunstaffnay Hova
WCSH—Stebbins Boys
7:00 P. M.
WEAN—Baseball scores; news
WJAR—Lure of the Tropics.
WORC—Dictators
WTAG—Concert
WCSH—Jesters' Minstrels
7:15 P. M.
WEAN—Jimmie King
WORC—Dennis King
WTAG—Lure of the Tropics.
7:30 P. M.
WEAN—Miller and Lyle.
WJAR—Organ
WORC—Miller and Lyle.
WTAG—Organ
WCSH—Come to Maine
7:45 P. M.
WEAN—Quarter hour, Morton Downey.
WORC—Quarter hour, Morton Downey.
8:00 P. M.
WEAN—Pryor's Band.
WJAR—Vincent Raimes.
WORC—Pryor's Band.
WTAG—Theatre.
WCSH—"How's Business"
8:15 P. M.
WEAN—Slagle' Bam
WJAR—Weber and Fields
WORC—Gypsy Sweethearts.
WTAG—Weber and Fields.
WCSH—Weber and Fields.
8:30 P. M.
WEAN—Bon Bons

Outside Stations

WEAN—Opera Famers
WJAN—News Cap Room music
WORC—Opera Cameos
WTAG—Jesters
WCSH—Studio program
6:15 P. M.
WORC—World's Business
WTAG—World's Business
6:30 P. M.
WEAN—Roy Atwell
WORC—Roy Atwell
WTAG—News; baseball scores
WCSH—News
6:45 P. M.
WEAN—Addie Dowling.
WJAR—Stebbins Boys
WORC—Big Brother
WTAG—Dunstaffnay Hova
WCSH—Stebbins Boys
7:00 P. M.
WEAN—Baseball scores; news
WJAR—Lure of the Tropics.
WORC—Dictators
WTAG—Concert
WCSH—Jesters' Minstrels
7:15 P. M.
WEAN—Jimmie King
WORC—Dennis King
WTAG—Lure of the Tropics.
7:30 P. M.
WEAN—Miller and Lyle.
WJAR—Organ
WORC—Miller and Lyle.
WTAG—Organ
WCSH—Come to Maine
7:45 P. M.
WEAN—Quarter hour, Morton Downey.
WORC—Quarter hour, Morton Downey.
8:00 P. M.
WEAN—Pryor's Band.
WJAR—Vincent Raimes.
WORC—Pryor's Band.
WTAG—Theatre.
WCSH—"How's Business"
8:15 P. M.
WEAN—Slagle' Bam
WJAR—Weber and Fields
WORC—Gypsy Sweethearts.
WTAG—Weber and Fields.
WCSH—Weber and Fields.
8:30 P. M.
WEAN—Bon Bons

Boston Stations

Kilocycles		Meters
1410	WAAB	213
1250	WNAC	240
990	WBZ	303
590	WEEI	508
1500	WLOE	200
530	WHDH	361
920	WBSO	326

WJAR—Gypsies
WORC—Bon Bons
WTAG—Gypsies
WCSH—Gypsies
8:45 P. M
WEAN—Grooms Chasers
WORC—Gloom Chasers
9:00 P. M.
WEAN—Crime Club.
WORC—Alpert Orchestra
9:30 P. M.
WEAN—Evening in Paris. Summer time
WJAR—Family Party
WORC—Daugherty's orchestra
WTAG—Family Party
WCSH—Family Party
10:00 P. M.
WEAN—Guy Lombardo's orchestra
WJAR—Mary and Bob Adventures
WORC—Boxing bouts
WTAG—Adventures of Mary and Bob
WCSH—Adventures of Mary and Bob
10:30 P. M
WEAN—Scott Furriers present "Arabesque
WORC—Arabesque
10:45 P. M.
WJAR—Guardsmen
WTAG—Guardsmen
WCSH—Harry Rogers Orchestra
11:00 P. M.
WEAN—News, baseball scores and
WJAR—News; baseball scores
WORC—Henderson Orchestra
WTAG—News
WCSH—News
11:30 P. M
WEAN—Mickie Alpert's orchestra
WORC—Bert Lown Orchestra
12:00 M.
WJAR—Jan Garber Orchestra
12:00 A. M.
WEAN—Nocturne

Air Favorites to Be Built Up

Broadcasters Adopt New Policy

Studying stars is one thing, but making them is another. Astrologers and radio bosses will agree that it takes no little money and patience to do both. The former use their eyes, while the latter employ what are becoming very critical, oversized ears. Astrology has always taught that only with new discovery can star students hope for fame.

Jupiter Mars Saturn and Venus are already known to exist up there in the heavens, consequently all effort is expected to reveal planets presently obscure.

Now that not one creatures with shining qualities are sought, star gazing actually comes to pass in radiomart. Not content with constant and repeated presentation of established radio stars, microphone magic has a wide eye glued to the telescope and sensitive ears pinned to desk speaker.

Radio's more or less splendid idea of developing virgin talent, depends entirely on how it works. Only one other competitor to probe into its secret powers, namely the movies, encourages far more nobly.

MASS PRODUCTION LOOMS

The star hunting idea has been a matter of exploration at Pinafore. A sudden decision to broadcast shorties to become a new manufacturing industry, with a newly emergent American industry. Public approval will attend its effort, providing mixture ever exists to maintain high standards of fair play.

It is a commendable plan as outlined. NBC officials announce that new personalities will be turned loose on the air and lifted to fame by carefully arranged productions. Among the first of these is Dorothy Daubel, exceptional pianist, scheduled for regular spot beginning Aug. 14. Skyrocketing, rather than lifting these new "finds" to hoped for, as radio might succeed in finding top support of the great and publicity.

* * *

FEAR AND TREMBLING

Reports say Ted Husing, David Ross and Norman Brokenshire quiver and shake to beat the band upon favoring television gadgets installed by CBS. Doubt exists over that boys of sport programs continue to develop.

* * *

Boy Brother Bob Emery believes in the public writing in or wiring opinions on air performers. In such a way, program men are aided in the selection of talent. He has been a production man himself and is helping out a lot right now at WNAC. Bob claims a production supervisor shaping up radio offerings is like a waiter telling one what to eat. He prefers to go on the air with something he knows to be in demand by listeners.

* * *

ROAD TO RECOVERY

Oodles of fan mail has come to Alden (WBZ) Redmond, who asks your Uncle N. F. T. to express his appreciation to all those ear cuppers, who thought of him while he was confined to a hospital bed. Aidan is looked for back on duty at WBZ shortly, recuperating meanwhile at N. Hanover.

* * *

A prominent radio performer, remembered for his "Peter Zorn" bits and also half of the "Joe and Vi" series, has a funny one he tells on himself. He bumped into a fellow accidentally in the WABC lobby last week and the offended one turned on him exclaiming "You think you're smart, don't you?" In a hurry, the star retorted over his shoulder, "Yes, I'm Jack Smart." He was quick witted and correct.

* * *

A local radio writer first name Stevie gets a tremendous wallop when referred to here as "opposition." Nothing like a little flattery . . . Whoopee!

* * *

John Charles Thomas lands on these shores tomorrow. Stepping from the Ile de France gangplank, he begins immediate rehearsal for his programs that begin Thursday evening over NBC networks, which is fast work. N. F. T.

POLITICS

Notes and Gossip About People You Know

Sergt. Martin Joyce of the state police has been placed in charge of the new automatic teletype system connecting the substations of the patrol with headquarters at the State House. Sergt. Joyce is a son of the late Martin Joyce, who for many years was secretary-treasurer and legislative agent of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor.

FRIENDS AID KIERNAN

Friends of Hugh E. Kiernan of West End, who is again a candidate for City Council from Ward 3, plan to conduct a series of dances and whist parties with a view to raising a fund to carry on his campaign against Councillor John I. Fitzgerald of that district, who is to seek re-election. Kiernan ran third in the campaign for that office in 1928. This year, however, he expects to have a dozen of the younger ward leaders under his banner.

ADDS TO COLLECTION

DeWitt C. DeWolf, secretary to Governor Ely, has a sizeable collection of autographed photographs of prominent Democratic statesmen. The latest in the collection is one from former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York.

CLAMBAKE PROMISED

Rep. Louis Pfeiffer of Concord says he is going to give that promised clambake to the members of the House on Labor Day. Pfeiffer is actively campaigning for the speakership of the next House.

RETH TO WAR ON ALIENS

State Fire Marshal John W. Reth expects to devote some time to ridding the state and the country of aliens serving time in Massachusetts jails for the crime of incendiarism as soon as he gets the Reverend hearings out of the way. The marshal intends to move for their deportation.

LEVERONI MENTIONED

Judge Frank Leveroni is being mentioned as a possible candidate for Mayor of Lynn. Should he enter the contest Judge Leveroni will have the distinction of being the first person of Italian ancestry to seek that office. He has long been active in the judicial and civic life of the city and among other things is a trustee and director of several institutions.

MISS DALTON RETURNS

Miss Mary Dalton of the city employes credit union in City Hall returned to duty today after a two weeks vacation during which she visited New York, Baltimore and Wilmington, Del.

EARLE CULTIVATES ROSES

George W. Earle, head master of Hyde Park high school, has one of the most delightful hobbies of any city employe. He cultivates roses and has many varieties in bloom at his home in Central ave., Hyde Park.

Tune In On WAAB
Every Tuesday and Thursday at
10:30 A. M.
For Interesting Broadcasts on "FASHIONS"
by
ANN ARDEN
Fashion Editor of the Boston American

"TRUE STORY" HOUR
now on National Broadcasting Co. stations
MONDAY NIGHTS!
Hear these thrilling radio programs every Monday evening instead of on Fridays. Now brought to you over the National Broadcasting Company's red network.
TUNE IN ON STATION WEEI AT 10:00 O'CLOCK, E. D. S. T.

OUR DAILY FOOD
SOLDIER MEALS
A day in training camp with Colonel Woolley as told to Ruth Lyons
STATION WBZ at 8:45 and WEEI at 9:45 A. M.

RAILS LOWER IN DULL WALL ST. TRADING

New York, July 27—A gradual sag in the rail shares imparted a somewhat heavy tone to the stock market in Wall Street today, but it was one of the dullest sessions of recent years, with total sales around 600,000 shares.

Industrials held up well. U. S. Steel gained about a point, and American Can retained part of an extreme rise of 2 points.

RAILS SELL DOWN

Auburn, however, lost more than 10, and in the rails, losses of 1 to 3 appeared in Baltimore and Ohio, New Haven and Union Pacific, while Norfolk and Western lost 6.

Apparent checking of the flow of gold from London to Paris and expectation of early resumption of more normal banking activity in Germany were reassuring. International bankers were not prepared to place any immediate interpretation upon the change of government in Cuba.

The stock market was held in check by the approach of U. S. Steel's quarterly meeting, tomorrow afternoon.

So far as is known here, American properties in Chile have not been particularly affected by the change in government. These properties include some of the most valuable copper deposits. American capital is also well represented in the new government sponsored nitrate monopoly.

SITUATION IN CHILE

Chile is the only country in the world having workable deposits of natural nitrate of soda. The development of synthetic nitrate production, however, is offering increasing competition for the Chilean product, and the market has been depressed by the breaking up of the European sales cartel.

Sterling exchange on both New York and Paris attained levels at which gold shipments would be unprofitable, but the margin of safety was not wide.

Interest in the controversy over maintenance of wage scales was revived by news that Secretary of Commerce Lamont had mentioned a shrewd Island member of Congress that the lengthening of the recession had imposed difficulties for corporations not well protected by reserves.

Second quarter earnings statements are reflecting the effects of rigid economies in many instances. One tabulation of the results of the second quarter for 107 industrial concerns shows a gain of about 60 per cent over the first quarter, and a shrinkage of nearly 22 per cent from the like period of last year. This evidently includes many small concerns, however, and is far from a complete picture.

CORN GOES UP IN CHICAGO

Chicago, July 27 (AP)—Jumping 3 cents a bushel, corn today display ed nervousness regarding month-end difficulties in settling July contracts as a crop of farmers from heat and drouth. More than 7,000,000 bushels of July corn contracts awaited final adjustment. Traders who are short of corn have only until Friday to cover their accounts or deliver the grain.

Corn closed 2¾-2¾ cents advanced, wheat 1¾-1¾ off to ¼ cent up, oats ¼-¾ down and provisions varying from 10 cents setback to 10 cents gain.

Baltinger Electric Adds to Sales Force

Business of the Baltinger Electric Company is running at an annual rate of $1,600,000 now, according to the company's head. This has necessitated an increase in its sales force within the past month.

It is stated further by this official that wages are being maintained on the 1930 basis. The company is a retailer of all types of electrical devices and fixtures.

Firmness in Sugar Market Maintained

Sugar market maintained its firm undertone during the past week's trading, and the week closed with holders of raw sugar asking 1.80 cents a pound. Futures prices on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange appeared to be lagging behind the outside raw sugar market, however.

Trading Slows Up as Bonds Sell Off

New York, July 27—After opening steady to firm on active trading bond prices declined generally today and trading slackened. Foreign obligations provided most of the sharper fluctuations. Trading in German issues was much quieter than at times last week and both the 5½s and 7s of the national government moved good sales.

Bulk Gasoline Price in Chicago Stronger

Better sentiment created by the action of certain purchasers in the midcontinent field in raising posted prices was reflected in the Chicago bulk gasoline market by an advance of about ¼ cent in United States motor gasoline, which ruled at 3 cents a gallon, against 2¾ to 3 cents previously.

Canadian National to Push Cruises

Canadian National Steamships plans to operate series of weekly cruises from Boston to Bermuda and return next winter in addition to regular service to and from Boston, by vessels now operating in Canadian-West Indies service.

Approximate Sales Today, 600,000 Shares
Week ago, 400,000
Year ago, 994,230

NEW STOCK EXCHANGE

1931 to date, 360,073,098
1930 to date, 832,058,040
1929 to date, 832,380,870

A

1931 High	1931 Low	Div. in $		Sales Complete	Open	High	Low	Close	Net Change
32	19	..	Abitibi Pw pf	100	19½	19¾	19½	19½	..
23½	11¾	1	Adams Ex	700	14½	14¾	14¼	14¼	¼
3¾	1¾	..	Adams Ex pf	100	2	2	2	2	..
20¼	4½	.40	Alaska Juneau	2400	15	15¾	14¾	15⅛	+ ⅛
4¾	2¼	..	Allegh Corp	100	3½	3½	3½	3½	..
182¾	102¾	6‡	Allied Chem	1300	112	114	112	113	..
12⅜	12⅜	7	Allied Ch pf	100	124½	124½	124	124	..
18⅜	8	1	Allis Chalm	100	24¾	24¾	24¾	24¾	..
18⅝	8	1	Alpha Port C	400	14¾	14¾	13	13	— 1½
23	15½	2	Amerada	100	18½	18½	18½	18½	..
29¾	11¾	..	Am At Chem	100	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾	..
62¾	34½	2	Am Bk Note	100	39	39	39	39	..
96¾	54	3	Am Bk N pf	100	91	91	91	91	..
31	25⅞	2 43	Am Br R	100	28¾	28¾	28¾	28¾	— ⅛
123¾	92¼	4	Am Can	2000	97¾	99¼	97¾	98¾	+ 1¼
28¼	5	..	Am Car & F	700	17¾	17¾	17¼	17¼	— ⅜
8	98¼	7	Am C & F pf	20	61¾	61¾	61¾	61¾	— 1¾
18	8¾	..	Am Encaust T	100	9	9	9	9	..
13⅝	10⅜	..	Am Europ Sec	100	20½	20½	20½	20½	..
51¾	21¼	4	Am Europ Sec	3603	26¾	28¼	26¾	28¼	+ 1¾
31¾	16¾	3	Am Int	1000	21	21	21	21	..
26	9¾	..	Am Intern	1100	13¾	14¾	13¾	14¼	+ ⅝
43⅜	28	1 40	Am M & Fdy	100	32½	32½	32½	32½	..
5¾	1	..	Am Metal	100	2¾	3⅛	2¾	3⅛	+ ⅜
7	5	..	Am M & Metal	100	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾	+ ⅛
19⅜	8¾	..	Am N Gas pf	50	10¾	10¾	10¾	10¾	— ⅛
64¾	30⅜	14	Am Pw & Lt	1430	34¾	35	34¾	34¾	— ⅛
84	73⅜	4	Am P & L 8 pf	400	73¾	73¾	73	73	— ⅜
85	73⅜	5	Am P & L 6 pf	400	73¾	73¾	73¼	73¼	— ⅜
102	88	6	Am P&L 6pf pf	100	89⅝	89⅝	89⅝	89⅝	— ⅛
21½	11½	60	Am R & SR	300	12¾	13	12¾	13	+ ⅛
11⅜	6¾	..	Am Roll M	200	20¾	21	20¾	21	+ ⅛
66	45	5	Am Safety R	100	50½	50½	50¼	50¼	+ ⅛
6¾	2¾	..	Am Snuff pf	20	47½	47½	47½	47½	..
45	24	3	Am Steel Fdy	400	33¼	33¾	33¼	33½	+ ⅜
4⅝	1¾	..	Am Sm Sec pf	100	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾	..
49¾	30⅜	14	Am Sug Ref	100	34¾	34¾	34¼	34¼	— ⅜
201¾	156⅜	9	Am Tel & Tel	4200	173¾	175¾	173¾	175¾	+ 1¾
128⅝	98⅜	5	Am Tobacco	400	118½	119	118	118	— ⅛
107¾	107¾	7	Am Tob B'd	100	123¼	123¼	121¾	122	+ 1
80¼	40⅜	3	Am Water W	100	47¾	47¾	47¾	47¾	+ 1¼
107	58⅜	6	Am W W & El	100	101	101	101	101	— ⅛
113⅜	88	6	Am Woolen	2400	7	7	7	7	— ⅜
39½	20¼	..	Am Woolen pf	5400	23	25¼	22	25¼	+ 3⅜
5¾	3	..	Am Zinc	200	5	5	5	5	..
41⅜	26	..	Am Zinc pf	400	41½	41½	41½	41½	..
43¾	18¾	1.50	Anaconda	4800	24¾	25¾	24¾	25⅜	+ ⅝
70½	40	..	Anacon W 1 pf	100	20¾	21	21	21	..
4½	1¼	..	Armour Ill A	300	2	2	2	2	..
7¾	..	..	Armour Ill B	700	1¼	1¾	1¼	1¼	..
17	10¼	..	Armour Ill pf	100	14¼	14¼	14¼	14¼	..
5	1	..	Art Loom	20	3¾	5¾	5¾	5¾	..
28¾	14¾	2 50	Asso D G	100	24¾	25	24¾	25	+ ⅛
10¾	8	..	Asso D G 1st	100	9¾	9¾	9¾	9¾	..
203⅜	132¾	10	Atchison	1400	156¾	157¾	155¾	155¾	— 1
106⅛	103⅜	3	Atchison pf	100	105	105	105	105	..
23⅜	11⅜	1	Atl Refin	100	15¼	15¼	15¼	15¼	+ ⅛
45½	10¼	44	Auburn Auto	1400	155	155	143	146	— 10¼
2¾	1	..	Autnesize	400	1¾	2	1¾	2	+ ⅛
69	41	..	Avia Corp	700	3¾	3¾	3¼	3¾	..

B

27⅜	9⅜	..	Baldwin Loc	100	12¾	12¾	12½	12¾	..
104½	70	7	Baldwin Loc pf	10	75¾	75¾	75¾	75¾	..
87¾	45½	5	Balt & Ohio	4600	53¾	53¾	52	52¾	— 1¾
80⅛	55½	4	Balt & Ohio pf	200	71¾	71¾	70	70	— 1¾
107	101¾	6.75	Bamberg Pr pf	100	105¾	105¾	105¾	105¾	..
11	..	..	Barker Bros	100	3	3	3	3	..
14¾	5¾	1	Barnsdall A	100	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	+ ⅛
72	32	3	Bayuk Cigars	700	25	26	25	26	+ ⅛
90	82½	7	Bayuk 1st pf	10	12¾	12¾	12¾	12¾	..
24½	14⅜	1	Bendix Aviat	1300	19¾	20¼	19¾	20¼	+ ⅜
57¾	31⅜	2	Bethlehem St	14300	41¼	42¾	41¼	42¾	+ ⅜
123⅜	96¾	7	Beth Stl pf	300	107½	107½	107½	107½	..
40⅜	20¾	1.50	Bohn Alum	700	33¾	33¾	33¼	33¾	+ ⅛
60	50	5h	Bonsack	200	62	62	62	62	+ ½
78½	47	3d	Borden Co	1900	57¾	58¼	57¾	58¼	+ ⅜
30⅜	14¾	1	Borg Warner	2000	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾	— ⅛
4	1	..	Briscoe Mills	10	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾	..
22¾	8¼	1 82½	Briggs Mfg	210	12¾	13¾	12¾	13¼	+ ⅜
78	10½	..	Brockway M pf	100	9	9	9	9	..
14¾	7¾	..	Bkln Man Tr	300	58¾	58¾	58¾	58¾	..
44⅜	32¾	3	Brown Shoe	600	44¾	45¼	44¾	45¼	+ ⅜
14¾	6	..	Brunswk Bal	100	7¾	7¾	7¾	7¾	..
20½	11¾	1	Bucyrus Erie	100	12¾	12¾	11¾	12	— ⅛
4¾	20¼	2.50	Buff E & P pf	700	22¾	22¾	21¾	22	+ ⅜
2¾	1¼	..	Curtis Pub	100	2	2	2	2	..
17	7½	1	Budd Wheel	400	8¾	8¾	8½	8⅝	..
2¾	1½	..	Butte Copper	100	2	2	2	2	..
3¾	1¾	..	Butte & Sup	200	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾	..
20¾	6	..	Butterick	200	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾	..
69¾	23¾	..	Byers A M	1600	26¾	29¼	26¾	29¼	+ 1¾

C

43⅜	23¾	..	Cal & Ariz	200	38¾	39¼	38	38	— 2
13⅜	3	..	Cal & Hecla	300	7	7	5½	6⅜	— ⅜
39⅜	23¾	..	Calumet & Ariz	100	39¾	39¾	39¾	39¾	..
45⅜	24½	1.25	Can Pac	3500	25¾	25¾	25¼	25⅝	— ⅛
52¾	31¼	..	Capital Ad	1000	14¾	15¾	14¾	15¾	+ ⅝
131¾	59⅛	6	Case J I	2600	84	88¾	83½	87¾	+ 3¾
116	95	7	Case Threshg pf	10	98¾	98¾	98¾	98¾	— 1¼
52¾	27¾	2	Caterpil Tr	1300	31¾	32¾	31¾	32¾	+ ⅝
20¾	16⅝	8	Cen RR NJ	100	174	174	174	174	..
8¾	2½	..	Century Ribn	100	5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾	— ⅛
24¾	14	1	Cerro De Pas	200	17	17	17	17	— ⅛
23¾	7¾	..	Chesler Cab	100	9¼	9¼	9¼	9¼	..
46⅜	27	2.30	Ches & Ohio	1400	34¾	34¾	34¾	34¾	— ⅛
2⅜	⅜	..	Chi Allois	1400	¾	¾	¾	¾	..
4¾	1¾	..	Chi & Alton pf	2100	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞	..
11	4	..	Ch Gt West	100	6¾	6¾	6¾	6¾	..
27½	15¾	1.50	Chi Gt W pf	200	25¾	25¾	25¾	25¾	+ ⅛
15¾	4¾	..	CM St P&P pf	300	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	— ⅛
45¾	15¾	..	Chi & Ind W	400	29	29	28¾	28¾	..
15¾	15¾	..	Chi Pneu pf	100	20	20	20	20	..
33¾	17¾	2.40	Childs Co	1200	20½	20½	19	19	— 1¾
25¾	15¾	..	Chrysler	2000	22	22¼	21¾	21¾	— ⅜
90	77¾	6.50	C I & E pf	10	80	80	80	80	..
22⅜	13	2	Clark Equip	100	15	15	15	15	..
23⅜	24	..	Clett Peab	100	31¼	31¼	31¼	31¼	+ ⅛
70	13⅞	7 2‡	Coca Cola	100	141¼	141¼	141¼	141¼	..
52¾	31¾	2	Colg & Pet	100	32	32	32	32	..
50½	40	2.50	Colgate Palm	100	44¾	44¾	44¾	44¾	+ ⅛
17⅜	9	..	Collins & Alk	300	12¼	12¼	12¼	12¼	+ ⅛
61¾	55	1	Col Carbon	100	57	57	57	57	..
44¾	20¾	2	Columbia Gas	3600	29	29¾	28¾	29¾	+ ⅝
109½	98	6	Col G & E pf	200	105	105	105	105	— ⅛
1¾	⅝	.56	Col Graph	600	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞	..
3¼	1¼	2	Com Credit	300	15¼	16	15¼	16	..
89	44¾	2	Com Ed	1300	87¾	88	87¾	88	..
21¼	10¾	1	Com Solvents	6700	16¼	17	16¼	18¾	+ ⅜
12¾	6¾	.40	Conn & So	4900	7¾	8	7¾	8	+ ⅛
17¾	6¾	..	Consol Distrs	400	12¾	12¾	12¾	12¾	+ ⅛
15⅜	3¾	..	Cons Film	400	7¼	7¼	7	7	..
18¾	10½	2	Cons Film pf	100	13¾	14¼	13¾	14¼	..
13¾	6¾	.40	Consol Oil	400	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	..
109¾	94	6	Consol Rubber	100	94	94	94	94	..
107	101½	9	Coons Gas pf	100	106¼	106	106	106	— ⅜
3¾	1¾	..	Cont Textile	100	¾	¾	¾	¾	..
35	16	..	Con Laundry	200	13	13	13	13	..
3¾	1¼	..	Cont Baking B	100	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾	+ ⅛
45¾	24¾	2.50	Cont Can	1000	45	45¾	45	45¾	+ ⅜
57¾	34	2.40	Cont Ins	100	39	39	39	39	..
6¾	2¼	..	Cont Motors	100	2½	2¾	2½	2¾	— ⅛
11¾	4	..	Cont Mot pf	100	5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾	— ⅛
7	2	..	Cont Shares	2500	4¾	4¾	4½	4½	— ⅛
166¾	65¾	3.50	Cont Sec Pred	100	65¾	65¾	65¾	65¾	+ ⅛
8¾	6¼	..	Cotv Inc	100	8	8
35	16	..	Cub-Am Sug pf	30	31	31	31	31	+ ⅛
7¾	¾	..	Cuba Cn Prod	100	1¼	1¼	1¼	1¼	..
3¾	1¾	..	Cuban D R	7300	¼	¼	¼	¼	..
118¾	112¾	7	Curtis Pub pf	1100	114	114	114	114	..
17¾	6¾	..	Curtiss Wright	3100	7	7	7	7	..
11¾	4	..	Curtiss Wri A	100	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾	..
14¾	7¼	..	Cutler Hamm	100	19¾	19¾	19¼	19¼	— ⅜

D

21	8¾	..	Davison Chem	700	11¾	12	11¾	12	+ ⅛
102¾	107½	9	Del & Hud	100	118	118	118	118	— 1¾
10¾	4¾	4	Del L & W	100	56	56	56	56	— ⅛
13¾	6¾	..	Diamond Mat	600	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾	..
13¾	8¾	1	Dome Mines	600	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾	..
13¾	6¾	1	Dom S Coal	200	9¾	9¾	9¾	9¾	..
78¾	61¾	4	Drug Inc	4200	70¾	72	70¾	71¾	+ 1
127¾	118¾	6	Dupont Del	5000	125¾	127	125¾	127	+ 1¼
124	118¾	6	DuPont pf	100	123¾	123¾	123¾	123¾	— ⅜

E

185¾	118	7.50	Eastman K	6100	139	140	138	138	..
21¾	9¼	1.60	Eaton Axle	700	14¾	14¾	14¼	14¾	— ⅛
11¾	5¾	..	Edw Auto Sp	700	39	39	39	39	..
60¾	30⅜	1	Elec P & L	7300	36¾	37½	36¾	37½	+ 1⅛
108¾	92¾	7	Elec P & L pf	100	99½	99½	99½	99½	— ⅛
44	25	5	Electrol Inst	400	41	41	41	41	..
91	75	5	Elec Pd pf ww	100	77½	77½	77½	77½	+ ½
15¾	2?	2.50	Equit O Bldg	100	27¾	27¾	27¾	27¾	..

F

12¾	5	..	Eureka Vac Cl	300	5	5	5	5	..
79½	15	1.60	Fairbanks M	700	14¼	14¼	14	14	— ⅜
7¾	5	.40	Fed Motor	100	5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾	..
30	15¾	2.40	Fed Water S	200	13¾	14¾	13¾	14¼	+ ⅜
36¾	36¼	2.80	Fidelity Phnx	200	43¾	43¾	43¾	44¼	+ ⅜
59	41	2.50	First Nat St	100	58	58½	58	58	— ⅛
84½	21¼	3.20	Foster-Whl Co	100	28	28	28	28	+ ⅛

G

32½	20½	..	Fourth Nat Inv	100	27	27	27	27	..
38½	31¾	3	Fox Film A	4000	35	35¾	35	35⅜	+ ⅜
42¾	21¾	3	Freeport Tex	100	29¼	29¾	28¾	28¾	— ⅜
50¾	42	5	Gamewell	20	46¾	46¾	46¾	46¾	+ ⅛
27¾	12¾	1	Gen Am Tank	100	18¾	19	18¾	18¾	— ⅛
47	15¾	3	Gen Asphalt	100	24¾	24¾	24¾	24¾	— ⅛
35¾	17	2	Gen Baking	100	20¾	20¾	20	20	..
	3	..	Gen Cable 7 pf	10	12	12	12	12	..
54¼	16	1.60	Gen Elec	8600	40	40¾	40	40¾	..
12¾	11¾	.40	Gen El Spec	100	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾	..
42¾	31¾	3	Gen Foods	2000	48	48	48	48	+ ⅛
58	4	3	Gen Foods	200	48	48	48	48	+ ⅛
50	25¾	3	Gen Mills	100	38¾	39	38¾	39	+ ⅛
92	86	6	Gen Motors	1400	88	89¾	88	89¾	+ ⅜
10¾	4	..	Gen Outdr Adv	100	4	4	4	4	— ⅛
63¾	11¾	..	Gen Realty	100	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾	..
7	2	3	Gen Refract	100	25	25	25	25	..
15	2	..	Gen Theaters	100
50	40	1.40	Gillette	2500	43¾	43¾	43¾	43¾	— ⅛
78	48	7	Gimbel Bros	10	72	72	72	72	..
19¾	18¾	2	Glidden Co	100	18¾	18¾	18¾	18¾	..
42¼	21	2 50	Gobel Adolf	100	7¼	7¼	7¼	7¼	..
42¼	21	2 50	Gobel Adolf	100	7¼	7¼	7¼	7¼	..
78	38¾	3	Goodrich Rub	200	17¾	17¾	17¾	17¾	..
82¾	55¾	3	Goodrich Rub pf	100	12¾	12¾	12½	12½	— ⅛
58¾	30¾	3	Goodyear	100	29	29¾	29	29¾	+ ⅛
7¾	4¾	..	Goodyear 1 pf	100	6¾	6¾	6¾	6¾	..
13¾	4¾	..	Graham & M	300	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	+ ⅛
15¾	8¾	..	Grand Union	100	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	..
13¾	7	..	Granby	100	14	14	14	14	— ⅛
46	38	3	Grand Un pf	100	42¾	43	43¾	43¾	— ⅛
21¾	18¾	2	Grand Un pf	100	20	20	20	20	..
39¾	5	..	Grant W T	100	7	7	7	7	..
6⅝	4¾	4	Gt Nor pf	100	44¾	44¾	44¾	44¾	..
63¾	25¾	..	Gt West Sug	200	3.3	3.3	3.3	3.3	..

H

19¾	17	1.23	Hall Print	100	14¼	14¼	14¼	14¼	— ⅛
44¾	24½	2	Hart Walker	100	26¾	26¾	26¾	26¾	..
40	25¾	2	Hart Corn A	100	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾	..
40	25¾	2	Hawaii Pine	500	27¾	27¾	27¾	27¾	— ⅛
32½	20¾	1.25	Hershey Choc	100	95	95	95	95	..
104	81	7‡	Homestake	100	95¾	95¾	95¾	95¾	..
9¾	4¾	..	Hou Hse R	100	5¾	4¾	4¾	4¾	— ⅛
65	58¾	4	Hald F pf	100	58	58	58	58	— ⅛
27	10¾	1	Houston Oil	200	12¾	12¾	12¾	12¾	..
29½	13	2	Howe Sound	300	19¾	19¾	19¼	19¾	— ⅛

I

86	41½	4	Illinois Cent	100	46	46	46	46	..
97¾	74	4	Ingersoll Rd	100	92¾	92½	92½	97¼	..
12¾	10¼	..	Insuranshs	100	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾	..
38	19½	..	Int Cem N J	700	22¾	22¾	21	21	..
4	1¼	..	Int Agr Ch	100	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾	..
179¾	117	6d	Int Bus Ma	100	141¾	141¾	138¼	140	— 1¾
12¾	6¾	.50	Int Carrier	700	8¾	8¾	8¼	8¾	..
4	1¼	..	Int Combus E	300	2	2	2	2	..
18	8¾	..	Int Comb pf	400	19¾	20	19¾	20	..
60⅝	36¾	2 50	Int Harv	400	42¾	42¾	41¾	42¾	+ ⅜
31	16¾	2‡	Int Hydr Sl A	1000	23¾	23¾	23	23¾	..
26¾	14¾	1.60	Kresge A	100	24¾	24¾	24¾	24¾	..
15¼	18	..	Int Nickel	2100	13¾	13¾	13	13⅜	+ ⅛
27¾	17½	1.61	Kreuger & Toll	3000	18¾	19¼	18¾	19¼	+ ⅛

J

57½	36¼	4	Jewel T	1100	44	45	43¾	40	— 1
80¾	40¾	3	Johns Manville	4000	21¼	21¾	21	21¼	+ ⅛

K

25	25	3g	Kan City Sou	100	28	28	28	28	— 1
64	40	..	Kan C S pf	100	48¾	48¼	48¼	48¾	..
24¾	10¾	1	Kayser	100	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾	— ⅛
16¾	8¾	..	Kelvinator	100	10	10¼	10	10¼	..
31¾	14¾	1	Kennecott Cop	5400	18¾	18¾	18¼	18¼	— ⅛
26	5½	1.60	Kresge A	100	24¾	24¾	24¾	24¾	..
15¼	18	..	Kroger Groc	1800	29¼	29¾	29	29½	+ ⅛
27¾	17½	1.61	Kreuger & Toll	3000	18¾	19¼	18¾	19¼	+ ⅛

L

87¾	56	8	Lambert Co	200	66	66	65	66	+ ¼
4¾	2¼	..	Lee Rubber	100	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾	— ⅛
69¾	45¾	3	Lehigh Val	100	52¾	52¾	52¾	52¾	— ⅛
20¾	11¾	..	Lib Ow F G	100	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾	+ ⅜
91¾	56	3	Life & Cas A	100	74¾	74¾	74¾	74¾	+ ⅜
33	22	2	Link Belt Co	100	26	26	26	26	..
55¾	20¾	..	Liquid Carbon	100	28	28	28	28	..

HUNDREDS BOOST PORT

Rush of Members Who Would Make Boston Leading Atlantic Shipping Point

Hundreds of willing workers, members of the Port of Boston Society, are on the job doing their part to make Boston the leading seaport on the Atlantic coast.

They know the advantages of their home port as a shipping point. They filled out their applications for membership in the society and mailed them at once to the City of Boston Commercial, Industrial and Publicity Bureau at 80 Federal st.

They are working with Mayor Curley and other prominent men who believe in the future of Boston's port, and who are doing everything in their power to place it in its rightful position—in the lead of any other port on this seaboard.

There has been no letup in the receipt of applications at the society headquarters, all from persons who want to work actively for the interests of the port of Boston.

The Boston Evening American every day since the society was organized has printed editorial suggestions of the mayor and national and state officials to further the interests of the port.

Today it prints the suggestions of Charles A. Coyle, manager of publicity for the Boston Chamber of Commerce:

Fill out your application for membership today—and mail it at once to the City of Boston Commercial, Industrial and Publicity Bureau, 80 Federal st.

CHIEFLY because of the results this Chamber has obtained from its methods of HANDLING much of the publicity in general that is given Boston.

AN organized effort such as you are in exploiting our Port through

REACHING many thousands as you are doing, we recognize as a most valuable movement;

LITTLE in the way of results can come from even the most intensive and sincere

ENDEAVOR toward arousing what is known as a productive public interest unless

SUCH endeavor is "backed up" by a well planned publicity campaign;

AND my story does not end here either for we have learned from experience that a

CARRY ON spirit of genuine merit among those who serve in this or any other

ORGANIZATION will assure the propagation of that organization's purpose;

YOUNG though it is, "THE PORT OF BOSTON SOCIETY" is destined to play a part of great importance in

LEADING our City back to its rightful place among the world's shipping centers because

EACH of its members will be symbolic of "living publicity"—AND MORE PUBLICITY FOR OUR PORT IS MUCH NEEDED!

(Arranged by Blondon Wire.)

City of Boston Commercial, Industrial and Publicity Bureau, 80 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.

Please enter my name upon the membership roll of "The Port of Boston Society." I am not to pay any dues. My only obligation is my moral support.

I hereby promise to loyally uphold the purpose for which this organization stands; namely, to help make Boston the finest and busiest seaport from Florida to Maine.

Name .....

Address .....

City or Town ..... Occupation .....

Port of Boston

By JAMES J. DELANEY

Seven vagabond cruisers made the record trip on the Panamanian steamship, San Gil, which arrived here from Havana and Tela. Capt. William J. Mathers is in command. Local passengers included John W. English, Boston newspaperman, Sylvester G. Knight, Pauline Vanderhoop, Elizabeth M. Harrington, Ernest F. Averill, Florence Grobe and Ray E. White.

RESUMES SERVICE

The Blue Funnel Line will resume its service from the port of Boston with all Blue Funnel Line ships from the Far East ports to the Atlantic coast coming in here every two weeks. The service, which was temporarily suspended because of shortage of tonnage, is one of the most helpful services to New England in the port. Patterson, A. Wright, local agents, made the announcement of the resumption.

COFFEE CARGO

With a cargo of coffee and cattle hides, the steamship Collingwort arrived from Buenos Aires, Montevideo and Santos. Capt. William A. Morgan reported a pleasant passage.

FISH ARRIVALS

Vessels—Haddock lb and M cod Mixed
Str. P.J. O'Hara, 6,000 2,000
Str. Cormorant, 60,000 4,000 24,000 10,000
Str. Gertrude K., 60,000 17,000 30,000 3,000
Str. Dorchester, 28,000 8,000 25,000 11,000
Str. Pilgrim, 20,000 5,000 20,000 7,000
Str. Gale, 82,000 3,000 6,000 8,000
Str. Bellamy, 100,000 30,000 50,000 7,000
John Manta, 10,500 500 4,000
Sea Rover, 25,000 2,000 6,000
Gl. M. Faust, 28,000 1,000 2,000 2,200
Warren Adams, 30,000 3,000 6,000
Beauty St. Jos. 14,00 2,500 5,000
New Bedford, 25,000 2,000 6,000
Cath. F. Round, 30,000 7,000
Edith C. Rose, 25,000 5,000 14,000 3,000
Nannetta 31,000 6,000 10,000 2,000
Flashlight 26,000 10,000 20,000 3,000
Mackerel—Make
Imperator 60,000, 3,000 17,000, 1,000
Totals—812,500 haddock; 113,500 large cod; 300 market cod; 1,000 hake; 500 halibut—Viking from off Nfld, coast, 40,000; Dana Brown, 15,000; halibut, 800; cod, 500; Gertrude K. Nelson, 25,000 haddock, 6 swors.
Swordfish—Imperial, 43; J. M. Marshall, 50; Thomaston 26; Georgina Silveira, 47; Alanis & Mary, 46; Amelia M. Peters, 78.
Mackerel—Lincoln, 19,000 lbs., blink mackerel from off Scituate; Mr. Mac, 4 arrivals—Liberia C. 20,000 mackerel; St. Rita 500,000; Phyllis Ann, 3000 mackerel, 1000 racks; North Julia 40,000; Florence K., Whaler Blakey, purse seine—codfish 4½-7c. lb.; haddock 4½-6; pollock and hake 3-4; cusk 4-5; swordfish 27-30; Mackerel 7-12; lemon soles 7½-8½; gray 5-6; flounders 3-4c.

ARRIVED

HAMPDEN, Rowsley, Newport News, with coal for Standard Oil Co. Docked at Vessel to Coastwise Transportation Corp. Anchored stream.

ONTARIO, Kaiserud, Philadelphia, with merchandise and passengers to Merchants & Miners Transportation Co. Docked at pier 8, South Boston.

ISAAC MANN, Raposa, Norfolk, with coal for Pocahontas Fuel Co. Docked at South Boston.

BELFAST, Wall, Bangor via Penobscot river ports, merchandise and passengers to Eastern S. S. Lines, Inc. Docked at pier 1, Boston.

CHATHAM, Pratt, Baltimore via Norfolk, with merchandise and passengers to Merchants & Miners Transportation Co. Docked at pier 4, South Boston.

GIBOAN, Read, Portland, O., June 23, via Providence 26, Lat 40.30, Long 71.0, clear, 16, New York, 23, and Philadelphia, 25, merchandise to American Steamship & Co. Docked at Commonwealth Pier.

SEAFLOWER, Baldwin and Norfolk, to Reuter & Webb, to finish loading at pier 43-44, Boston, for Puerto Rican ports. Coal and Cork.

NEW YORK, Corning, New York, with merchandise and passengers to Eastern S. S. Lines, Inc. Docked at pier 1, Boston.

LEMUEL BURROWS, Swanson, Norfolk, with coal for Boston Consolidated Gas Co. Docked at pier 7, Everett.

WORSLEY (Nor.), Hunderson, Port Antonio, July 23, with fruit to United Fruit Co. Docked at Long wharf.

VATTARE, Stevens, Baltimore and Newport, to Rogers & Webb, to finish loading for Hamburg and Bremen. Docked at pier 39-41, Boston, Chelsea.

CITY OF CHRISTCHURCH (Br.), from Palestia, etc., via Philadelphia, with refreshments to A. C. Lombard's Sons. Docked at pier 1, East Boston.

STATE STREET SIDELIGHTS

State St. is disposed to regard the continued heavy drain on British gold by French banks as disturbing. The reported withdrawal of large Paris bank to accept prime London names as banking paper reveals the tender condition of some French bankers' nerves. Altogether it is probable a further rise in the London rediscount rate will be seen this week.

• • •

Apparently there has been a let up in the selling of German bond issues. If these issues are not pressed downward any further sales it will be construed as indicating bankers think the situation is sufficiently good to warrant their support at prices just above the low levels.

• • •

The quiet and unattractive pace of share prices in recent sessions is regarded by conservative results in the event of unfavorable news. In a nutshell the bankers think they can easily handle both forced and short selling with the chance much of the latter would form a cushion for a sharp snapback.

• • •

Following so closely behind the "Big Steel" meeting that of Bethlehem has been more or less forced into a back seat. None the less the action taken by the latter is important and traders are likely to find it affecting share prices toward the end of the week should it be overwhelmed by some unexpected happening.

• • •

All in all the average trader finds conditions warrant a position on the sidelines for the immediate future. The indications that domestic news will be unfavorable and foreign events cloaked in uncertainty the market hardly attractive to any but the most well-informed and this is never a very large group.

New York Bank Stocks

	Bid	Asked
Bank of Amer.	93	95
Bankers Trust	91¾	92½
Brooklyn Trust	380	390
Central Hanover	207	210
Chase National	64½	65⅝
Chatham Phenix	60⅝	62
Chemical Bank & Tr	45¼	46¼
City	73	74
Continental	21	22
Corn Exchange	93½	95¼
Empire	44	45½
First National	3480	3520
Guaranty Trust	455	465
Irving Trust	21¼	21½
Manhattan	65¾	66
Manufacturers	42¼	43¼
N. Y. Trust	138	141
Public National	46½	47¼

Boston Bank Stocks

	Bid	Asked
Atlantic	61	63
Federal National	81	84
First National	71¼	73½
Merchants National	498	505
National Rockland	84	88
Shawmut	53¼	55
Second National	130	135
U S Trust	81	84
Webster & Atlas	200	210

Boston Curb

Sales.	High	Low	Last
St Appleton Co	2	2	2
100 Chief Cons	¼
125 Cons Cop Mines	2¼	2¼	2¼
10 Da Pont Radio	3¼	3¼	3¼
100 Durant Motors	1¾	1¾	1¾
200 Eagle & B S	¼	¼	¼
200 Iron Cap com	1 15-16	1 15-16
300 Ohio Copper Co	5-16	5-16	5-16
200 Shattuck Denn	3¼	3¼	3¼
300 Un. Verde Ex M	9¾	9¾	9¾

BANK STATEMENT

Boston balance	$40,000,000
Boston clearance	56,000,000

Financial Market News, Stocks, Bonds and Comment

STEEL'S ACTION BIG EVENT OF THIS WEEK

By FRANK H. MELOON

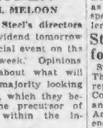
Action of U. S. Steel's directors on the common dividend tomorrow is the major financial event on the schedule for this week. Opinions are still divided about what will happen, with the majority looking for a dividend cut, which they believe would be the precursor of wage reductions within the industry.

• • •

Whatever transpires, it is plain that wage cutting would mean a complete reversal of the policy frequently expressed by leading officials of the corporation on the subject. President James A. Farrell has gone on record several times in favor of existing standards. If the reported cut materializes, it will affect a total of approximately 200,000 skilled workmen.

• • •

U. S. Steel's complete 1930 report showed the rate paid mill hands averaged $5.80 daily during the year, compared with an average daily wage of $5.84 in 1929. Based on the average of 225 employed last year, total wages paid skilled labor, allowing for Sundays and holidays, was close to $375,000,000. A 10 per cent slash would therefore mean a saving to the corporation of $37,500,000 or thereabouts annually on the 1930 operating rate, not taking into account similar economies in other departments.



John J. Pelley

• • •

New Haven Railroad, of which John J. Pelley is president, today added to its income for June of $800,556, which after preferred dividends and guarantees, represents a surplus of $65,203, a decrease of $592,101 under the previous year. Total operating revenues for the month were $8,743,919, as compared with $10,220,080 in June, 1930, while for the six months total operating revenues were $51,782,856, as compared with $60,848,475. Operating expenses decreased $970,632 for the month and $6,165,347 for the six months.

• • •

The New Haven for the first half of the year earned a surplus after guaranteed and preferred dividends of $2,821,151, which favorably for the first half of the year is by far the best for New Haven's earnings.

• • •

Most of the banking commissioners of the 48 states believe that reserves should be established to provide for possible depreciation in bank bond accounts, it was announced today by Moody's Investor's Service in summarizing results of a recent nationwide survey conducted by that organization.

• • •

Representatives of 39 banking departments stated that they advocate and encourage the creation of reserves for the specific purpose of providing for contingencies in the investment account, while 26 favored and varied restrictions in states where they exist show themselves to be more or less ineffective. Bankers' association reported a few weeks ago that bonds purchased in duties there no restrictions on purchases existed showed that the bonds purchased were of approximately the same grade as in states where restrictions existed.

• • •

Two cheerful news items on the wires today:

President Rome Stephenson of the American Bankers Association says the business conditions justify the most optimistic outlook since 1929.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce Julius Klein says the country is now obviously coming out of the depression, with the basis laid for an enduring stable prosperity.

Boston-linited carpet mills are cooperating. The Alexander Smith Carpet Company has received contracts for floor coverings involving over 12,000 yards for the Statler Hotel in Columbus, O., placed order for recarpeting involving about 3000 yards. Raleigh Hotel in Washington has ordered 6640 yards for recarpeting. Florida East Coast Hotels Company placed order for 2122 yards for its hotels.

London and Paris Tone Is Cheerful

London, July 27 (AP)—The stock market was cheerful today under the leadership of gilt edged securities following the rise in sterling exchange. Brazilian issues were strong on the election to carry out the Niemeyer recommendations for the reorganization of Brazil's finances.

Paris—The Bourse opened falteringly, but later favorable reports imparted a healthy tone and firmness was rapidly restored.

Berlin—Bourse closed.

Bar Silver Is Up

New York, July 27 (AP)—Bar silver steady and ½ higher at 37⅞

Today's News of Live Stocks in Wall Street

The automotive industry is one of the most promising groups in Wall St., as many observers see it today. Standard Statistics advises long-pull buying of General Motors as conservative, and suggests more speculative commitments in Chrysler.

Studebaker Report for Year Improved

Studebaker appears closely held. There is automotive cheer in the report issued today by Studebaker Corp., Report of Studebaker Corp. and subsidiaries, including Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Co., for quarter ended June 30, 1931, shows consolidated net profit of $1,306,192 after depreciation, interest, federal taxes, etc., equivalent after deduction of Pierce-Arrow Class A minority interest, Studebaker Corp. preferred dividends and preferred dividends of Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Co. to $6 cents a share on 1,905,041 common shares of common stock. This compares with $93,299 or .35 cents a share on 1,905,041 shares of common in preceding quarter and $1,975,180 or 41 cents a share on 1,905,041 common shares in June quarter of previous year.

General Motors Moves Narrowly

General Motors fluctuated narrowly most of today's session. One big trade reported on Boston Exchange house says today:

"So far second quarter statements have generally been more favorable than expected. That of General Motors, particularly, is cause to have renewed confidence in that important company. Although many poor reports will be fairly small in making their appearance, it is doubtful if they will be much of a factor for the market as a whole. They will be insignificant compared with the two steel reports."

National Steel Is Lonely Performer

National Steel Corp. will probably be the only major steel company to earn more than its dividend requirement in the first half of 1931, in earnings for this period being substantially in excess of $1 disbursement on the stock, according to Wall Street estimates. Despite the handicaps of depressed industrial conditions and curtailment of the $35,000,000 construction program, National Steel has earned over its 50 cent dividend requirement in each quarterly period since its organization at the end of 1929.

Radio Shipments Show a Large Gain

Shipments of Philco Radios during the months of June and July were nearly 300 per cent greater than shipments during the like period of 1930, officials of the company said.

Flight of Capital to the Utilities

Wall St. investment bankers note a "flight of capital" from carrier securities to gas and electric issues. Public utility bonds in amount of $2,152,054,600 are now on list of securities legal for investment for savings banks in New York State. Utility bonds amounting to $134,444,000 have been added to legal list in current year, against $1,700,000 in like 1930 period.

Drug Stores Lively Business Leaders

Advisors are pointing to the vigorous and outstanding upward business leaders. They could also add that drug chains are among those not afraid to expand. Walgreen Agency Co. has been organized by the Walgreen Co. for purpose of opening drug stores in cities of less than 5000 population

Sagging of Rails Reflects Reports

The sagging action of the rails today was taken as a signal by many market observers that a further downward readjustment of carrier prices was likely before any worthwhile rally developed. Selling in this group was largely based on the disappointing run of June earnings statements now coming to hand.

Oil Output Change for Week Narrow

Changes in the oil output figures issued weekly reports Daily Oil Bulletin of Boston Exchange house says today:

"So far second quarter statements have generally been more favorable than expected. That of General Motors, particularly, is cause to have renewed confidence in that important company. Although many poor reports will be fairly small in making their appearance, it is doubtful if they will be much of a factor for the market as a whole. They will be insignificant compared with the two steel reports."

National Steel Is Lonely Performer

National Steel Corp. will probably be the only major steel company to earn more than its dividend requirement in the first half of 1931, in earnings for this period being substantially in excess of $1 disbursement on the stock, according to Wall Street estimates. Despite the handicaps of depressed industrial conditions and curtailment of the $35,000,000 construction program, National Steel has earned over its 50 cent dividend requirement in each quarterly period since its organization at the end of 1929.

Radio Shipments Show a Large Gain

Shipments of Philco Radios during the months of June and July were nearly 300 per cent greater than shipments during the like period of 1930, officials of the company said.

Flight of Capital to the Utilities

Wall St. investment bankers note a "flight of capital" from carrier securities to gas and electric issues. Public utility bonds in amount of $2,152,054,600 are now on list of securities legal for investment for

New York Bonds

U. S. GOVERNMENT ISSUES

	High	Low	Last
Lib 4th 4¼s-33-38	103.26	103.24	103.25
Treasury 3¼s 46	101.14	101.14	101.14

DOMESTIC CORPORATION ISSUES

Allegany ref 5s	84¼	84	84
Am & For Pow deb5s2030	73¾	73¼	73½
Am Int 5½s 49	100¾	100¾	100¾
Am T&T col tr 5s 46	107¼	106¾	107
Am T & T 5s 65	107¼	107	107¼
Armour Del 5½s 43	72½	71¾	72
At T & S F gen 4s 95	101¼	101	101¼
Atl Ref deb 5s 37	101¼	101¼	101¼
Atl Ref deb 6s 47	104¼	104	104¼
Bertin City El 4½s 51	82¼	81	81¾
Beth S F mor 5s 42	101	100¾	101
Baltm Man T 5s A 48	101¾	101¾	101¾
Can Nat Ry 4½s 58	100½	100½	100½
Can Pac deb 4s	85¾	85¼	85¼
Can Pac deb 4s	85¾	85¼	85¼
Cent Pac 1st 4s 49	87¾	87¼	87¼
Cent. El. & G. 5s	97¾	97¼	97¼
Chi Gt W 1st 4s	64¾	64	64¼
Chi Gt West 4s 59	64¾	64	64¼
C M &P 1st A 4s	87¾	87¼	87¼
C & NW 4½s C 2037	81	80½	80½
Col Gas 5½s 52	97¾	97¼	97¼
Col G & E 5s 61	94¾	94¾	94¾
Consol Ag 5½s 48	101	101	101
Con Gas N Y 4½s 51	103	102½	103
Con Gas P L 5½s 48	107½	107¼	107½
Cuban Dom 7½s 44 ct	10	10	10
Del Ed 4½s 65	104	104	104
Duke Price P 1st A 8s 66	104	103¾	104
Erie 1st con 4s 96	85¾	85¼	85¼
Erie RR rf & imp 5s 75	75	74¾	74¾
Ernesto Pat T 7s 47 ww	100	100	100
Gen Mot AC 6s 26	104¾	104	104¾
Gen Pub Ser 5½s 53	96¾	96¼	96¼
Gen Th Eq 6s 40	32¾	31¾	31¾
Goodyr T & R 5½s 57	92¾	92¼	92¼
Gt Nor Ry gen 6s C 52	103¾	103¾	103¾
Gt Nor gen 5½s 2033	97¾	97¼	97¼
H R & W Tex 5sgtd'33st	102	102	102
Hud Coal 5s 62	98	98	98
Inland Steel 4½s B 81	94¾	94¼	94¼
Int Cem 5½s 48	96¾	96¼	96¼
Int Match 5s 41 cv	90¾	90½	90½
Int Pap 6s 55	94	93½	93½
Int T & T 4½s 52	94	93½	93½
Int T & T 4½s 39 cv	91¾	91	91
Int T & T 5s 55	97¾	97¼	97¼
Kan & Mich 1st 4s 90	90¾	90½	90½
Laclede Gas 5s 53	96¾	96¼	96¼
Leh V (Pa) con 4s 2003	86	85¾	86
Lehigh C & N 4s 54	85¾	85¼	85¼
Lombard El 7s 52 ww	79	78¾	78¾
L & N 4s 2003	85¾	85¼	85¼
Market St Ry 7s A 40	95¾	95	95¼
Met Ed 5½s 53 ser A	103¾	103¾	103¾
Mil El Ry & L 5s 1971	104	104	104
M K T 4s 62	70¾	70¼	70¼
Mo PRR gen 4s 75	61¾	60¾	60¾
Nat Dist Pr 5½s 57	100¾	100¾	100¾
Newberry Co 5½s 45	92¾	92¼	92¼
N Y Cent 4½s 2013	97¾	97¼	97¼
NY Cent deb 6s 35	107¾	106¾	106¾
N Y C & H R 4½s 47	97¾	97¼	97¼
N & W RR 1st con 4s 96	100	99¾	99¾
Nor Am Gas 6s A 51	27¾	27¼	27¼
No Am Ed 5s 61	101¾	101¾	101¾
No Am Ed 6s 52	101¾	101¾	101¾
Norway Hy El 5½s 57	95¾	95¼	95¼
Ohio Ed 5s 52	100¾	100¾	100¾
Pac RR Mo 1st ext 4s 38	98¾	98¾	98¾
Pac RR Mo 1st ref 4s 49	98¾	98¾	98¾
Param F Lasky 6s 47	85¾	85¼	85¼
Penn Co 4½s 81	97¾	97¼	97¼
Penn P & L 4½s 81	99¾	99¾	99¾
Penna RR con 4½s 84	97¾	97¼	97¼
Penn RR 6s 36	104¾	104¼	104¼
Phila Co 5½s 51	103¾	103¾	103¾
Phila El Co 4s 71	80¾	80¼	80¼
Port G Gas 5½s 60	88¾	88¼	88¼
Retail Tel & Cbl 5s	95¾	94¾	94¾
Rem Rand 5½s A 47 ww	78¾	78	78¼
Rhine W El 7s 46 ex 6s 46	79¾	79¼	79¼
St L S F Pr 5s A 4s 50	68	67¾	67¾
St L San F 4½s 78	54	53	53
Seaird A L 5s ct	13	13	13
Seaird A L 5s cl	13	13	13
Siemens & Hal 6½s 51	73¾	73¼	73¼
Sou Cal Gas 5½s B 51	101¾	101¾	101¾
Sou P Ore 6s 56	101¾	101¾	101¾
So Pac Ry 4½s 81	98	97¾	97¾
So Pac Ry 4½s 68	97¾	97¼	97¼
So Ry 4½s 56	105¾	105¾	105¾
So Ry 5s 56	105¾	105¾	105¾
Sug Est Ori 1sstf 7s42	11¾	11	11
Swift & Co 5s 51	103¾	103¾	103¾
Tokio El Li 6s 53	65	64¾	64¾
Tri-City Ry&L 1st ss 53	100¾	100¾	100¾
Un Oil Cal 5s C 55	100¾	100¼	100¼
Un Pac 1st ref 4s 47	101¾	101¾	101¾
Union Pac 4s 68	94¾	94	94¼
Utah Pow & Lt 5s 44	100¾	100¾	100¾
Vanadium Corp 5s	85¾	85¼	85¼
Va Ry 1st 5s A 62	96¾	96¼	96¼
Wabash RR 1st 5s 39	103	102¾	102¾
Wabash RR 4s B 81	86¾	86¼	86¼
Warner Bros Pict 6s 39	40¾	40¼	40¼
West Elec deb 5s 44	107¾	107¼	107¼
West Union 5s 51	103¾	103¾	103¾
West Union 5s 60	103¾	103¾	103¾
WPenn PP&P 1st 5s A 53	44¾	45
Wpnn Oil 5½s 57 ww	103¾	103¾	103¾
Youngstwn S & T 5s 78 A	100¾	100¾	100¾

FOREIGN GOVT & MUNICIPAL

Akershus 4s 68	93¾	93	93¼
Argentine 5½s 62	12	12¾	12¾
Argentine 6s 57	77¾	77¼	77¼
Argentine 6s B 58	71¾	71¼	71¼
Argentine 6s 59	77¾	77¼	77¼
Argentine 6s Sept 60	72¾	70	72¾
Australia 5s 57	80	79	80
Australia 5s 58	88¾	87¾	88¾
Australia 4½s 56	77¾	77¼	77¼
Belgium 7s 49	107	106	106
Belgium 6s 55	101	100¾	100¾
Belgium 7s 50	106¾	106¾	106¾
Berlin 6s 58	45	45	45
Bogota 1926-57	50¾	50¾	50¾
Brazil 6s 41	45¾	45¼	45¼
Bremen State 7s 35	80¾	80¼	80¼
Buenos Air 6s 61 Prov	80	80	80
Canada 5s 52	101¾	101¾	101¾
Canada 5s 57	104¾	104¾	104¾
Chile 6s 61	39	38¾	38¾
Chile 6s 42	39	38	38¾
Chile Mtg Bk 6s Sept	39	38¾	38¾
Chile Mtg Bk 6s 42	37	36	36
Cologne 6½s 50	36	35¾	35¾
Colombia 6s 61 Jan	58¾	58	58
Colombia 6s 61 Oct	58¾	58	58
Copen 5s 52	66	66	66
Denmark 4½s 62	66	66	66
Denmark 5½s 55	100¾	99¾	100¼
Denmark 6s 42	100¾	99¾	100¼
Du E Indies 6s 47	101	101	101
Du E Indies 6s 62	101¾	101¾	101¾
Finland 6½s 56	88	88	88
French Colonial 7s 41	103¾	103¾	103¾
French Govt 7s 49	119¾	119¼	119¼
Ger Cent Bk 7s 50	26	25¾	25¾
Ger C Ag Bk 6s 60 Oct	48	47	47
Ger C Ag Bk 6s 60 Jan	48	47	47
Ger Govt intl 5½s 65	52¾	52¼	52¼
German Rep 7s 49	52¾	52¼	52¼
Greek 6s 68	32	32	32
Italy 7s 51	100	100	100
Italy 6½s 68	100	100	100
Milan 6½s 52	37¾	37¼	37¼
Minas Geraes 6½s ctf 58	37¾	37¼	37¼
Norway 5s 65	100¾	100¾	100¾
Norway 5½s 65	102¾	101¾	101¾
Oslo 5½s 65	100¾	100¾	100¾
Panama 5½s 52 Reg	104	103¾	103¾
Queensland 7s 41	100¾	100¾	100¾
Rio de Janeiro 8s 46	35	34	35
Rio Gde Do Sul 6s 68	32	31¾	31¾
Rome 6½s 52	87¾	86¾	86¾
San Paulo 8s 42	36	35¾	35¾
San Paulo State 7s'w 40	78	78	78
Sao Paulo 6s 68	73¾	73¼	73¼
Sweden 5½s 54	104¾	104¾	104¾
Taiwan Elec 5½s	94¾	94¼	94¼
The K G R & C 7½s 37	100¾	100¾	100¾
Uruguay 6s 60	84¾	83	83
Yokohama 6s 61	100¾	100	100

HARVARD VIEW IS CHEERFUL

Relative to commodity prices, Harvard Economic Society states:

"This week's figure for the Annicharl index, 101.3 (1913 base) compares with 100.5 on June 9. With the weekly index averaging slightly higher in July, an increase may occur in the Bureau of Labor Statistics index this month.

"These developments in commodity prices follow a decline of more than 28 per cent since July, 1929 and come at a time when business volumes have given evidences of recovery. Assuming the moratorium on intergovernmental debts may give relief from pressure on foreign exchanges, which has acted as a depressing factor upon international commodity markets. Should this pressure be removed, stabilization of commodity prices would be almost assured, and presently an increase in business would cause an upturn in prices."

Westvaco Chlorine Rights Are Offered

Common stockholders of Westvaco Chlorine have been offered rights to buy one additional share at $17.50 each in the ratio of 1 new shares for each 84 now held. The rights expire Sept. 1 and accrue to stock of record Aug. 10.

Boston Stocks

	High	Low	Close	Chg.
A
Am Can	88¾	88¾	88¾	¼
Am For Pow	28	28	28	¼
Am&Cont Corp	9	9	9
Atchison	157¼	156	157¼	+1
Am Tel	173¼	173¼	173¼	+1¼
Am Woolen	8¾	8	8¾	+1¼
Am pf	54¾	52¾	54¾	+1¾
Amoskeag	9	8¾	8¾	¼
Anaconda	25¼	25¼	25¼	¼
Arlington	100	100	100
Aris Com	90c	90c	90c	+2c
B
Balt. & Ohio	34	33¾	34	¼
Bigelow	41¾	41¾	41¾
Bigelow-Sanf	30	29¾	30	+¼
do pf	85	85	85
Bos Elev	3	3	3
Bos Elev 1 pf	10	9¾	10	+¼
do 2 pf	10	9¾	10	+¼
B & M A stp	53	53	53	−2
Briggs	14¾	13¾	14¾	+¾
Brown & Co pf	28	28	28	+1
C
Chrysler	23¾	21¾	22¾	+1¾
Cities Service	10¾	10¾	10¾	+¼
Col Gas	29¾	29¾	29¾	+¼
Columbia Bro.	6	6	6
Con Gas	92¼	91¾	92¼	+¼
Curtiss Wrex	3¼	3¼	3¼
E
E C & F A	19	19	19	−¾
E G & F A pf	92¼	91½	92¼	+¼
E G & F pf	85½	85½	85½
Eastern S S	19½	19	19	−2
Edison	254	246	246	+1
G
Gen Elec Spec	11¾	11¾	11¾
Gen Elec	40¾	40¼	40¼	¼
Gen Pow	4¾	4¾	4¾
Gen Motors	38¾	36¾	37¾	+¾
Gillette	21¾	21¼	21¾	+¼
Goodyear	38¾	38¾	38¾
I
Int Tel	29¼	28¾	29¼	+¼
J
Jenkins Telev	3½	3¾	3¾	+¼
M
Mass Util	4	4	4
Mergenthaler	77	77	77	−1
Mont Ward	19¾	19¼	19¼	+¼
N
Nash	27¾	27¾	27¾	+¼
National S C	1¾	1¾	1¾
New Haven	134	134	134
New River pf	48	48	48
New Haven	69¼	68¼	68¼	−1¾
New York Air	68¾	68¼	68¼	−1
North Butte	1¼	1¼	1¼	−¼
O
Old Colony	135¼	135¼	135¼	+¼
P
Pacific Mills	20	19	19
Packard	7¾	6¾	6¾
Penn RR	46	45¾	45¾	+¼
Pond Creek	30	30	30
Pub Util Hld	3¾	3¾	3¾
R
Radio Corp	17¼	16¾	17	+¼
Radio K O	1¾	1¾	1¾
S
St. Mary's	6	6	6
Shawmut	13¾	13¼	13½
Shawmut Assn	2¾	2½	2¾
Std Brands	17¾	17¾	17¾	+¼
Stone & Web	30¼	29¾	30¼	+¼
Swift & Co	28¼	28¼	28¼
Swift Intl	23¾	23¾	23¾
U
Un Aircraft	28¾	26¾	28¾	+¾
Un Carbide	49¾	49¾	49¾	+1¼
Un Gas	22¼	22¼	22¼	+¼
Un Founders	5	5	5
Un Gas & Imp	28¾	28¾	28¾	+¼
Un Shoe	31¾	31¼	31¼
Un Shoe pf	31¾	31¼	31¼
U S Steel	92	89¾	—	+1¾
Utah Apex	30c	30c	30c
W
War

THIMBLE THEATER Starring POPEYE

Now Showing—"Just Pals" Tomorrow—"Living to a Ripe Old Age" By Segar

A Full Page POPEYE Comic Appears Every Saturday in BOSTON AMERICAN Watch For It

YOU MEAN TO SAY THAT YOU CAUSED BUNZO TO MAKE FRIENDS WITH POPEYE!
WE DID EXACTLY THAT HOW?
WE USED DIPLOMACY AND FLATTERY—WE TOLD BUNZO THAT HIS GREAT BRAIN AND POPEYE'S BRAWN WORKING TOGETHER, WOULD WIN THE WAR—
THE TWIN EGGS ARE NOJO DUMB, AFTER ALL!
TWO EGGS? UH DOES HE EAN?
I GOT ME HAND OVER ME CHEST-GENERAL—I DON'T WANT NONE OF THIS STUFF TO RUN OUT OF THEM BULLET HOLES
GRAPE JUICE
POPEYE, OLD BOY, I'M SORRY I HAD MY FIRING SQUAD WORK ON YOU
WELL-BLOW ME DOWN!
AW, THAT'S OKAY, GEN—IT'S A PLEASURE TO GET SHOT EITHER BY YOU OR WITH YOU. I SAYS IT IS
GRAPE JUICE
T.A.R. SEGAR

KRAZY KAT

Good Bait

AH- I'M GLAD I FOUND HIM HOME. I CAN NOW KICK HIM WITH THIS BRICK AT ANY RATE.
OH-H-H-H UMMMMA-AHHHH-
SAPPO
I DON'T MEAD TO TELL ME THAT 'KRAZY'S' MAKING 'HOOTCH'.
NO
BREW?
WHAT-THEA!
CHEESE
OH-
OH, WHIFF OF ARABY, OH, FRAGRANCE OF ARYSTAN-OH, ODOR OF DELIGHT-

BRINGING UP FATHER

Jiggs Never Forgets!

By George McManus

BE SURE TO PUT IN YOUR BATH-ROBE.
AW! LET ME ALONE - DON'T YOU THINK I KNOW HOW TO PACK? YOU ACT AS IF I NEVER WENT AWAY IN ALL ME LIFE.
ALL RIGHT- DO YOUR OWN PACKING- I DON'T CARE WHAT YOU FORGET
DON'T WORRY- I KNOW HOW TO PACK- I'LL NOT FERGET ANYTHING.
TO HEAR MAGGIE TALK- YOU'D THINK I WUZ DUMB- I NEVER FER-GET ANYTHIN' BY GOLLY- I'VE LEFT ME GRIPS AT HOME BOARD
7-27

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

Salvage From the Wreck

By Lym Young

YOU MEAN WE'VE GOT TO FLY MISS MOLLY HOME TO HER PARENTS BY THE WESTERN ROUTE THROUGH INDIA, EGYPT, AND SUCH-LIKE PLACES?
SEE, MR. FANCHO, MAYBE WE'LL HAVE A CHANCE TO CATCH SOME WILD ELEPHANTS IN THE JUNGLE
MY FRIENDS, THERE IS MUCH DANGER AHEAD TO BE OVER-COME—FEROCIOUS ANIMALS—WILD TRIBES-MEN AND POSSIBLY AGAIN, ENCOUNTERS WITH THE "MAN OF THE MOON"!
I SHALL NOW RETURN TO MY SHIP AND SEND A RADIO MESSAGE TO MY SECRET HEADQUARTERS IN SOOCHOW AND ORDER YOUR NEW PLANE FLOWN TO US AT ONCE — IT IS A SPEEDY AND MODERN MODEL THAT WILL SERVE YOU FAITHFULLY
IN THE MEANTIME, YOU TWO MAY REMOVE FROM YOUR RECENTLY WRECKED MONOPLANE, ANY SUPPLIES THAT MAY NOT HAVE SUFFERED MUCH DAMAGE
OKAY, MR. FANCHO- BUT I GOT MY DOUBTS THAT WE'LL FIND ANYTHING WORTH SAVING IN THE MIX-UP
LOOK, SOLID! LOOK WHAT I FOUND DOWN IN THE FUSELAGE- CLOTHES, AND HARDLY A BIT DAMAGED
GEE!!
AN' GET AN EYEFUL OF THIS
TIM, OLD SCOUT- EATS!!
LYM YOUNG
7-27

POLLY AND HER PALS

Ashur Knows His Oats

By Cliff Sterrett

ANY DEEP-SEA FISHERMAN WILL TELL YE THAT THAT THERE HOOK HAIN'T BIG ENOUGH FER HOSS MACKEREL!
AIN'T IT?
THAT AIN'T NO GOOD, NEITHER. SHE'S TOO TINY!
BUT THIS IS THE BIGGEST I COULD BUY!
LET GO THE ANCHOR, Y'SWAB!! WHY DON'TCHA OBEY ORDERS WHEN Y'GIT 'EM!
SORRY HON CAPTAIN, BUT YOUR ORDER IS IMPOSSIBLE!
THE HON. BO'SON HAS BAITED THE ANCHOR AND IS EMPLOYING IT AS A HOOK!
COME, HOSSY, HOSSY, HOSSY!
CLIFF STERRETT. 7-27

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

On Guard!

By Darrell McClure

GLORYOSKY—I BETCHA THIS IS THE SWELLEST LITTLE BOAT IN THE WHOLE WORLD!
IT FLYS OVER THE WATER JUST LIKE A BIRD—I GUESS IT MUST BE THE FASTEST SHIP THERE IS!
"FAST," SEZ YOU? GIVE HER A CAPFUL OF WIND AND SHE'LL SHOW HER HEELS TO ANY CRAFT OF HER INCHES ON THE SEVEN SEAS—AND YOU MAY LAY TO THAT!!
GEE, ZERO—THE WAY THAT STOWAWAY LOOKS AT US GIVES ME THE WIM-WAMS—I GOTTA MUNCH WE'D BETTER KEEP OUR EYES OPEN WHILE HE'S AROUND!!
DARRELL McCLURE

BARNEY GOOGLE

Sunshine Speaks for Himself

By De Beck

WELL! REGRES AD USE O ME, MAKIN' ANY PLANS TILL I SET THIS "PONY BOY QUESTION" SETTLED — HE SURE HAS A LOT O' FRIENDS PULLIN' FOR HIM — POR OL SPARKY IT LOOKS KINDA LIKE HE'S SUNK
PONY BOY
GEE! IF WE ONLY HAD A LOT O' DOUGH! IT'S GONNA BE TOUGH IF I GOTTA PART WIT' EITHER ONE O' THEM HOSSES — OPEN UP SOME MORE O' THEM LETTERS SUNSHINE
NOW, HEAH'S ONE DAT'S DIFFUHN'T. BOSS - IT SAYS YO' SHOULD KEEP BOTH O DEM HOSSES - BUT IT'S GONNA MEAN MO' WORK FO LIL SUNSHINE AN' YO' BRETHAN GIVE HIM A BIG RAISE IN WAGES - DID JA HEAH DAT, BOSS?
I'LL LOOK OVER THOSE LETTERS MYSELF! YOU BETTER HUSTLE AN GET THE GROCERIES IN FOR SUPPER
YAS SUH!
YO MIGHT AS WELL FILL UP ON DIS CELWY, SPARKY - IF MISTAH GOOBUS FINDS OUT AH DONE WORE DAT LETTAH MAUSELF AH WON'T BE ABLE TO DO NO COOKIN'
COOK FLUB
JULY 27

COOK-COOS

By TED COOK

(Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.)

Two writers in Havana fought two hours, neither touching the other. The referee became exhausted and stopped the duel.

* * *

They should fight again—palms of the hand at fifty paces.

* * *

And let the winner take on Arno or Vanderbilt.

* * *

By the way, Vanderbilt has gone to New York. It is reported that he will ring Arno's doorbell and then return to Reno, and await the consequences.

* * *

Milestones on the path to matrimonial refinement:

DETROIT—Seeking a divorce, Jas. Smith charged that his wife hung out a large sign in the window of their home, reading: "My husband chews tobacco."

* * *

SCIENCE AND INVENTION

This is Dr. David Ubelacray, who is experimenting with a new method for testing the intelligence of the human male. Dr. Ubelacray places a beret on the head of the subject, gives him a mirror and then notes the rise or lack of rise in the blood pressure.

Good news of good times: "If we can get rid of unemployment, the situation will adjust itself."—Harvey S. Firestone.

* * *

Revise—

A switch in time saves alimony.

Q. AND A. DEPARTMENT

Lissen, you mugg—Everybody was appalled at the perfectly outrageous way you behaved at the party last night. Were you crude! What was the idea of acting like you did, anyway? Didn't you realize you were in a literary atmosphere?

—Disillusioned.

Ans.—Well, well, is that a fact?

It's certainly one on me, ahlehay. I thought it was something wrong with the gin.

Aunt (Human-to-Err) Bella.

* * *

There was a book
That I would own—
The Comstocks cut it
To the bone.

There was a play
That I would see—
The censors got there
Before me.

There was a cocktail
I would mix,
Volstead snoopers
Made it nix.

Today we dress,
And eat and drink,
According to
Wot wowsers think.

—Bill Wiley.

* * *

OMIGOSH!

(Interview)

"Yes," Mrs. Kennedy added, "I believe Aimee has a friend who is of noble Austrian blood, but I am sure he is not the kind of person who would cheat her. Quite the contrary."

* * *

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

She looked like she was over twenty-one to me, Judge.

* * *

Join hands.

TWINS HEAD GARDEN BILL

Shore Gardens presents another fine list of entertainers, headed by the Stroud Twins, who come to Nantasket this week to headline the bill at the Palace in New York. Popular with musical comedy fans, the twins, in addition to presenting their own dances and comedy, will also double as masters of ceremonies.

Nan Blackstone, a popular entertainer, has been held over.

Miss Blackstone Clarence Stroud was featured in the Nine Fifteen Revue and is known by radio fans as the feminine Will Rogers. Another favorite is Kay Corbett, in dance originalities. The band is rounded out with La Mae and Louise in new versions of the tango and waltz.

Music for dancing at Shore Gardens is provided by Joe Solomon's augmented Cocoanut Grove Orchestra and the interludes are filled by the Hawaiian String Ensemble. There are two floor shows every evening during the week, at 7:30 and 11:30.

Three More Dead in Western Hot Wave

Los Angeles, July 27 (AP)—Extreme heat in the southwestern corner of the United States was blamed today for three more deaths and several prostrations. In many places the mercury rose well over 110.

Real Estate

Houses for Sale

RANDOLPH
In the Blue Hill Range
Only $500 buys new 4 room single with garage. Every modern improvement. Yates Heights just over Quincy-Milton line on Route No. 28. Open daily and Sunday. Yates, 1078 No. Main St., Randolph 0613-J.

RANDOLPH, $4,500
6-room new cottage house with sunroom, Oak floors, modern plumbing, electricity, large unfinished attic, hot water heat. Full view of the Blue Hills from the front piazza, high elevation, healthy, sunny. E. King, No. 4 Main St., cor Waldo, Randolph.

JUST 30 MINUTES OUT
IN RANDOLPH
SINGLE HOMES FROM $1,500 UP
Farms and acreage for sale on very easy terms of payments.
O. E. REYNOLDS
544 No. Main St., Randolph 0032.

SOUTH BOSTON
3-family, 3-4-4 rooms, sturdy, durable building, large yard, opportunity for garage, new oil burners, desirable residential neighborhood. Handy to places of interest, shopping, bus line, transportation. Price $2500, cash $500. Terms reasonable. A. KUPPITS, 332 W. Broadway, So. Boston, Mass.

MUST BE SOLD TO SETTLE ESTATE
East Walpole, Mass., 3½-acre farm, 2-family house, barn, poultry house, beautifully surrounded by shade trees. Administrator's sale price $4500, reduced to $3700.
A. J. KUPPITS,
332 W. Broadway, South Boston, Mass.

7 ROOM SINGLE, $4700
Modern home, newly painted, 7 rooms, bath, hot water heat, pleasantly situated; $2000 first land; price only $4700. Small cash payment, balance bank mortgage. For appointment call Braintree 1875 or Liberty 9280.

MELROSE
Single-family frame house, 1-car garage, 6 rooms, bath, steam heat, 4054 sq. ft. land; always well built house in good condition, in good neighborhood, handy to cars, etc. Price $6000; $800 cash. Call Liberty 9280.

ROSLINDALE
Near playgrounds. Will exchange 4 family, 6 rooms each, for building lot as part payment. Price $13,000. Easy terms. Owner, Parkway 0466-R.

Good Investment JAMAICA PLAIN
Brand new 3 family, 5-6-6 rooms, tile bath, steam heat, rents $168 month. Will consider vacant land exchange. 1000 Call Jamaica Plain 0.

JAMAICA PLAIN OWNER
Will exchange 2 family, 4-5-5 rooms, large lot, for building lot or automobile as part payment. Parkway 0466-R.

SHARON CAMP LOTS, 30% DOWN
$5 weekly. Money back guarantee with each purchase; no interest or taxes. Philip Alger Co., Room 320, 40 Kingston St., Boston, or 136 South Main St., Sharon.

WEST ROXBURY
8 Alaric St. Give offer. Modern 7-room single, all improvements, 1st floor convenient. Owner, Parkway 3968-W.

MALDEN SACRIFICE
2-family house, all modern improvements, 5-5 rooms, 3 garages, nice location. Owner, Malden 3100-M.

BUNGALOW $3500
6 rooms, new, all modern, hot water heat, modern; small down payment. Everett 3399.

CHARLESTOWN—Good location, 2-family frame, 13 rooms; income $58 month; heating system piped for gas; 2 baths, etc. $6000; easy terms. F. B. Lane, Owner, 100 Warren St., Roxbury, High. 6800.

MEDFORD—3-family house, 5-5-5 rooms, 2 years old, 2-car garage, income $93; best section; owner moving; $800 cash will buy it. Mystic 4569-M.

ROXBURY—2-family house for sale. No brokers. All improvements. Highlands 4787.

Lots for Sale

RIO VISTA ON THE CONCORD
Only 20 miles out over Route 4 from Bedford; high and dry; fine residence or farm lots, $2.50 monthly; outdoor paradise. Rio Vista Co., 40 Court St., Attn. 6371.

Farms and Land for Sale

EQUIPPED FARMS, business chances; 40 years' experience. Established 1891. Fred South Bldg., Boston, Mass.; Lib. 7135.

Summer Camps or Cottages

PINEHURST—For rent, 6-room furnished cottage, screened porches, Duxbury, Charlestown 1823-R.

WINTHROP BEACH—4-5 rooms, furnished apartments reduced; large piazzas. 33 Pearl Ave.

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, Plum Island; $200 down or exchange. Maid-to 2019.

Houses for Rent

SINGLE, brick, Kneeland, 6 rooms, bath, maid's on first floor, garage, privacy, Park section, for lease for 2 years, $150 month. MacCURDY, Belmont 3131; P. O. Box 14, Belmont.

Rooms without Board

BROOKLINE—At Ivy St., Route 3, airy, large front room. Regent 5833-W.

HOTEL ALPHIN Convenient to everything; rooms, with or without bath; daily $1.50 up; weekly, $7 up. 321 Tremont St., Mass. 1466.

HOTEL JEFFERSON, 211 Tremont St, Rooms, $1.50 up, weekly $7 up. Dev. 8053.

SOUTH END—Newly furnished rooms, housekeeping rooms. 9 Cortes St. Devonshire 7615.

LARGE, airy room, private family; quiet residential street; near cars. Myrtle 4192.

37 W. Newton St.; $5, $6, $7, $8 week. Private baths. Tourists accommodated. 24.

Rooms with Board

DORCHESTER—Private hospital offers graduate nursing care of chronic and convalescent patients; reasonable rates. Dorchester 8810.

IRVAZADS, elderly people, paralysed and bed patients; graduate nurse's home. Waltham 0245-P.

Offices—Stores

DORCHESTER store for rent, suitable for any business, rent reasonable. Ben. 2477.

Funeral Directors

J. S. WATERMAN & SONS
1835
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Local and Suburban Service

F. J. Crosby
Funeral Service
10-12 Warren St.—Highlands 0900
867 Beacon St.—Kenmore 1080
Building Service Includes Every Purse
The Best Costs No More

Musical Instruments

SEVERAL RECONDITIONED PLAYERS AT SPECIAL CASH PRICES, $75 TO $150. CAN BE PURCHASED ON TERMS IF DESIRED. 25 ROLLS INCLUDED AND BENCH; WORTH DOUBLE OUR PRICE. WARRANTED UP. RIGHTS AS LOW AS $40. ALL SOLD ON OUR 3-YEAR EXCHANGE AND NO INTEREST PLAN. BLAKE'S, 374 WASHINGTON ST.

100 PIANOS $28 up, $5 monthly. Brooks, 319 Summer St., over Masion's.

Unfurnished Apartments

NEAR BEACH $35
5 rooms, newly refinished. Handy to car lines, schools and stores. Good locality. President 7055.

Let Us Make You Comfortable
WE CALL for you any time or place, show you clean rooms, lodging houses, apartments furnished and unfurnished. For quick comfort and low rates call MARSHALL SERVICE BUREAU, Circle 9155, 79 St. Botolph St. Near Washington St.

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED
3 to 7 rooms $30 up, best locations, Riverway, Brookline, Allston, Office, 873 Huntington Ave. Ken. 1940.

725-728 COMMONWEALTH
Newly renovated, attractive suites, furnished, unfurnished, refrigeration free; reasonable; janitor. Asp. 7295 or Com. 9050.

1150 COMMONWEALTH AVE.
1-2 rooms, refrigeration, janitor. Reg. 6635.

ALLSTON—4 rooms, $30; 5 rooms, Commonwealth Ave., newly renovated, refrigeration, $70. Avenue Realty, 1295 Commonwealth. Bra. 0600.

BEACHMONT—4 rooms, steam heated, imps., near cars, $33. Rev. 2420-M.

BOSTON—Kenmore district, corner, basement, kitchenette, side room. Ken. 8712.

BROOKLINE—Attractive suites, suitable for business people, light housekeeping facilities, 384 Washington St. Reg. 2961.

CAMBRIDGE—Below Harvard Sq.; modern, sunny 3 rooms, hardwood floors, porch, responsible. 37 Kirby St.; Porter 3117-W.

CAMBRIDGE—6 rooms, heated, $45. 1905 Mass. Ave., Porter 8077. Aspinwall 8602.

CAMBRIDGE—3 Allston Court, 4 rooms, 6d floor, improvements, unfurnished, $6 week.

CAMBRIDGE—3 rooms, modern imps., yard, $30. 16 Oakland St. Univ. 6323-R.

CAMBRIDGE, 92 Lee St.—6 rooms, all modern, porcelain, reasonable. Unt. 2138-W.

CHARLESTOWN—3 rooms, bath; completely renovated, $18. 24 Lincoln St.; Myrtle 0790.

DORCHESTER—Fields Corner; modern 5-rooms, back, front porches, $38. Geneva 5268.

DORCHESTER—3-4 rooms, imps., $21-$23-$25. 1 block from Fields Corner, location, in good neighborhood, handy to cars, etc. Price $4000; $800 cash. Call Liberty 9280.

DORCHESTER—5 rooms, heated, $45. 1905 Mass. Ave., Porter 8077. Aspinwall 8602.

DORCHESTER—65 Burt St., modern 6 rooms; rapid transit, $43. Geneva 5035.

DORCHESTER—Neat, modern, all imps., steam heat, 2d floor, Col. 7226.

JAMAICA PLAIN—5 rooms, near Arnold Arboretum school, $20-$25. 2222 Washington St., Jam. Plain 0.

ORIENT HEIGHTS—Attractive modern 3-4 room suites, reasonable, new building, high location, 1003 Bennington St., East Boston.

QUINCY—2 rooms, bath, $25; 5 rooms, bath, $33, 5 minutes' walk to Quincy Sq. Granite 1607-R.

ROXBURY—5 rooms, electric lights, combination range, hot and cold water, near Dudley St., rent $20. Dud. 0.

ROXBURY—2 weeks free, 6-8 rooms, modern, $32-$36. Kenmore 8[illegible]. High. 9456.

ROXBURY—3 4-room suites, $20 to $24. See Mrs. Dixon, 10 Rand St.

ROXBURY—5-6-7 rooms, modern, heated 2-3 rooms, janitor service. Hay. 2238.

SOMERVILLE—Modern 4 rooms, heated, adults, $35. 18 Bromfield St. Som. 1022-J.

SOMERVILLE—2-4-room suites, all improvements, $27-$28. 347 Broadway, Dav. 0.

SOUTH END—Sunny corner, 7 rooms, heated, $50. Bublet rooms. Lafayette 1425.

SOUTH END—2 rooms, private entrance, gas range, $18 month. Apply 33 E. Dedham St.

WATERTOWN—Lower attractive 5 rooms, garage, rent $37. 7 Summerfield Ave. Mid. 1036-W.

WATERTOWN—5 rooms, imps., duplex house, $18, handy Watertown Sq. Mid. 4562-M.

Rooms for Housekeeping

BOSTON—Small housekeeping room, $2.75; hot-cold water. 83 E. Brookline St.

BRIGHTON—2 neat furnished rooms, good location, near cars, reasonable. Regent 2157-R.

CAMBRIDGE—Desirable housekeeping rooms, gas, electricity, running water, excellent location, near Harvard Sq. and Cambridge Y. Univ. 1124-J.

CAMBRIDGE—Near Harvard Sq.—Kitchenette suite, private bath; single and double housekeeping rooms. 24 Arrow St.; Univ. 9126; Porter 1889.

CAMBRIDGE—3 rooms and kitchenette, everything furnished, $9. Univer. 1124-J.

MATTAPAN—Nicely furnished room with kitchen privileges, convenient bus, water. Milton 6896.

NANTASKET WATERFRONT — 3-3 rooms, private baths, 34 Regent St.; High. 2677.

WINTHROP BEACH—4-5 rooms, furnished apartments reduced; large piazzas. 33 Pearl Ave.

FOR SALE—5-room cottage, Plum Island; $200 down or exchange. Maid-to 2019.

Rooms with Board

DORCHESTER—Private hospital offers graduate nursing care of chronic and convalescent patients; reasonable rates. Dorchester 8810.

IRVAZADS, elderly people, paralysed and bed patients; graduate nurse's home. Waltham 0245-P.

Beauty Aids

PERMANENT WAVE $2
With or without finglet ends, 5 latest machines. Used by skilled operators. Open all day Saturdays.
HELENE
458 Washington St., Rm. 3109. Dev. 8080

FREDERICS

Finishes	And Other Methods	Per Price
$10	Permanent Wave With or Without Finglet Ends	$5.00
$15	Permanent Wave Form 614 Dev. 6307	$7.50

$5 COMPLETE MANICURE
Beautiful and lasting, guaranteed $5 shampoo, marcel or finger wave, $50 Winter St., Rm. 3005. Hub. 3446

HAIR to ladies' taste permanently removed by the Rule of Nature; no stain; reference. MISS HOLLY DAWSON, 225 Tremont St., Rm. 503. Hub. 7634

$2 PERMANENT SPECIAL $2
SHAMPOO AND SET $1.00
Annette, 8 Winter St. Rm. 910. Dev. 7262

HAIR COLORING
INSTANTO $1.50 up
433 WASHINGTON ST. RM. 1109

SPECIAL PERMANENT WAVE 10c
Finger Wave and Shampoo, Plain Wave, 25c and Shampoo 50c. 1049 Washington St. Arc. 0191.

FREE MISS MARY ANN WARE, 3 DEWINGTON ST., COR. BROADWAY

VIOLET BEAUTY SHOP—Permanent waving is more brush; expert lushes; 8 nails; scalp, $1; one week only. Permanent wave $5; shampoo, 25c. 225 Tremont St. Rm. 503. Dev. 7634

Building Materials

OAK FLOOR 4½c FT.
To cover old floors, easily laid, prompt shipment anywhere. Fred Lumber Co., 28 Gibson St., Medford. Mystic 0489.

Automobiles

PRICES ARE LOW

Ford Fordor Sedan	$35
Ford Tudor Sedan (2)	50
Ford Pickup; good	40
Ford Dump Truck	75
Other time-saver for a farm
Ford Coupe	195
Ford Sport Roadster	225
Ford Touring	260
Ford Tudors	295
Ford Sport Coupe	295
Ford Stake Body Truck	375

1930 Ford Tudors $365
Your Choice of 3

Durant Coupe 1929	195
Chevrolet Coach; excellent	295

These cars are priced right down for a genuine clearance sale. Come in and get a bargain.

OPEN EVENINGS
Lalime & Partridge, Inc.
1255 Boylston St., Boston
Tel. KEN more. 1760

$AVE in NATICK
Come out in the country where our overhead is low and get a good trade. $600 to $900
'26 Buick 5 Sedan
'26 Studebaker 5 Sedan
'26 Dodge 5 Sport Sedan
'26 Dodge 5 Standard Sedan
$450—$500
'26 Studebaker Dictator Sedan
'29 Buick Master Sedan
'29 Buick 5 Sedan
'29 Dodge Victoria
'29 Dodge Coach
'29 Dodge Coupe
'31-'30-'29-'28 Fords, Chevs.—All Types
EASY TERMS
Halperin Motor Corporation
Dodge Dealers
30 South Ave., Natick 1130

SPECIAL OFFER
$10 Down—20 Months to Pay
1929 FORD COUPE $300
1928 FORD TUDOR $225
1928 CHEVROLET COUPE $215
1929 CHEVROLET ½-TON TRUCK (furniture body) $350
$30 DOWN CHEVROLET ½-TON TRUCK (stake body) $400
All cars completely reconditioned and in perfect condition throughout; good tires.
WASHINGTON ST. GARAGE
216 Washington St., Quincy.
Granite 8459

RIDLON SALES CO.
'29 Ford A Panel 1½ Ton $345
'29 Ford A Coupe $295
'27 Reo T-Ton Dump $195
'29 Ford AA 1½ Ton Chassis and Cab $295
Reconditioned and repainted.
'29 Ford A Pickup $215
'29 Ford Coupe $310
Overhauled and painted.
130 NORTH BEACON ST.
Open Eves. BRIGHTON Sta. 2000

SAVINGS $50 TO $800
DODGE TRUCK SALE
GIGANTIC LIQUIDATION NOW GOING ON 35 TRUCKS
Weekly, Monthly Terms
69 North Beacon Street, Brighton
At the Stadium in the trees.

'30 FORD TOWN SEDAN $435
'30 FORD ROADSTER $340
C.W. MULDOON Inc Ford
MATTAPAN SQ. MILTON 2559

Ford
Series, $175
1930 Dodge Sedan, excellent condition, $485. 1929 Ford A Sedan, $295.
DOLGETS MOTORS OF BOSTON, Inc.
91-97 Mass. Ave., Boston, COM. 2300

'28 Willys-Knight 8 Sedan $475
Model 66, 4 door, paint and upholstery extra clean, 5 nearly new oversize tires. Motor, transmission and rear axle in wonderful condition. Try out this car. Thomas C. Harter-Pierini, 371 Commonwealth Ave.; Stadium 7640.

"NO CASH DOWN"
Your car and $3 to $5 per week buys a late model car complete with silver overhaul. Easy terms. SOUTH Boston 1193.

CASH FOR YOUR CAR
$10 COMM. AVE.
ASP 1[illegible] 6670

FORD 1929 SPORT COUPE, $270
Easy terms. Mr. B. S. Converse, 1919 Com. Ave. NTA. 3400 EM 9 P. M.

Beds. Mahogany, full size, twin beds and springs. H. C. A. Motors, 128 Main St., Malden.

1926 CHEVROLET Coaches, $175 to $225. Terms. 1927 Oakland Coach, $275. 1929 Main St., Charlestown Sq. Cha. 0[illegible].

'29 REO FLYING CLOUD De Luxe Sport Sedan, $475. Other bargains in easy terms. Tom Taylor, Kenmore 1605.

'29 CHEVROLET COUP., CASH, $215. Practically new, good rubber. Call at 1[illegible] Newton 4192, Before 2 p. m.

'28 DODGE Sedan, $195. Other late model bargains, $2.49. Fields, 1030 Commonwealth Ave., Brighton.

WE PAY MORE FOR CARS
Finance Co., 128 Brighton Ave., Allston 3115.

CASH for your car. Call Lamb's Broadway, Somerville.

GOOD used cars, 200 down. Call Walker Indian Co., 1209 Boylston St., Boston.

20 PONTIAC Sedan, $685. Buy Motor Co., 1209 Commonwealth Ave.

Automobile Schools

UPTOWN AUTO SCHOOL
$10 Lessons $5 Lessons $5
315 Huntington Ave. KEN more 2446

UNION AUTO SCHOOL $5
302 TREMONT ST. CIRCLE 0600
LEARN DRIVING FREE PRODUCE PERMIT

$10 We guarantee to teach you until you get a license. 3 lessons, $5. 439 Tremont St., Boston. Hub. 4799.

PRIVATE auto lessons; experienced instructors; guaranteed; reasonable. Dorchester Newton 0700.

VACATION CARS!
at new low prices
'27 Chevrolet Coach $145
Cleveland Sport Coach 29
Buick Touring 35
'26 Buick Coach 395
Standard Model Like New
'27 Buick Sedan, like new 335
'26 Hudson Sedan, 6 wheels 45
'27 Hudson Coach 60
'27 Pontiac Coach 115
Like New, 1 Brand New Tire
'26 Buick Brougham 185
'28 Series Essex 4-Dr. Sedan 125
Chrysler 4-Dr. Sedan 125
'27 Whippet Coupe, 6 cyl. 115
'27 Nash 4-Pass. Coupe 125
Renault Torpedo Roadster 115
Chrysler 70 Roadster 165
'28 Essex Coach, 2nd Series 175
'26 Ford Coupe, new tires 45
'27 Locomobile Sedan 175
Hudson Coach 25
'27 Buick Sport Conv. Coupe 345
Like new.
CASH—TERMS—TRADE
TERMS TO SUIT EVERY BUYER
Central Auto Sales, Inc.
94 MASS. AVE., CAMBRIDGE
Porter 4333 Always Open
Opp. Technology—Beside Armory

BUY A CAR FOR BALANCE DUE
'31 Chevrolet Coach, low mileage $[illegible]
'30 Chevrolet Phaeton ..... [illegible]
Auburn Sedan, 7-Pass. ..... [illegible]
'27 Buick Sedan, like new ..... [illegible]
Velie Sedan, wheels in tire carrier, like new 125.00
'27 Chevrolet Sedan 75.00
'29 Essex Coupe, like new ..... [illegible]
'28 Dodge Sedan, new tires ..... [illegible]
'27 Buick Roadster, like new 197.00
Renault Coupe, like new 195.00
Oldsmobile Coach 69.50
Ben Hudson, very clean 95.50
'29 Chevrolet Roadster 197.50
Hudson Coach, late series 39.00
Studebaker Touring 85.50
Willys-Knight Sedan 79.50
Whippet Coach, late series 69.50
Buick Sedan, runs good 85.00
SEE US ANYTIME
OPEN AIR SALES
986 BROAD ST., LYNN
Opposite Whittredge Garages

GIANT RUMMAGE SALE
FEW TYPICAL VALUES

New Poster Beds, Mahogany veneer on gumwood	9.85
Cogswell Chair, Tapestry back and seat	3.95
Windsor Chairs, Special!	1.25

Take So Bus at South Station
Marked Army Base
Summerfield's
USED FURNITURE STORE
SECTION D, AT U. S. ARMY BASE

Automobile Trucks

'30 Chevrolet 1½ Ton Rack Truck
All condition, completely refinished, new tires; priced right. Small down payment. Duggan, 131 Hancock St., Atlantic. Prescott 1160.

Automobile Insurance

$5 Down—Auto Insurance 6 MENTS
J. R. Compton, 170 Mass. Ave., Boston. Aspinwall 0135.
SMALL SUM DOWN, balance in 4 payments Rates are lower now. F. L. George Co., Inc., 10 Milk St. Hancock 1720.

Money to Loan

New In Boston SAVE ON LOANS
Above $100 up to $300
The Nationalle Famous Household Plan offers cash loans of $50 to $300 to Salaried People on Their Own Signature. Loans above $100 and up to $300 are offered at less than one-half rate permitted by law. Strictly confidential. No inquiries of friends, relatives or employer. No endorsers. Only husbands and wives need apply.
HOUSEHOLD
Finance Corporation of Massachusetts, License No. 323
110 TREMONT ST.
4th Floor, Studio Bldg., Boston
Tel. LIBERTY 6715
Loans Made in Nearby Towns.

MONEY
WHEN YOU NEED IT
$10 to $300
IN 24 HOURS OR LESS!
Only signature of Husband and Wife Required!
You get FULL AMOUNT of your loan in CASH! No advance reductions! Convenient Monthly Repayments!
INDUSTRIAL BANKERS, Inc.
8 Convenient Offices in Boston
73 TREMONT ST., 2nd Floor
Room 205, Tremont Bldg.
Phone: Haymarket 2035. License 23
44 BROMFIELD ST., 2nd Floor
Room 201, Publicity Bldg.
Phone: Liberty 0979. License 704

DO YOU NEED MONEY?
For your summer vacation
For clothes or to pay old bills
Let us help you pay them
Personal loans to suit your income, Courteous and confidential service.
NEW ENGLAND EQUITY CORP.
License 37
453 Washington St.
Room 403—Liberty 1731

Professional Services

NOSES RESHAPED AND EARS SET At Boys—No Pain No Risk—Results Guaranteed
NEW-STYLE FACE LIFT
A. STANLEY GIBSON, M. D.
184 Boylston St., Lib. 4183. Estab. 25 Yrs.

Detective Agencies

SCOTT DETECTIVE SERVICE, 333 Washington St., Boston. Hub. 3470. Legal, Godsey and builders, Hub. 0522.

Furniture

BUY AT LESS THAN HALF FORMER PRICES
BIG SAVINGS can be made this week on HIGH QUALITY suites for Bedroom, Living Room and Dining Room. Our prices are way below HALF the original prices and LESS THAN ELSEWHERE IN BOSTON.
NEW Discontinued Sample
4-Pc. BEDROOM
$37.50 Cash or Terms
WALNUT finished BED, DRESSER, FULL VANITY and CHEST
CUT VELOUR 3-PC. LIVING ROOM SUITE, Loose spring-filled cushions. A rare $24.50 bargain
KITCHEN RANGE, popular size $17.50
DOUBLE DA-BED, complete with mattress $4.95
SOFA PILLOWS, ODD LOT. Values up to $3 ..... 50c
ODD LOT OF DRESSERS $4.50
CHEST OF DRAWERS $4.50
MATTRESSES, 4/6 and 3/3 ..... $2.45
Also $2.95
SMOKING CABINETS $2.95
BED SPRINGS, new, all sizes $2.95
CASH OR TERMS
PRIME'S
342 WESTERN AVE. BRIGHTON
Mail Easily Reached from Central Square, Lynn, Bridge, Take "HARVEY STREET—WATERTOWN" car, get off at 342 Western Ave., or by Automobile from Commonwealth Ave., go out Market St. to Everett St. Follow Everett St., to Western Ave., BRIGHTON. Drive in at No. 342.

Lost and Found

FOUND BY POLICE
Brown leather brief case, hackney driver's license, horses and auto permit, monogram' sapphire, 2 keys in leather case. Inquire 1[illegible] Washington St.

DIAMOND ring, lost Thursday, vicinity of Grove st., Beacon Hill. Richmond 1240 or Lib. 7[illegible]. Liberal reward.

LOST—July 18, dark brindle Boston terrier, 15 years old, answers to name of puppy; screw tail, white chest, white blaze between eyes; "Rags" his name. Return to 9 Wyoming Ave.; reward dead or alive. Melrose 1[illegible].

LOST — Fraternity pin and guard in Brunswick, Mon., Tuesday evening. A reward if returned to Mr. Beck, 615 Washington St.

LOST Your Dog? Phone Animal Rescue League, 51 Carver St., Hancock 9176.

Dermatology

FACE AND FEATURE EXPERT
Dr. Reiz's Scientific Face Lift makes your skin fit your face. All Facial Irregularities, Wrinkles, Sagging, Flabby or Double Chin, Sunken Eyes, Deep Lines, Crow Nests, Superfluous Hair, Moles and all blemishes removed. Ears Set Back. Consultation Free. Rio, 1289.

E. P. REID, M. D. 100 Boylston St. Established Over 25 Years

Medical

FREE, X-RAY
Examination, consultation and trial treatment absolutely free to all who call before April 1st. Our new Electro-Chemical treatment are accomplishing wonders in disease of every description, no matter what your disease may be. Dentist J. Walsh, M. D., Physician in Charge. Hours: Daily and Evening Office hours: Mon., Wed., Thurs., and Sat., 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Tues., 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Closed Sundays and holidays.

VARICOSE VEINS
CONSULTATION FREE
Treated by the latest methods
Dr. Lewis Building, Lynn
W. MULCAHY, M. D.
Hours: 9 to 8
33 Boylston Street

Piles, Fistula and other rectal troubles
SEND FOR FREE BOOKLET "A"
DOYER ST. RECTAL CLINIC
16 Dover St., Boston. Hancock 1[illegible]

Sewing Machines

DE ORIO Singer sewing machines, rented, repairing, $[illegible]. Second St., Everett; inf. Everett 2[illegible].

Dentistry

GOOD RELIABLE DENTISTRY
At prices within the reach of every working man and woman. Teeth extracted free when plates and bridges are ordered

A Good Durable Set of Teeth for $12

Our $30 Featherweight Set with Gold Plate Now $20

We will save you 50% on your dental bills
Use our DEFERRED PAYMENT PLAN
Have your Dentistry done now and pay in 10 MONTHLY PAYMENTS
BROKEN PLATES REPAIRED IN 3 HOURS
The SUMMER STREET DENTISTS
48 SUMMER ST., BOSTON
Corner Arch St. Chappell Dental Co., Prop. Phone Han. 9758

UNITED DENTAL CLINIC INC.

NEW! UNBREAKABLE, BEAUTIFUL LIFELIKE SETS OF TEETH, OUR CLINICAL PRICES NOW $8.00
PINK RUBBER WITH GOLD PLATED PIN-CLASPS $8
REPAIR OF BROKEN PLATES IN 3 HOURS $1.00
Gold Dust Rubber with Gold Pin Teeth. Regular $25.00. ..... $12.50
Only PAINLESS EXTRACTIONS $1.00

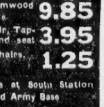
Additional Special Offer $25
Genuine German Hercolite Plates with Gold Pin Teeth. Makers of Crown and Bridge Work.
Regular $40 to $50 value, only .....

25 OVER 15 YEARS' EXCLUSIVE PLATE MAKING EXPERIENCE '31
It cannot be denied that like everything else that tends to form the human engine, a healthy mouth is an important factor. Nothing keeps one more quickly than a toothless mouth. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
170 TREMONT ST., Cor. Mason St. CLINIC HOURS: 8:30 A.M. to 6 P.M.
ON OR ABOUT AUGUST 15, WILL BE LOCATED AT 152 TREMONT ST.

AVERY DENTAL PARLORS $7.00 PER SET
DR. W. E. BURNS, Mgr.
578 Washington St., Cor. Hayward Place

DENTISTRY AT PRICES THE WORKINGMAN CAN PAY
OUR SPECIAL PRICES
Good Set $7
Featherweight Set .. $10
Gold Dust Rubber Set $15
GOLD CROWNS $5
BRIDGEWORK, per tooth .. $5
EXTRACTION ..... $1.00 CLEANING $1.00
Examination FREE. Kilinales FREE. All work FULLY GUARANTEED.
SPECIAL — HECOLITE PLATES $40 TO $50 VALUE. ONLY $25.00
Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. OPEN EVENINGS Phone Han. 9810

Special Notices



Roaches, rats, bed bugs, rodents and vermin won't leave your house of their own accord. Let—
SAFTI-FUME
The only exterminator not harmful to the human body.
Destroy them
QUICKLY, ECONOMICALLY, SAFELY.
Guaranteed to work wonders on roaches, bedbugs, rats, mice, water bugs, cockroaches, ants, carpet beetles.
Not harmful to children, pets or household furnishings.
SAFETY FUMIGANT CO.
29 INDIA ST., Boston, Mass. Tel. RICHMOND 9674 or 9675

Special Notices

Saft-Fume Destroys Moths, Germs
Roaches, Bedbugs, Rats
FOR SALE or service furnished. SAFETY FUMIGANT CO., 29 India St. Rich. 9674.

Fixtures

PUT 6 BOOTHS IN THE SPACE OF 5 WITH HASTINGS' PIVOTED LEG TABLE
Ideal for Breakfast Nook
The spindled leg does the trick! Table swings from left to right for easy entrance. Seats 4 comfortably. Set of table and 2 benches occupy but 5 sq. ft. floor space. Table when 5 are generally placed. Just the thing for Restaurants, Soda Fountains, Ice Cream Parlors, Drug Stores, etc. Write for space saving folder.
For information call or write to
A. W. HASTINGS & CO.
134 Friend St. Boston
Haymarket 2300

Dancing

$1 —2 LESSONS
LATEST STEPS!
ADULT BEGINNERS A SPECIALTY
MODEL SCHOOL MODERN DANCING
MISS FAWCETT—MISS AVITT
177 HUNTINGTON AVE.
TEL. COMMONWEALTH 9062

"MY REPUTATION is your PROF. RITTER 177 Huntington Ave. Tel. Kenmore 7330
BALLROOM Guaranteed in 4 LESSONS
TAP DANCING ALL STYLES TAUGHT BUCK & WING—SOFT SHOE—RHYTHM, ETC.
LERNER DANCE STUDIOS 335 Mass. Ave. Ken. 9385
Fox-Trot, Waltz, Prize, Stage, Open all summer.

Help Wanted—Female

FOUR young ladies, aged 21 to 24, wanted to learn the art of selling their own opportunity to learn circulation work; permanent position; chance for advancement; salary $100 a month, bonus and commission; apply 9 to 10 a. m. Room 1, 2nd floor, 1 Court Square, Boston, Mass. Victoria at (Copley Square).

WATKINS CO. have several good routes open for good salesmen. Apply 79 Sudbury St., Boston. Room 316.

Situations Wanted—Female

BOOKKEEPING wanted to do at home. Mystic 4192.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
Entered as second-class matter at the Postoffice at Boston, Mass., under the Act of March 3, 1879, also at the Postoffice at Worcester, Mass.
Published daily (except Sunday), Thursday Boston, Boston, 8, Mass., by NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING COMPANY.
Domestic rates (Subscriptions or Mail), Boston and Suburbs, Six Months $3.25, One Year $6. Foreign rates: One Month $1, Six Months $5, One Year $10. One cent extra per copy in the Boston Postal District. Subscriptions payable in advance.
The Boston Evening American assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs. Immediate notice must be given of any error which may occur.
MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Help Wanted—Female

EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY
Men with car . . . , prefer man having visited some of the nearby towns, to train sales crew for a low priced household necessity. Can be sold on sight. Satisfactory arrangement. Apply 9 to 10 a. m. Room 1, 2nd floor, 1 Court Square, Boston.

MAKE MONEY!
During the Summer
SELL no MOSKEET
Acme Supply Co. 40 Bromfield St., Allston
ST Allston 1391

YOUNG men and boys over 18 years to sell ice cream, Good pay. Sales Service, 11 Commerce St., Boston.

THE ONE and ONLY WATKINS CO. have several good routes open for good salesmen. Apply 79 Sudbury St., Boston. Room 316.

Situations Wanted—Female

BOOKKEEPING wanted to do at home. Mystic 4192.

Help Wanted—Male

MAKE MONEY!
During the Summer
SELL no MOSKEET
Acme Supply Co. 40 Bromfield St., Allston
ST Allston 1391

YOUNG men and boys over 18 years to sell ice cream. Good pay. Sales Service, 11 Commerce St., Boston.

THE ONE and ONLY WATKINS CO. have several good routes open for good salesmen. Apply 79 Sudbury St., Boston. Room 316.

Situations Wanted—Female

BOOKKEEPING wanted to do at home. Mystic 4192.

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON ~~EVENING~~ AMERICAN LARGEST NEW ENGLAND EVENING CIRCULATION

Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God . . . for God is love I. St. John, IV, 7-8.

The text for today is suggested by the Rev. Dr. Harold Marshall, Universalist minister of Boston. The next text will be suggested by Rev. Webster H. Powell, Methodist minister of Boston.

MONDAY, JULY 27, 1931

Sniping at East Boston

District Does Not Merit Criticism

A Boston morning newspaper says the people read with envy of the favors granted East Boston, no longer with a smile of contempt for Noddle's Island.

"They cannot quite understand it all," says that newspaper. "The population is not large. The assessed valuation is small. Politically it is not important, and nobody can deliver its vote . . ."

These shafts are directed against the construction of the East Boston Tunnel, the expansion of the magnificent airport and the proposed development of the strandway and Marine Park.

East Boston has a population of 80,000 people. It is ideally situated, especially for maritime and home development. If its valuation is relatively low, that is because East Boston was so long and palpably ignored by preceding city administrations and its people were paying heavy tax assessments to finance major projects for advantage of other sections of Boston.

These projects now advanced by Mayor Curley will help East Boston to expand and they will accommodate the convenience of the people of Boston as a whole. And for that reason they should go forward without any sniping at the people of East Boston.

You Are Invited

Twice a day, in the forenoon and afternoon, the city of Boston conducts calisthenics and other health-improving exercises at the L Street bath.

It is a stimulating sight to see some 500 men, ranging in age from sixteen to sixty and even seventy, in class formation doing the simple stunts calculated to improve circulation, strengthen their muscles and generally improve their physical condition.

The banker may find the artisan arrayed alongside him, and envy his muscular development. The newsboy and the famous lawyer become boon companions in their common search for health and strength.

It is a great institution, because it is a democratic one.

Men of Boston, there should be 5000 instead of 500 in these classes. There is no fee. There is no discrimination.

The Kline Appointment

Governor Ely was quite sensible in his decision not to be swayed by partisan politics in his reappointment of Dr. George M. Kline as Commissioner of Mental Diseases.

In Dr. Kline we have the foremost authority on the care of mental diseases in this country, if not in the world. He also possesses a quality that is somewhat rare to professional experts—he is an excellent administrator of the large sums which the people of Massachusetts expend annually for the care of their unfortunate citizens.

Not to have continued him in the public service would have been nothing short of a crime against the public.

"Witches" and Saints

Charles Sutherland Tapley, Boston insurance man and intelligent student of our primitive history, says in his recent book, "Rebecca Nourse," that the witches of Boston and Salem should be canonized as saints.

He reviews them as liberal theologists, who refused to believe that only orthodox Puritans could be "washed in the blood of the Lamb" and derive eternal salvation.

They were hanged for it. Today they might be railroaded into institutions for the insane or feeble-minded, a worse fate.

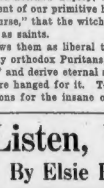
Listen, World!

By Elsie Robinson

Your First Duty Is You

"IS THE STRUGGLE of life worth while?" she writes.

Then follows a bitter recital of drudgery and sacrifice. More than half her salary sent to her mother and kid sister so they may live in ease. Do they know that she must often go without lunch in order to buy shoes for herself? Do they realize how desperately hard it is to keep up the premiums on the life insurance she has taken out for mother? No, indeed. She likes to be generous like that. The Boy Friend knew that when he borrowed money from her. He has never paid that money back. She is too proud to ask for it. And now wages are being cut—she is facing the loss of her position. She's frantic—and terribly sorry for herself.



Elsie Robinson

"What's the use of going on?" she cries. "I have tried so hard to be generous. I have made so many sacrifices, and this is the reward I get. Does it pay to be good? I'll say it doesn't! I'm thinking of ending it all in the bay so mama can have the insurance money. That's all my life is worth, now—"

Ever feel like that? Sure you have. That's the way most of us humans feel when we've made a mess of things by too much Nitwit Nobility. Down we sit, weeping big tears of self pity, thinking how good we have been and how badly life is treating us in return.

But are we really as good as we think we are? Were our sacrifices as praiseworthy?

Noble disappointment, noble self-denial, are not to be admired, not even to be pardoned if they bring bitterness," wrote Robert Louis Stevenson. "Gentleness and cheerfulness, these come before all morality—they are the perfect duties."

The world is filled with people who do good acts, then whine at the consequences—

People who want the thrill of being Big Hearted, and complain because God won't look after their interests while they're strutting their stuff—

But why should God attend to our interests when He has given us brains and backbone for that express purpose?

YOUR FIRST DUTY IS YOU. Your first job is to make yourself a healthy, reliable, sensible, friendly, useful individual. You have, of course, a large duty to others, but you can't possibly discharge that duty to others unless you do a good job on yourself. Serving other lives won't make up for the viciousness of neglecting your own.

If you're so generous to others that you make a bum of yourself, then generosity becomes an actual vice. Nor does such generosity help the other fellow. He is responsible for his life just as you are responsible for yours. If you deprive him of that responsibility, you cripple him—and turn him into a snarling weakling—

Sacrifice that makes you want to go jump in the bay is nothing more nor less than spineless self inlulgence.

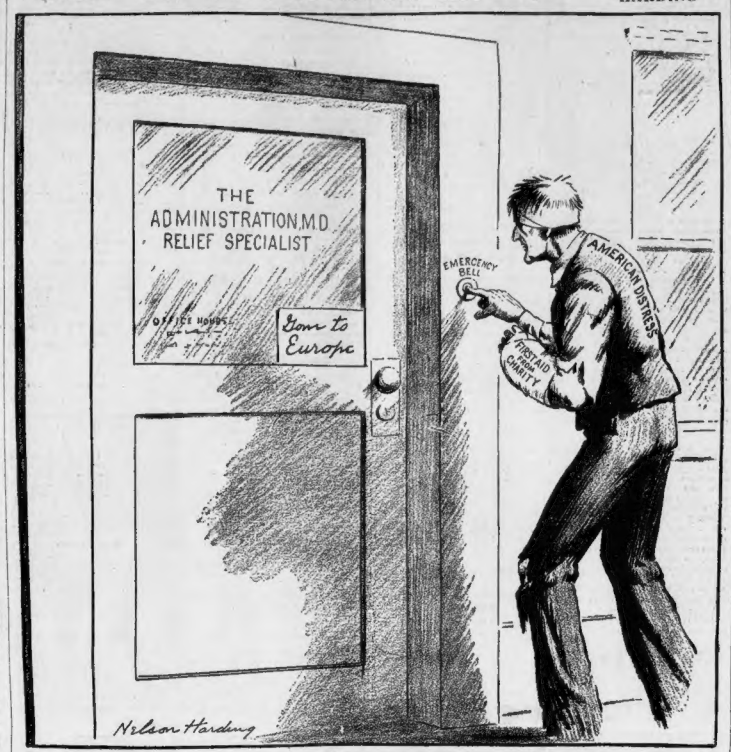
If you have to be bad to yourself in order to be good to others, there's something wrong with your brand of goodness.

GOODNESS WITHOUT GUMPTION IS A WET SMACK.

Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.

When Will the Doctor Be In?

-:- By NELSON HARDING



What Do You Know?

Fill each blank:

1. The Chancellor of Germany is ——.
2. Deem Taylor is an American ——.
3. The largest flying boat in the world is ——.
4. A Greek writer of fables is ——.
5. Absinthe is a liquor colored ——.
6. ——— said,
   "Her voice was ever soft,
   Gentle and low—an excellent thing in woman."
7. An Ibex is a wild ——.
8. The Uffizi is a palace in ——, Italy.
9. The Ural River is in ——.
10. "It is a wise father that knows his own child" comes from the play, ——.

Match correctly:

11. Jane Addams wrote stories about the farmer of the Middle West.
12. Dwight Davis a Senator from Kansas
13. Edward Eggleston Governor-General of the Philippines
14. James G. Blaine established Hull House in Chicago
15. Arthur Capper Republican leader

Answers to today's test:

1. Heinrich Bruening. 2. Composer. 3. DO-X, German. 4. Aesop. 5. Green. 6. Shakespeare. 7. Goat. 8. Florence. 9. Russia. 10. "The Merchant of Venice." 11. Established Hull House in Chicago. 12. Governor-General of the Philippines. 13. Wrote stories about farmers of the Midd'e West. 14. Republican leader. 15. A Senator from Kansas.

Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American

Silhouettes

SENATOR HAWES, of Missouri, in a speech at Manila, said: "It is good to be where I can put my foot on a brass rail without violating the law," which reminds us that what America needs is a little of the liberty and independence enjoyed by the Philippines.

* * *

GOV. RITCHIE dodgsets a few remarks urging the American people to get accustomed to the idea of readjusting the European war debts, and as readjusting could only mean readjusting downward, we suspect at the Marylander is getting ready to run for President in the campaign of 1988.

* * *

THE PRESIDENT plans a long week-end with the Rapidan trout, this being the most popular, perhaps, of all the well-known "Hoover plans."

In France -:- By O. O. McIntyre

Markets of Paris

PARIS—(By Mail)—In other days it was a part of a night out to drift to the Halles Centrales around 4 a. m. for a bowl of steaming onion soup. But in these more sedate years I had to be routed out by the hotel night concierge to join Willis Morgan on his daily visit to the market.

The great Central markets are reached along upper rue de Rivoli and have been the site of Paris' food supply for centuries. The markets are in huge warehouse-like halls. Its early morning vigour has a shrieking, roaring blatancy that is almost deafening.

Aswirl with blue bloused porters, the "forts des halles" (strong men of the markets), screaming viragos, early morning drunks and swearing truckmen it offers a slice of Parisian life that is the most stimulating in all the town. The tempo is as red corpuscled as the blood from the dripping beeves.

Here are the buxom, ruddy and laughing marchandes, the saleswomen, who seem to be in an eternal sally with customers. There is no sale without haggling. After the market closes come the pinch-faced, spindly legged children who search the refuse for food. Also elder chiffoniers with sticks.

They sort through the cast off fruits, vegetables and other oddments to refurbish and re-sell for the pot-au-feu of the Paris slums. Next in interest among the local marts, I think, if the Flea Market, so called because of its filth, and held twice weekly near one of the eastern gates.

From a casual glance the Flea Market seems to be a field with piles of abandoned junk and debris. It is mostly that, for one indeed may actually barter there for second hand tooth-brushes. Yet out of its jinkle-jumble treasure hunters have come upon rare and authenticated antiques—the loot of thieves.

Too, there is the Marche Tabac once a week at Place Maubert. Here the tatterdemalion gutter scavengers exchange, buy and sell collections of cigar and cigarette stubs.

* * *

Champs Elysees has become somewhat the Fleet street of Paris. Along its expansive and sweeping pathway are such publications as Le Figaro, L'Ami du Peuple, Le Petit Parisien, L'Excelsior, Femina, Chiffons, Je Sais Tout, Comedia, Le Rire, Fantasio, Cinemonde, La Nacion, Candide, Ric et Rac and The Boulevardier. Incidentally Paris has a total of 166 daily newspapers—mostly four-page sheets and often devoted to the fruits of political blackmail.

* * *

Ike Meltzer, the Brooklyn Bridge newsie, still rushes up and down the Paris boulevards crying his American papers. For eight years he has been a familiar figure among tourists in front of the Cafe de la Paix. Harry's Bar, Weber's and the Ritz Bar. His winters are spent around the Frank Gould casino at Nice, where he is also well known. Ike is married to an English girl and is the oldest American newsboy in point of service on the continent. He makes Paris a bit more friendly.

Paris has a drink automat. It is a bistro in rue Fontaine, where one may slip a coin in a slot and lap up a choice of five drinks. It is not popular. Parisians not only want to dawdle over drinks, they want beaucoup conversation along with them.

* * *

A hatless young blade bowled up to an American flapper along the curb in Place Vendome this morning and cried: "How about knocking over a few lamp posts before lunch?" She hopped in and they roared away.

* * *

The current hit tune of the cabarets is "La Petite Tonkinoise," popularized by the sepia Josephine Baker, of Harlem. I saw Miss Baker, her nails a brilliant red and hair en brosse, dining in one of the most fashionable restaurants in Paris with what looked like a monocled Egyptian.

* * *

Forwarded telegram from Brookline, Mass.: "Read June 3d column. Glad to be back in your good graces. —Peggy Hopkins Joyce."

The dang women won't let me alone even in Europe.

(Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American)

By Edgar A. Guest

Just Folks

Looking Forward

I find it rather good to live
In spite of doubts and fears
And all the blows the fates can give
And changes through the years.
For farther time I'm glad to plead,
I still have books I want to read.

I fancy as I go along
There will be pain to bear,
No doubt some newer form of wrong
Will catch me unaware,
But still some joys I've set aside,
I've hoped the future would provide.

I know the future cannot be
Much sweeter than the past;
That what of pleasure comes to me
Forever cannot last,
But still I'd like to live to see
A grandchild sitting on my knee.

I hope the Lord will let me stay
A little longer here.
The price in pain and care I'll pay
For every added year.
Life still has countless charms to give
For which I wait and want to live.

(Copyright, 1931, Edgar A. Guest.)

The Economic Crisis in Germany

By Bainbridge Colby

Returning from Europe, Mr. Kahn, of the great banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & Company, declined to express himself on the financial conditions in Germany.

"The subject is too vast and too serious," said he, "to be discussed lightly."

What are the facts? The question is not a German question. The possibility of financial catastrophe confronts all nations, WHETHER THEY ARE DEBTORS OR CREDITORS.

"THE PRESENT CRISIS," says Sir George Paish, in a most timely book, "IS UNIVERSALLY BELIEVED TO BE THE MOST SERIOUS THE WORLD HAS EVER EXPERIENCED, AND THE MOST DIFFICULT IT HAS EVER HAD TO ADJUST."

This statement proceeds from an expert whom the United States deemed worthy of consultation in connection with the drafting of the Federal Reserve act, and who in 1914, at the request of this country, was sent by the British Government to Washington to adjust the difficult and novel financial relations which had arisen from the war. He is one of the leading authorities on international finance.

The world economic situation, which seems to defy understanding and to baffle solution, is the outgrowth of the war. But that is not saying much. Few of our people have a clear realization or, in fact, any rational notion as to just how the distresses of the nations are an inevitable result of the war, or, to speak more exactly, of the conditions and policies which followed in its wake.

The fact that so many men lost their lives in the war might suggest that there is a shortage in the world of man-power, but that supposition is negatived by the extent of unemployment in the world, with millions out of work, who could truthfully be described as an unusable surplus of man-power.

Again, it might be thought that the prodigious rate at which the wealth of the nations was consumed during the war might explain the distress which grips the world. And yet, the fact is that there is no shortage of commodities or of natural produce. The reverse is the fact. There are vast stores of all that humankind requires—surplus stores—unsalable, rotting, deteriorating, and withheld from use or commerce.

No. The world's plight is not due to causes such as these. The crisis in Germany does not arise from [illegible] or goods.

Germany is but a single facet of the world situation—a single link, although an important one, in the chain of interrelated problems which bind the earth.

Once state Germany's problem and it is seen that it runs off, like the notes in a scale, in every direction, with inescapable difficulties and embarrassments to every other nation.

The primary aspect of German's position today is that she is the GREAT DEBTOR NATION OF THE WORLD.

The war had hardly ended when the Allied statesmen proceeded to draw up the bill for damages on the theory of Germany's sole responsibility for the war. It was a stupendous bill.

But no sooner did Germany, in her helplessness, address her energies to meeting it, than every nation took fright at the consequences to their own economic condition, should Germany succeed. It means that every nation in the world would be inundated with German goods.

Right here the position of the world became a critical one. The United States was not alone in throwing up the redoubts of a tariff of unprecedented height. England and the other nations of Europe followed suit.

The result was that Germany, needing an outlet for her goods if she was to live, began to reduce the prices of her wares in a vain effort to cope with the tariff barriers erected against her trade.

For a brief while Germany received some help from the willingness of other nations to supply her with credit, and with the avails of these credits the early reparations payments were made.

But credits have to be redeemed. Loans fall due. Germany, unable to repay her loans, found her credit curtailed. This in turn reduced her purchases from other countries.

Her troubles found their reflections in the similar and related difficulties of other nations.

France, receiving a large proportion of her reparations claims from Germany in goods, is not obliged to buy from other nations, to that extent, and thus contributes to the contraction of the international market.

England, a creditor of France and Italy, is adopting tariffs to prevent the sale of continental products in the British market.

France is unable to make her normal purchases from England because of the large remittances she is obliged to make in gold on account of her British obligations.

The United States, the largest purveyor of loans and credits to Germany, is at a double disadvantage. It cannot maintain or expand its credits to Germany in the face of the obvious inability of Germany to redeem them, and it is barred from expectation of the repayment or reduction of its loans, owing to its self-imposed inability to receive German goods in payment or reduction of advances already made.

At the same time, we are suffering a progressive curtailment of our trade, owing to the dislocation of credits and accompanying trade paralysis in countries other than Germany, but which are experiencing, like ourselves, the effects of the unsolved German problem.

The question is—have we the economic understanding necessary for the perception of the true nature of this complicated and far-reaching problem?

Desirable Is Fame

In the necrology of this month are "the original drummer boy at Shiloh," and a veteran who rushed to the aid of Custer. No one has risen to impugn their claims to glory.

Many wish to partake of that same glory. There is little enough fame to go round as it is. We have a vague recollection that the "original drummer boy" died some fifty times before. He is susceptible to mortal illness, and the disaster may happen a few times again before he dies for keeps.

How many claim to have been in the regiment rushed too late to help Custer has not been computed. Perhaps five thousand, or a regular army. Or as many as still claim to be the last Charley Ross.